

THE WORST OF THE FLOOD HAS NOW BEEN REACHED

Water Came to a Standstill This Afternoon and Will Recede During the Night.

THE LOSSES NOT AS LARGE AS IN JANUARY

The highest stage of water was reached here at 2 o'clock this afternoon and before midnight it will begin to fall. The crest of the flood at Pittsburg showed 29 feet on the gauge, which is three feet less than was reached in January. The rise was greatly checked by the cold weather. The decline of the flood will be rapid and before morning the water will be confined to the banks of the river.

Although the damage is considerable, it will not be near so great as in January. There has been considerable loss of time, owing to interruption of street car traffic and the pottery plants along the river will be put to some expense in cleaning away the mud and debris that will be deposited by the water.

During the night the river overflowed its banks at the west end of the Thompson pottery and from the city pumping station almost to the power house. The biscuit kiln sheds at the Thompson plant were flooded but little damage resulted as everything had been removed to another part of the plant. A great deal of the work was unnecessary as the water did not come up as high as was expected.

The other potteries affected had the same experience as at the Thompson plant, but in no case did the trouble equal that caused by the earlier flood. Men were on duty at the plants all night.

WATER TWO FEET DEEP IN THE POSTOFFICE

The Flood Situation at Elkton Village Decidedly An Unpleasant One.

Lisbon, March 4.—(Special.)—The middle fork of the Beaver reached a higher stage yesterday than has been known during the past year. No parwas no shortage of water throughout the city.

Cars on the East Liverpool line could not be operated today from the Second street switch to the power house. The tracks at several points between these places were covered to a depth of a foot or more. Through cars were run west from the Second street switch to Wellsville and east from the power house to the state line.

Captain Gus Martindill, of the wharf boat, stated this afternoon that the water came to a stand about 2 o'clock. Advice to him from Pittsburg rivermen were that the worst of the flood had been realized there, and that all the streams emptying into the Ohio would be falling before night. The high water did not cause half the damage to river interests that the January flood caused.

So confident are the rivermen that the flood limit has been reached that navigation has been resumed. The Ben Hur reached here this morning and continued on to Pittsburg. The boat passed the Virginia at Bellaire. The towboat, Raymond Horner, that helped save the Virginia from sinking when she struck a submerged pier at Steubenville, passed here this morning. The Greenland is due up this evening.

Residents of Jethro have not suffered greatly as a result of the flood. They were warned in ample time and took the necessary precautions to ward off great damage. A score or more of houses were partially inundated, but no property was lost, the people moving everything perishable to the second stories. The house of Mike Gorby was completely covered, but it is a new structure and can undergo the strain without damaging results.

ticular damage resulted. The damage of a few weeks ago was due to the large masses of floating ice.

At Elkton the water stood two feet deep in the postoffice yesterday.

Beal a Flood Sufferer.

William Beal, of California Hollow, lost a $500 barn in the flood, a large number of chickens and a quantity of meat.

LOSSES TO FARMERS WILL BE VERY HEAVY

Crops in the Fields and Grain in Barns Suffered—Narrow Escape of Man and Team.

The damage wrought by the flood in the interior of the county will amount to thousands of dollars. Farmers owning land on Long's Run and other creeks north of the city suffered greatly. In several instances only the prompt and united efforts of large parties saved large numbers of cattle and other stock. Crops in the lowlands will be a total loss, and in not a few cases grain, feed and provisions in barns and cellars were damaged.

Albert E. Waggle, who conducts a dairy on the Lisbon road north of the city, had a trying experience and one in which he nearly lost a valuable team of horses. George Orr, of Calcutta, a relative of Mr. Waggle, has been very ill for a long time and the latter has for several weeks spent a few nights each week sitting up with the sick man. Wednesday night Waggle made his customary trip to Calcutta, and undertook to return to his home early yesterday morning, but was prevented by the high water in Long's run was still coming down in torrents. Fearing the stream would go still higher and desiring to reach home in time to take care of his milk business he was more careless than he should have been. His determination to take long chances in order to reach home came near resulting in losing his own life, as well as that of his team. He searched along the stream for a suitable place to ford, and after traveling for miles and laying down fences without number and finding none, he plunged into the current intending to force the horses through.

No sooner had he struck the water than he regretted the action, for the horses were no match for the swift current, as they could do nothing but founder about. By coming in contact with a cattle guard in the stream Waggle was able to get the team out of the run, but it was on the same side from which he started.

The effort to ford the stream was abandoned and Waggle returned to Calcutta. The creek was wide over its banks all of yesterday and it was 4 o'clock this morning before Waggle ventured to cross again.

SENT A RENT BILL COVERING EIGHT YEARS

Manley's Band Asked to Pay $160 for Room Occupied in City Hall.

Acting under instructions of the township trustees, City Auditor Davidson this morning mailed a bill to Manley's band of $160 which, it is alleged, is due the trustees as rent for the room in the city building occupied by the band for the past eight years.

When the room was rented to the band it was agreed that $20 per year should be paid the trustees. According to the books of the trustees not one cent has been paid. It is probable that the bill would never have been entered had the band settled the light and gas bills over which there has been so much ado of late. It is the purpose of the trustees to collect the money or eject the band from its quarters.

SPRING ELECTION IS NOT EXCITING

Interest in Politics Locally Chiefly Confined to the Candidates.

WHO ARE IN THE RACE

The spring municipal primaries, for the first time probably in the history of the city, will be void of interest to everyone with the possible exception of the candidates themselves. The time limit for candidates to enter their names with the secretary of the local Republican central committee expires tomorrow evening, and there will be but one contest according to present indications.

When William Copestick resigned his position as constable, the unexpired term was filled by the appointment of T. O. Terrence. Mr. Terrence will be a candidate for the job at the coming primaries, and the announcement of W. Z. Davis is the only other aspirant. Mr. Davis made the canvass at the last election, being defeated by Mr. Copestick by only a few votes.

The other officers to be selected are:

Two justices of the peace, two township trustees, one councilman-at-large, one councilman, First ward; one councilman, Third ward.

Justice J. N. Rose, who has filled the position of justice of the peace with credit for so many years, will have no opposition, and Justice L. W. Carman, of the East End, will fill the other place on the party ticket.

J. H. Harris was appointed to fill a vacancy on the board of township trustees, and will be a candidate. There will be two to select, however, and M. Anderson will be a candidate for re-election. Both men have filled the position to the satisfaction of the people, and will probably have no opposition.

For councilman-at-large, H. E. Bullock has no opposition to the present, and as this is his second term under the new code, it is not likely any will develop.

From the wards Robert M. Newell, from the First, and H. E. Moon, of the Third, will go through without opposition.

One assessor from each of the four wards and a township assessor are also to be nominated at the primary on the 12th of this month. Not a single name for any of these positions has been presented to the city secretary. In case there are no candidates, it will be the duty of the city committee to fill the places on the ticket when the time comes. A meeting of the local committee is to be held early in the week, and with other matters in which the party is interested, it will probably be taken up.

The caucus meetings for the selection of county committeemen have all been arranged for, and with the exception of the East End precincts of the First ward and the third precinct of the Fourth, they will all be held at city hall. Heretofore little interest has been shown in these caucuses, and the present instances promise to be no exception. The East End precinct committeemen will probably get together at some convenient point in that vicinity, while the Republican voters of the lower precinct of the Fourth have arranged to meet at the Peake block.

The News Review is recognized as East Liverpool's leading newspaper as regards news service and advertising medium.

IRONDALE'S LOSS MANY THOUSANDS

Storm There Resembled a Cloud-burst and Buildings Were Swept Away.

THE TOWN HALL WRECKED

Postoffice Carried Across the Street and Other Buildings Badly Damaged—Narrow Escapes Are Many. Loss $30,000 to $40,000.

Irondale, March 4.—(Special.)—The flooded districts of Irondale were scenes of busy operations today. Large numbers of men were put to work early this morning to repair the damage caused by the awful rush of water. Though nearly the entire town suffered to some extent by the storm, the greatest damage was done to the business section, and it will be several days before normal conditions will be restored.

The flood struck Irondale shortly after 6 o'clock yesterday morning, following an electrical storm which caused a downpour of water unprecedented in this section. It was like a cloud-burst, coming in an instant and with the roar of a wild and ravaging river. Falling into the valley it was quickly carried on a path of destruction by Yellow creek, the banks of which were overflowed in less than 10 minutes.

Business men could see the terrifying deluge approaching, but were unable to protect their property and were compelled to flee to a point of safety and watch their homes and other real estate suffer the ravages of the heartless waters. There was no way of retarding the terrific onslaught. It dashed and jumped with unrelenting fierceness against everything within its wake and Irondale suffered the greatest loss in its history. A conservative estimate places the damage at from $30,000 to $40,000.

The postoffice was raised from its foundation and swept across the street, where it was only stopped by colliding with a barricade of trees and earth. A frame building, occupied by A. W. Noble as a jewelry store, and Dr. Ray's office, adjoining the postoffice, were also swept from their foundation. The town hall, containing the mayor's office, the council chamber and the office of Justice James Paisley were dashed into the creek. The Odd Fellows' building, not far away from the postoffice, in which Greenburg Bros. have a general store, was filled to a depth of four feet with water, causing much damage. The stores of John Poole and John Baxter were also partially filled with water, as were the stores of C. C. Steen, M. M. Roubush and the restaurant of J. W. Wood. A valuable horse belonging to Squire Paisley and one owned by John Watkins were washed into the raging waters and drowned. A mule, belonging to Adolph Pritschmann, was also drowned.

A number of sick people were in the wake of the flood and were removed from their homes with great difficulty. It is feared several of them may suffer bad results.

Telephone and mail service was completely cut off, and there were no trains east or west until late this afternoon. The track between here and Salineville was damaged greatly.

THE JAPS WORRIED ABOUT THEIR FLEET

One Cruising Near Port Arthur Has Not Been Sighted Since February 25.

London, March 4.—(Special.)—A dispatch from Port Arthur dated yesterday says that the Japanese fleet, which has been cruising near there, has not been sighted since February 25 and that Japanese officials are much exercised over its disappearance.

Freedom Will Be Here.

Manager Gallimore, of the local basket ball team, received word this afternoon from the Freedom team, stating that it would be here for the game this evening, even if it is compelled to walk.

Court Adjourned Until Monday.

Lisbon, March 4.—(Special.)—All of the jury cases for this week in court having been disposed of, the jury was excused yesterday until Monday at 1 o'clock and court adjourned last evening to that time.

THE RACE QUESTION IN THE HOUSE

Grover Cleveland Denies That a Negro Dined With Him While He Was President.

Washington, March 4.—In the house a letter from Grover Cleveland to Representative Webb, of North Carolina, denying that C. H. J. Taylor, a negro, had dined with him at the white house while he was president, as charged by Representative Scott, of Kansas, a few days ago. Mr. Scott promptly offered his apology to the former president, saying he never before had heard of the statement which he had made denied.

A discussion of the race question following during which Mr. Williams, the minority leader, criticised President Roosevelt for having invited Booker T. Washington to a seat at his table.

HARD LUCK TALES QUITE NUMEROUS

Township Trustees Expect Many Calls For Aid as Result of Flood.

THREECASES ATTENDED TO

The township trustees anticipate another rush in business before tomorrow evening as a result of the flood. While the majority of cases will likely come from the devastated Shantytown districts, it is expected that there will be a number from other lowlands this time and also in several central locations. In the East End lowlands there were many sufferers and over the city some misery and considerable loss was occasioned by the flooding of cellars. From any of these districts the trustees expect appeals for help at any time and are preparing for any emergency.

Three cases were given the attention of the trustees last evening and this morning. One of them was unusual, coming from a family that has money in a bank and owns real estate in the city. Thomas Stafford and his wife are both hardworking people. They determined some time ago to purchase a house and lot and with that end in view commenced to putting aside every week a small amount of money. After careful saving they had enough laid away to make the first payment on a desirable property and since that time have been paying for it through a building and loan association. Not long ago work became scarce and they found that it would be impossible to make the necessary payments and also have money enough to live on.

Unwilling to get back with their weekly installments on the property they concluded to apply to the trustees for food and did so last week. They did not tell the entire story and the trustees upon hearing that the family was destitute gave them an order for food. Later the true conditions were learned by the trustees and this morning when Mrs. Stafford applied for more food she was refused.

Charles Bishop is in hard luck. He lives on a shanty boat and besides being sick himself has a wife who is in a precarious condition. He applied for assistance and it was given him. He is suffering with a benumbing on his left leg, which has rendered him helpless and as his wife is unable to work, the trustees could do nothing but give them food.

Charles Berner applied for food, saying that he had been out of work and his family is in a starving condition. It was not the first time Charles had been before the trustees and his story was not given much credence and he was refused aid.

CREST WAS REACHED AT PITTSBURG TODAY

The Flood There Attained a Height of 29 Feet and One Inch.

Pittsburg, March 4.—(Special.)—At noon today Forecaster Ridgway issued the following bulletin: "The crest of the flood reached Pittsburg about 9 o'clock. I expect the waters to remain almost stationary for several hours, and after that the fall may be as rapid as the rise was. The flood was due entirely to the rainfall, as there was little snow in the mountains to affect the stage of water."

"At 9 o'clock this morning the flood had reached 29 feet, 1 inch at Herr's Island, at which time it remained stationary."

RAILROAD IS STRUGGLING WITH ADVERSE CONDITIONS

Flood Has Caused Serious Hold-Up of Trains and Delay of Express and Mail Matter.

THE TRAINS ARE NOW GETTING THROUGH

The Cleveland & Pittsburg railroad is still struggling with adverse conditions wrought by the flood. Up to a late hour today no mail from Pittsburg had reached this city since the early morning train of yesterday. Some eastern mail has arrived via Steubenville, but Pittsburg mail has not been dispatched that way, for some unknown reason. Local mails have been sent down the river for Pittsburg and the east.

A mail from the river division arrived about 7 p. m. last evening and another this morning. It was said arrangements would be made to transfer mails from Pittsburg and get them through, but these mails had not materialized at 2 p. m.

The river division noon train going east went through on time and carried a large batch of accumulated mail from East Liverpool and Wellsville. Mails were promised on the afternoon train down, which was to leave Pittsburg on time.

No daily papers from Pittsburg arrived yesterday or today. When the trains get fairly down to business again they will bring in a large accumulation of old papers, belated letters and delayed express matter.

Five bridges on the main line of the railroad, between Yellow Creek and Salineville are washed out.

A washout at Ogle's cut, east of New Salisbury, has made the main tracks of this road impassable. A line will have to be built around the washout. About 200 cars of slag will be required to fill the cut.

Bridge No. 126, near Malvern, on the Tuscarawas branch, has been washed out. It may be repaired for use by night. A deep washout at Zoar station has made the road useless there.

These conditions confronted the officers of the Cleveland & Pittsburg today. The five relief trains and hundreds of workmen have been working 48 hours repairing the damage, all caused by one rain.

These bridges are unsafe for the passage of trains. No. 52, east of Irondale; 44 and 49, west of Irondale; 39, east of Salineville, and 37 west of Salineville. It is announced that trains from the main line may reach Wellsville going east during this evening, but no promises are made.

The landslide at Cook's Ferry is causing all the trouble between Wellsville and Rochester. Trains east and west are meeting there, for transferring. The transfer work commenced this morning.

Trains were made up at Alliance and run to Salineville this afternoon, and passengers for the east and river divisions of the Cleveland & Pittsburg were taken to Alliance, where they were delivered to the Ft. Wayne road.

So far the high water in the Ohio river has caused the river division of the road no great inconvenience. The water had not at noon reached the lowest point of the road. This was regarded as an unexpected condition among the officers at the Wellsville office. Trains are being moved between East Liverpool and Bellaire on schedule time. This will prevail just as long as the water does not interfere with their movement.

WELLVILLE WIFE GRANTED DIVORCE

Her Husband Accused of Extreme Cruelty, Drunkenness and Neglect.

Lisbon, March 4.—(Special.)—Iva M. Haden, of Wellsville, was divorced from Thomas Haden in court last evening. They were married in East Liverpool August 29, 1895, and have one child, Vivian P., aged 5. The divorce was granted on the statutory ground of habitual drunkenness, extreme cruelty and gross neglect. The wife alleged that her husband had frequently beaten her, threatened to kill her and abused her with vile language.

The wife is given custody of the child and is to receive $200 alimony.

HUNDRED LIVES ARE REPORTED LOST

Great Damage Resulting From a Prairie Fire in Oklahoma.

Lawton, Oklahoma, March 4.—The most destructive prairie fire ever known in the southwest is raging in this vicinity. A hundred lives are reported lost, 75,000 acres of land have been burned over and thousands of people are homeless. The loss cannot now be estimated.

The prairie fire spread rapidly before a heavy wind storm and people are fleeing for their lives as it is impossible to confine or extinguish the fire.

Fine Job printing—News Review.

SAVED FROM DROWNING BY A HEROIC WOMAN

Family Were Asleep in a Sinking Shanty Boat When a Neighbor's Shouts Aroused Them.

Unconscious of the impending peril, Mrs. Emma Wilson and her two children calmly slept in their shanty boat, near the West End flint mill, last night while the water stealthily crept into their apartment. That they escaped a horrible death was due to the discovery of their plight by a neighbor woman, who awakened them in the nick of time.

Mrs. Wilson had been warned of the approaching flood, but did not think it would assume dangerous proportions and at her usual time retired for the night. The woman and her children were soon sleeping soundly and when the boat sprung a leak they were of course unaware of it. Mrs. Welch, who occupies a boat a few yards below that of Mrs. Wilson, happened to stroll up the railroad track at about 11 o'clock, when she perceived that Mrs. Wilson and her little ones were in imminent danger.

Their boat had already sunk nearly a foot and it was fast filling. Heroically Mrs. Welch rushed to the doomed craft and shouted to the occupants to flee for their lives. Mrs. Wilson was hard to arouse and by the time she was awakened the waters had stolen into the boat to such a depth that only by strenuous efforts was the woman able to carry the children to the door, where Mrs. Welch was waiting to rescue them. After the children were safely landed Mrs. Wilson jumped to the shore just as the boat sank beneath the surface. Everything in the boat, a bed, chairs and other household articles were lost.

Mrs. Samuel Mann and her one-week-old baby were undoubtedly saved a watery grave by moving from the Wilson boat yesterday morning. Mrs. Mann was very sick and another boat nearby affording better accommodations, she gladly accepted an invitation to change her quarters. As a result she prevented an awful experience to say the least.

THE WORST OF THE FLOOD HAS NOW BEEN REACHED

Water Came to a Standstill This Afternoon and Will Recede During the Night.

THE LOSSES NOT AS LARGE AS IN JANUARY

The highest stage of water was reached here at 2 o'clock this afternoon and before midnight it will begin to fall. The crest of the flood at Pittsburgh showed 29 feet on the gauge, which is three feet less than was reached in January. The rise was greatly checked by the cold weather. The decline of the flood will be rapid and before morning the water will be confined to the banks of the river.

Although the damage is considerable, it will not be near so great as in January. There has been considerable loss of time, owing to interruption of street car traffic and the pottery plants along the river will be put to some expense in cleaning away the mud and debris that will be deposited by the water.

During the night the river overflowed its banks at the west end of the Thompson pottery and from the city pumping station almost to the power house. The biscuit kiln sheds at the Thompson plant were flooded but little damage resulted as everything had been removed to another part of the plant. A great deal of the work was unnecessary as the water did not come up as high as was expected.

The other potteries affected had the same experience as at the Thompson plant, but in no case did the trouble equal that caused by the earlier flood. Men were on duty at the plants all night.

WATER TWO FEET DEEP IN THE POSTOFFICE

The Flood Situation at Elkton Village Decidedly An Unpleasant One.

Lisbon, March 4.—(Special.)—The middle fork of the Beaver reached a higher stage yesterday than has been known during the past year. No parwas no shortage of water throughout the city.

Cars on the East Liverpool line could not be operated today from the Second street switch to the power house. The tracks at several points between these places were covered to a depth of a foot or more. Through cars were run west from the Second street switch to Wellsville and east from the power house to the state line.

Captain Gus Martindill, of the wharf boat, stated this afternoon that the water came to a stand about 2 o'clock. Advice to him from Pittsburgh river men were that the worst of the flood had been realized there, and that all the streams emptying into the Ohio would be falling before night. The high water did not cause half the damage to river interests that the January flood caused.

So confident are the rivermen that the flood limit has been reached that navigation has been resumed. The Ben Hur reached here this morning and continued on to Pittsburgh. The boat passed the Virginia at Bellaire. The towboat, Raymond Horner, that helped save the Virginia from sinking when she struck a submerged pier at Steubenville, passed here this morning. The Greenland is due up this evening.

Residents of Jethro have not suffered greatly as a result of the flood. They were warned in ample time and took the necessary precautions to ward off great damage. A score or more of houses were partially inundated, but no property was lost, the people moving everything perishable to the second stories. The house of Mike Gorby was completely covered, but it is a new structure and can undergo the strain without damaging results.

ticular damage resulted. The damage of a few weeks ago was due to the large masses of floating ice.

At Elkton the water stood two feet deep in the postoffice yesterday.

Beal a Flood Sufferer.

William Beal, of California Hollow, lost a $500 barn in the flood, a large number of chickens and a quantity of meat.

LOSSES TO FARMERS WILL BE VERY HEAVY

Crops in the Fields and Grain in Barns Suffered—Narrow Escape of Man and Team,

The damage wrought by the flood in the interior of the county will amount to thousands of dollars. Farmers owning land on Long's Run and other creeks north of the city suffered greatly. In several instances only the prompt and united efforts of large parties saved large numbers of cattle and other stock. Crops in the lowlands will be a total loss, and in not a few cases grain, feed and provisions in barns and cellars were damaged.

Albert E. Waggle, who conducts a dairy on the Lisbon road north of the city, had a trying experience and one in which he nearly lost a valuable team of horses. George Orr, of Calcutta, a relative of Mr. Waggle, has been very ill for a long time and the latter has for several weeks spent a few nights each week sitting up with the sick man. Wednesday night Waggle made his customary trip to Calcutta, and undertook to return to his home early yesterday morning, but was prevented by the high water in Long's

Mr. Waggle made the start at an early hour in the morning and the rain was still coming down in torrents. Fearing the stream would go still higher and desiring to reach home in time to take care of his milk business he was more careless than he should have been. His determination to take long chances in order to reach home came near resulting in losing his own life, as well as that of his team. He searched along the stream for a suitable place to ford, and after traveling for miles and laying down fences without number and finding none, he plunged into the current intending to force the horses through.

No sooner had he struck the water than he regretted the action, for the horses were no match for the swift current, as they could do nothing but flounder about. By coming in contact with a cattle guard in the stream Waggle was able to get the team out of the run, but it was on the same side from which he started.

The effort to ford the stream was abandoned and Waggle returned to Calcutta. The creek was wide over its banks all of yesterday and it was 4 o'clock this morning before Waggle ventured to cross again.

SENT A RENT BILL COVERING EIGHT YEARS

Manley's Band Asked to Pay $160 for Room Occupied in City Hall.

Acting under instructions of the township trustees, City Auditor Davidson this morning mailed a bill to Manley's band of $160 which, it is alleged, is due the trustees as rent for the room in the city building occupied by the band for the past eight years.

When the room was rented to the band it was agreed that $20 per year should be paid the trustees. According to the books of the trustees not one cent has been paid. It is probable that the bill would never have been entered had the band settled the light and gas bills over which there has been so much ado of late. It is the purpose of the trustees to collect the money or eject the band from its quarters.

SPRING ELECTION IS NOT EXCITING

Interest in Politics Locally Chiefly Confined to the Candidates.

WHO ARE IN THE RACE

The spring municipal primaries, for the first time probably in the history of the city, will be void of interest to everyone with the possible exception of the candidates themselves. The time limit for candidates to enter their names with the secretary of the local Republican central committee expires tomorrow evening, and there will be but one contest according to present indications.

When William Copestick resigned his position as constable, the unexpected term was filled by the appointment of T. O. Terrence. Mr. Terrence will be a candidate for the job at the coming primaries, and the announcement of W. Z. Davis is the only other aspirant. Mr. Davis made the canvass at the last election, being defeated by Mr. Copestick by only a few votes.

The other officers to be selected are: Two justices of the peace, two township trustees, one councilman-at-large, one councilman, first ward; one councilman, third ward.

Justice J. N. Rose, who has filled the position of justice of the peace with credit for so many years, will have no opposition, and Justice L. W. Carman, of the East End, will fill the other place on the party ticket.

J. H. Harris was appointed to fill a vacancy on the board of township trustees, and will be a candidate. There will be two to select, however, and M. Anderson will be a candidate for re-election. Both men have filled the position to the satisfaction of the people, and will probably have no opposition.

For councilman-at-large, H. E. Bullock has no opposition to the present, and as this is his second term under the new code, it is not likely any will develop.

From the wards Robert M. Newell, from the First, and H. E. Moon, of the Third, will go through without opposition.

One assessor from each of the four wards and a township assessor are also to be nominated at the primary on the 12th of this month. Not a single name for any of these positions has been presented to the city secretary. In case there are no candidates, it will be the duty of the city committee to fill the places on the ticket when the time comes. A meeting of the local committee is to be held early in the week, and with other matters in which the party is interested, it will probably be taken up.

The caucus meetings for the selection of county committeemen have all been arranged for, and with the exception of the East End precincts of the First ward and the third precinct of the Fourth, they will all be held at city hall. Heretofore little interest has been shown in these caucuses, and the present instances promise to be no exception. The East End precinct committeemen will probably get together at some convenient point in that vicinity, while the Republican voters of the lower precinct of the Fourth have arranged to meet at the Peake block.

The News Review is recognized as East Liverpool's leading newspaper as regards news service and advertising medium.

IRONDALE'S LOSS MANY THOUSANDS

Storm There Resembled a Cloud-burst and Buildings Were Swept Away.

THE TOWN HALL WRECKED

Postoffice Carried Across the Street and Other Buildings Badly Damaged—Narrow Escapes Are Many. Loss $30,000 to $40,000.

Irondale, March 4.—(Special.)—The flooded districts of Irondale were scenes of busy operations today. Large numbers of men were put to work early this morning to repair the damage caused by the awful rush of water. Though nearly the entire town suffered to some extent by the storm, the greatest damage was done to the business section, and it will be several days before normal conditions will be restored.

The flood struck Irondale shortly after 6 o'clock yesterday morning, following an electrical storm which caused a downpour of water unprecedented in this section. It was like a cloud-burst, coming in an instant and with the roar of a wild and ravaging river. Falling into the valley it was quickly carried on a path of destruction by Yellow creek, the banks of which were overflowed in less than 10 minutes.

Business men could see the terrifying deluge approaching, but were unable to protect their property and were compelled to flee to a point of safety and watch their homes and other real estate suffer the ravages of the heartless waters. There was no way of retarding the terrific onslaught. It dashed and jumped with unrelenting fierceness against everything within its wake and Irondale suffered the greatest loss in its history. A conservative estimate places the damage at from $30,000 to $40,000.

The postoffice was raised from its foundation and swept across the street, where it was only stopped by colliding with a barricade of trees and earth. A frame building, occupied by A. W. Noble as a jewelry store, and Dr. Ray's office, adjoining the postoffice, were also swept from their foundation. The town hall, containing the mayor's office, the council chamber and the office of Justice James Paisley were dashed into the creek. The Odd Fellows' building, not far away from the postoffice, in which Greenburg Bros. have a general store, was filled to a depth of four feet with water, causing much damage. The stores of John Poole and John Baxter were also partially filled with water, as were the stores of C. C. Steen, M. M. Rondebush and the restaurant of J. W. Wood. A valuable horse belonging to "Squire Paisley and one owned by John Watkins were washed into the raging waters and drowned. A mule, belonging to Adolph Pritschmann, was also drowned.

A number of sick people were in the wake of the flood and were removed from their homes with great difficulty. It is feared several of them may suffer bad results.

Telephone and mail service was completely cut off, and there were no trains east or west until late this afternoon. The track between here and Salineville was damaged greatly.

THE JAPS WORRIED ABOUT THEIR FLEET

One Cruising Near Port Arthur Has Not Been Sighted Since February 25.

London, March 4.—(Special.)—A dispatch from Port Arthur dated yesterday says that the Japanese fleet, which has been cruising near there, has not been sighted since February 25 and that Japanese officials are much exercised over its disappearance.

Freedom Will Be Here.

Manager Gallimore, of the local basketball team, received word this afternoon from the Freedom team, stating that it would be here for the game this evening, even if it is compelled to walk.

Court Adjourned Until Monday.

Lisbon, March 4.—(Special.)—All of the jury cases for this week in court having been disposed of, the jury was excused yesterday until Monday at 1 o'clock and court adjourned last evening to that time.

THE RACE QUESTION IN THE HOUSE

Grover Cleveland Denies That a Negro Dined With Him While He Was President.

Washington, March 4.—In the house a letter from Grover Cleveland to Representative Webb, of North Carolina, denying that C. H. J. Taylor, a negro, had dined with him at the white house while he was president, as charged by Representative Scott, of Kansas, a few days ago. Mr. Scott promptly offered his apology to the former president, saying he never before had heard of the statement which he had made denied.

A discussion of the race question following during which Mr. Williams, the minority leader, criticised President Roosevelt for having invited Booker T. Washington to a seat at his table.

HARD LUCK TALES QUITE NUMEROUS

Township Trustees Expect Many Calls For Aid as Result of Flood.

THREECASES ATTENDED TO

The township trustees anticipate another rush in business before tomorrow evening as a result of the flood. While the majority of cases will likely come from the devastated Shantytown districts, it is expected that there will be a number from other lowlands this time and also in several central locations. In the East End lowlands there were many sufferers and over the city some misery and considerable loss was occasioned by the flooding of cellars. From any of these districts the trustees expect appeals for help at any time and are preparing for any emergency.

Three cases were given the attention of the trustees last evening and this morning. One of them was unusual, coming from a family that has money in a bank and owns real estate in the city. Thomas Stafford and his wife are both hardworking people. They determined some time ago to purchase a house and lot and with that end in view commenced to putting aside every week a small amount of money. After careful saving they had enough laid away to make the first payment on a desirable property and since that time have been paying for it through a building and loan association. Not long ago work became scarce and they found that it would be impossible to make the necessary payments and also have money enough to live on.

Unwilling to get back with their weekly installments on the property they concluded to apply to the trustees for food and did so last week. They did not tell the entire story and the trustees upon hearing that the family was destitute gave them an order for food. Later the true conditions were learned by the trustees and this morning when Mrs. Stafford applied for more food she was refused.

Charles Bishop is in hard luck. He lives on a shanty boat and besides being sick himself has a wife who is in a precarious condition. He applied for assistance and it was given him. He is suffering with a swelling on his left leg, which has rendered him helpless and as his wife is unable to work, the trustees could do nothing but give them food.

Charles Berner applied for food, saying that he had been out of work and his family is in a starving condition. It was not the first time Charles had been before the trustees and his story was not given much credence and he was refused aid.

CREST WAS REACHED AT PITTSBURG TODAY

The Flood There Attained a Height of 29 Feet and One Inch.

Pittsburg, March 4.—(Special.)—At noon today Forecaster Ridgway issued the following bulletin: "The crest of the flood reached Pittsburg about 9 o'clock. I expect the waters to remain almost stationary for several hours, and after that the fall may be as rapid as the rise was. The flood was due entirely to the rainfall, as there was little snow in the mountains to effect the stage of water."

"At 9 o'clock this morning the flood had reached 29 feet, 1 inch at Herr's Island, at which time it remained stationary."

RAILROAD IS STRUGGLING WITH ADVERSE CONDITIONS

Flood Has Caused Serious Hold-Up of Trains and Delay of Express and Mail Matter.

THE TRAINS ARE NOW GETTING THROUGH

The Cleveland & Pittsburgh railroad is still struggling with adverse conditions wrought by the flood. Up to a late hour today no mail from Pittsburgh had reached this city since the early morning train of yesterday. Some eastern mail has arrived via Steubenville, but Pittsburgh mail has not been dispatched that way, for some unknown reason. Local mails have been sent down the river for Pittsburg and the east.

A mail from the river division arrived about 7 p. m. last evening and another this morning. It was said arrangements would be made to transfer mails from Pittsburgh and get them through, but these mails had not materialized at 2 p. m.

The river division noon train going east went through on time and carried a large batch of accumulated mail from East Liverpool and Wellsville. Mails were promised on the afternoon train down, which was to leave Pittsburg on time.

No daily papers from Pittsburg arrived yesterday or today. When the trains get fairly down to business again they will bring in a large accumulation of old papers, belated letters and delayed express matter.

Five bridges on the main line of the railroad, between Yellow Creek and Salineville are washed out.

A washout at Ogle's cut, east of New Salisbury, has made the main tracks of this road impassable. A line will have to be built around the washout. About 200 cars of slag will be required to fill the cut.

Bridge No. 126, near Malvern, on

the Tuscarawas branch, has been washed out. It may be repaired for use by night. A deep washout at Zoar station has made the road useless there.

These conditions confronted the officers of the Cleveland & Pittsburgh today. The five relief trains and hundreds of workmen have been working 48 hours repairing the damage, all caused by one rain.

These bridges are unsafe for the passage of trains: No. 52, east of Irondale; 44 and 49, west of Irondale; 39, east of Salineville, and 37 west of Salineville. It is announced that trains from the main line may reach Wellsville going east during this evening, but no promises are made.

The landslide at Cook's Ferry is causing all the trouble between Wellsville and Rochester. Trains east and west are meeting there, for transferring. The transfer work commenced this morning.

Trains were made up at Alliance and run to Salineville this afternoon, and passengers for the east and river divisions of the Cleveland & Pittsburgh were taken to Alliance, where they were delivered to the Ft. Wayne road.

So far the high water in the Ohio river has caused the river division of the road no great inconvenience. The water had not at noon reached the lowest point of the road. This was regarded as an unexpected condition among the officers at the Wellsville office. Trains are being moved between East Liverpool and Bellaire on schedule time. This will prevail just as long as the water does not interfere with their movement.

WELLSVILLE WIFE GRANTED DIVORCE

Her Husband Accused of Extreme Cruelty, Drunkenness and Neglect.

Lisbon, March 4.—(Special.)—Iva M. Haden, of Wellsville, was divorced from Thomas Haden in court last evening. They were married in East Liverpool August 29, 1895, and have one child, Vivian P., aged 5. The divorce was granted on the statutory ground of habitual drunkenness, extreme cruelty and gross neglect. The wife alleged that her husband had frequently beaten her, threatened to kill her and abused her with vile language.

The wife is given custody of the child and is to receive $200 alimony.

HUNDRED LIVES ARE REPORTED LOST

Great Damage Resulting From a Prairie Fire in Oklahoma.

Lawton, Oklahoma, March 4.—The most destructive prairie fire ever known in the southwest is raging in this vicinity. A hundred lives are reported lost, 75,000 acres of land have been burned over and thousands of people are homeless. The loss cannot now be estimated.

The prairie fire spread rapidly before a heavy wind storm and people are fleeing for their lives as it is impossible to confine or extinguish the fire.

Fine job printing—News Review.

SAVED FROM DROWNING BY A HEROIC WOMAN

Family Were Asleep In a Sinking Shanty Boat When a Neighbor's Shouts Aroused Them.

Unconscious of the impending peril, Mrs. Emma Wilson and her two children calmly slept in their shanty boat, near the West End flint mill, last night while the water stealthily crept into their apartment. That they escaped a horrible death was due to the discovery of their plight by a neighbor woman, who awakened them in the nick of time.

Mrs. Wilson had been warned of the approaching flood, but did not think it would assume dangerous proportions and at her usual time retired for the night. The woman and her children were soon sleeping soundly and when the boat sprung a leak they were of course unaware of it. Mrs. Welch, who occupies a boat a few yards below that of Mrs. Wilson, happened to stroll up the railroad track at about 11 o'clock, when she perceived that Mrs. Wilson and her little ones were in imminent danger.

Their boat had already sunk nearly a foot and it was fast filling. Heroically Mrs. Welch rushed to the doomed craft and shouted to the occupants to flee for their lives. Mrs. Wilson was hard to arouse and by the time she was awakened the waters had stolen into the boat to such a depth that only by strenuous efforts was the woman able to carry the children to the door, where Mrs. Welch was waiting to rescue them. After the children were safely landed Mrs. Wilson jumped to the shore just as the boat sank beneath the surface. Everything in the boat, a bed, chairs and other household articles were lost.

Mrs. Samuel Mann and her one-week-old baby were undoubtedly saved a watery grave by moving from the Wilson boat yesterday morning. Mrs. Mann was very sick and another boat nearly affording better accommodations, she gladly accepted an invitation to change her quarters. As a result she prevented an awful experience to say the least.

Among the Potteries and Allied Industries

WORK OF BOARD.

At the recent meetings of the local arbitration board several disputed points have been settled and others will be taken up at the next meeting to be held Wednesday evening, March 9. The disputes yet to be settled are mainly on new shapes adopted by outside plants. For some time there has been a dispute at the Steubenville plant in regard to the kiln drawing crew having to assort and nest thin cups. This system had been in vogue before the settlement by conference last October. The men claimed that the conference abolished the system and that they would not draw the kilns nesting and assorting the cups without an additional allowance of four and a half men for the seven kilns was made. This matter was brought up before the committee and ruled that the firm was trying to establish a new condition and if they insisted on the men assorting and nesting the cups they were to be allowed the four and a half men extra for the seven kilns, making a total allowance of 63 men for the seven kilns instead of 58½ as heretofore.

The question of the measurement of one of the kilns at the Wellsville plant was settled in favor of the men. The kiln in question is a down draft one and the firm insisted that the kiln should be measured and the down draft pipe, which is six foot in circumference, should be deducted from the measurement. This the men were opposed to, claiming that the kiln according to our agreement should be measured regardless of the down draft pipe.

Another matter on which settlement was reached was the determining of the size of a jug being made at the china shop of the Sebring Pottery company. This was adjusted by declaring the jug to be a 24s.

The following persons constitute the committee: Manufacturers—William Cook, of the Severs Pottery company;

William Griggs, of the Klondike plant, and Thomas Anderson, of the Edwin M. Knowles. N. B. of O. P.—Charles Och, of local union No. 12; E. N. Croxall, local union No. 4, and George Smith, local union No. 9.

POTTERY NOTES.

James Kinney, jiggerman at the Dresden, is not able to work owing to illness.

Frank Smurthwaite has accepted a position in the glost crew at the Mc-Nicol plant.

The Dresden is now making a glost kiln a day and is one of the busiest shops in town.

Jack Hoskinson, presser at the Dresden, has been sick and unable to work for several days.

Henry Henderson, a well known Wellsville potter, has recovered from his recent illness.

Miss Mabel Regan, a sister of John Regan, formerly of East Liverpool, died at Peoria a few days ago.

Samuel Leighton, dishmaker at the Dresden, has been confined to his home with an attack of the grip.

Local union No. 44 has contributed a nice sum for the families of the miners killed in the Hardwick disaster.

President T. J. Duffy, of the N. B. of O. P., has returned from Steubenville, where he made an address to the local there.

Frank Shotdy, Timothy Hickey and George Smurthwaite are the alternate delegates to the national convention from No. 12.

Henry Wolf and Henry Estercamp, of the biscuit crew of the Dresden, have been unable to work for the past few days owing to illness.

Local No. 24, of Wellsville, nominated delegates to the national convention at the last meeting. Nominations will be closed and the election held at the meeting next week.

Tim Stapleton, of New York, who has been the guest of Thomas Cannon, kiln fireman at the Dresden, returned to his home a few days ago. Mr. Stapleton was once a potter and was employed at Wheeling as a presser. During his stay here he and Mr. Cannon visited old friends at Wheeling.

A GUARANTEED CURE FOR PILES. Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles. Your druggist will refund money if PAZO OINTMENT fails to cure you in 6 to 14 days. 50 cents.

Tickets for the Elks' benefit, March 16, can be obtained at the office of Herbert & Travis. Prices, 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50. 54-h

New tomatoes, strawberries, cucumbers, parsley, lettuce, radishes and green onions, at SCHMIDT'S CASH GROCERY. 54-h

CHANGE OF ADDRESS. SUBSCRIBERS DESIRING THEIR PAPER CHANGED FROM ONE ADDRESS TO ANOTHER WILL PLEASE NOTIFY THIS OFFICE DIRECT. CALL EITHER 'PHONE.

Tickets for the Elks' benefit, March 16, can be obtained at the office of Herbert & Travis. Prices, 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50. 54-h

HEAR BEDDOE SING IN THE JEWELL CONCERT, MARCH 8.

THAT BRASHER OF BACON, that skillet of eggs—crisp, sweet and luscious as to the bacon, fresh, appetizing, wholesome and nourishing as to eggs—are within easy reach of you whether you live near or far away from here. Our telephone and delivery wagon make the connection perfect and prompt. Your orders, please.

Heddleston Bros., "The Home of Quality," 4th and Market.

HIGH SCHOOL HAZING TO BE INVESTIGATED

Outrageous Actions at Youngstown Likely to Result in Expulsion and Prosecutions.

Youngstown, March 4.—The faculty of Raven high school have decided to take up the investigation of the students of the school who were implicated in the hazing of Gordon Bulmer, a member of the freshman class.

About a month ago Bulmer was subjected to the hazing process in vogue at the school. First being ducked under the campus pump, he was taken to the basement of the school building, where he was subjected to such indignities as made necessary the services of a surgeon to attend to his injuries. Bulmer, with the false school-boy loyalty and determination, made no complaint to the faculty, but the surgeon who attended him reported the seriousness of his injuries, and upon this information the faculty decided to take action.

It is the expectation that a number of the students who were most active in the brutal hazing of Bulmer will be, upon conviction, expelled from the school, and the expulsion will probably be followed by prosecution in the criminal courts.

Tickets for the Elks' benefit, March 16, can be obtained at the office of Herbert & Travis. Prices, 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50. 54-h

We have received large shipments of our spring stock of shoes, the latest and the best yet.

FRANK, SHUMAKER & CO. 54-h

Tickets for the Jewell concert March 8th now on sale at Reed's drug store. Prices, 75 cents and $1. 54-a

Dressed chickens, fresh oysters, parsnips, sweet potatoes and maple sugar, at SCHMIDT'S CASH GROCERY. 54-h

Tickets for the Elks' benefit, March 16, can be obtained at the office of Herbert & Travis. Prices, 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50. 54-h

Health Rules. One of Queen Victoria's health rules is said to have been, "Do whatever you like, but do it in moderation," or words to that effect, and a similar rule might be adopted with still greater profit by the men and women of the present day. The people of Queen Victoria's generation had not made a fad of health, and every newspaper they picked up did not worry them with conflicting hygienic rules. The no breakfast fad, if he existed, was less prominent than at present, and those who thought that the first ought to be the best meal of the day did not publish their views from every roof top, figuratively speaking. Vegetarians and meat eaters wrangled only in inconspicuous corners, and the devotees of the cold bath were content with fewer victims. Today, when all these and a million other so called health rules are being dinned into the ears of a long suffering public on all sides, it is more than ever important to bear in mind that inclinations and disinclinations were not arbitrarily implanted by nature in animal organisms; that they exist for our guidance and not solely to mislead us.—New York Tribune.

Happy, Healthy Children. Any child can take Little Early Risers with perfect safety. They are harmless, never gripe or sicken, and yet they are so certain in results that robust constitutions requiring drastic means are never disappointed. They cannot fail to perform their mission and every one who uses DeWitt's Little Early Risers prefer them to all other pills. They cure biliousness. Sold by Alvin H. Bulger.

Don't forget Jewell concert, March 8. Tickets on sale at Reed's drug store. Prices, 75 cents and $1. 54-a

Food and Rummage Sale. The ladies of the W. C. T. U. have concluded to continue their food and rummage sale until Saturday night. All members are requested to donate something in the line of bread, pies or cakes for Saturday. 53-a Five job printing—News Review. 54-h

Star Bargain Store

New Spring Suits

Eton jacket suits, made with cape and belt, in black, blue, gray and tan, for $5.98, worth $8.

$10 jacket suits in different colors for $7.98.

Military jacket suits at $12.50, $15.00 up to $22.50, worth from $3 to $5 more.

New Spring Jackets

A nice line of spring jackets arrived this week in box front, fitted back and corset jackets, in a nice variety of colors from $3.49 up to $10.

Rain coats with large cape for $7.50, worth $10.

$12 rain coats with two capes for $8.98.

Better ones at $10, $12.50 and $15.

New belts in leather and silk at 25c and 50c.

New line of lace and fancy collars at 25c and 50c.

New Dress Goods

Fancy cotton voile in light and dark shades for 25c.

Wool and cotton mixed, 36 inches wide, crepe for 25c.

A very extensive line in plain and novelty goods in dark and light shades, 65c grade for 50c.

Mohair in light and dark blue, white, champagne, gray and brown for 50c a yard.

Albatross in white and all colors, 50c a yard.

44 inch all wool hoxie in all colors, $1 grade for 75c a yard.

$1 voile in black and blue for 75c.

$1.25 voile in all shades for 98c.

Black lustre at 39c, 50c, 75c, 98c and $1.25.

Striped sicilian, the latest goods for suits, at $1.25 and $1.49.

Silks

A new line of foulard silks at 48c, 65c, 75c and $1 a yard.

Silk taffeta for shirt waist suits in checked and striped in exclusive patterns, at saving prices.

STAR BARGAIN STORE, 138-140 Fifth Street.

Danger Don't Delay Your Teeth

DON'T DELAY THE CARE OF YOUR TEETH OR IT WILL BE TOO LATE TO SAVE THEM. If you will come today and let us apply some treatment we may be able to prevent further decay. A small filling may save a whole tooth. Our plan is to protect them by applying a remedy without delay. There are many points to consider about teeth. There are many ways to spoil the digestion and seriously impair the teeth. Care makes the teeth strong, revives old ones and protects good ones. We want to tell you what your teeth need and how we can help them.

DO YOU SMILE?

People show more than they suppose, their character when they smile. In these days it is not necessary to have bad teeth when dentistry has reached such a degree of perfection. Our attention to bad teeth will make them good, or we provide sets to take the place of defective natural teeth. Bring your tooth troubles to me.

Parlors Mulberry St. East End.

M. W. TAYLOR, D. D. S.,

Bell Phone, 369-L. East End.

Women Sold by Auction.

An auction of unmarried ladies used to take place annually in Babylon. In every district they assembled on a certain day of every year all the virgins of marriageable age. The most remarkable was first put up, and the man who bid the largest sum of money gained possession of her. The second in personal appearance followed, and the bidders gratified themselves with handsome wives according to the depth of their purses. But, alas, it seems that there were in Babylon some ladies for whom no money was likely to be offered, yet these also were disposed of, so provident were the Babylonians. When all the beautiful virgins were sold, the crier ordered the most deformed to stand up, and after he had openly demanded who would marry her with a small sum she was at length adjudged to the man who would be satisfied with the least, and in this manner the money arising from the sale of the handsome served as a portion to those who were either of disagreeable looks or that had any other imperfection. This custom prevailed about 500 years before Christ.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Have you indigestion, constipation, headache, backache, kidney trouble? Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will make you well. If it fails, get your money back. That's fair. 35 cents, tea or tablet form. C. F. Craig.

Tickets for the Elks' benefit, March 16, can be obtained at the office of Herbert & Travis. Prices, 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50. 54-h

Men's 75c rubbers, small sizes and a little out of style, for 15c at FRANK, SHUMAKER & CO. 54-h

OLD TAVERN GOSSIP.

Wayside Inn of Olden Days Was a Heartsome Place.

[Copyright 1904 by American Press Association.]

Many quaint and fascinating pictures remain to us in old volumes and diaries of that famous institution of colonial days, the country or village tavern. The habits of life and the methods of travel then in vogue were such as to make the old tavern a conspicuous place in the community. It was the place where every traveler who came along sought rest and refreshment for himself and his tired steed. So thither the male gossip of the village were wont to assemble on all sorts of occasions, and pretty nearly all the time to gaze on the stranger, see what manner of man he might be, and to get into conversation with him and perhaps extract from him some choice bit of news.

The tavern was also the stopping place of all the stages on the road, the arrival and departure of which were great events in the life of the staid rural communities. The stage brought visitors to the cabin whose temporary presence afforded to the local habitues a chance to get a glimpse through their conversation of far distant places. The shady porches of the tavern or the spreading tree on which hung the creaking sign were the chosen gathering places of the village gossips as they came to talk over the weather, the crops, the recent or prospective visit of the candidate for some office, or the latest batch of news from the outside world, brought in by the latest stage. Here was the village junta which met in daily session and passed in review the lives and character of their neighbors. On the important day when the news letter or the weekly paper from the distant capital came the assembly was always on the eager watch. The precious sheet with its little batch of information as to the doings of the world would be spread out carefully across the knees of the best reader in the company and the rest would gather closely and attentively about while he would read aloud, thus making one paper do the work now allotted to a score or half a hundred dailies.

As the frosts of early winter caused the leaves to shrivel and fall the village cabal adjourned to the tavern tap-room, where to the accompaniment of foaming flagons of beer, ale and flip, and by a roaring hickory fire, with jest and song, the afternoons and evenings were passed away. It would be easier, possibly, to say what was not talked about than to tell the subjects of the homely gossip.

The tavern with its old-fashioned life has gone with the stage, and the weekly news letter, and the flip, and the hickory fire, and with them have mouldered away the hearty old tavern gossips, but all have left a fragrant memory. C. L. SMITH.

FORBES' HARDEST FIGHT.

While Very Ill He Makes Trip Home on Rough Litter.

[Copyright 1904 by American Press Association.]

The successful campaign of 1758 which forever ended French domination on the Ohio was in command of General Forbes, a brave and competent officer. When he set out from Philadelphia he was sick with a complication of disorders such as would have caused any ordinary man to stay quietly at home in bed. But the sturdy will of General Forbes knew not how to give up even to disease itself, so he plodded along through the increasing cold and storms of autumn, till at last, in spite of all obstacles, he found himself in possession of the French position. So ill was he at the time that within two days after arriving at the ruins of Fort Duquesne he could scarcely summon strength enough to pen a letter. At the end of that time he managed to write briefly to General Amherst, adding:

"I shall leave this place as soon as I am able to stand, but God knows when I shall reach Philadelphia, if I ever do."

The brave old soldier was destined to reach that city, but it was only after a hard trip. He was not able to wait till he could stand, but began the rough trip in a litter carried by some of his troopers. Thus he traveled the whole long journey. Each day men were sent ahead, who erected a small hut with a stove chimney and fireplace and gathered wood for his comfort. For many years afterwards this line of historic huts stood mouldering along the old Forbes road clear from Pittsburgh to Philadelphia, melancholy reminders of the sad return of the invalid general.

On one occasion, on Dec. 28, Major Halket wrote from a place on the line of march called Tomahawk camp:

"How great was our disappointment, on coming to this ground last night, to find that the chimney was unaltd, no fire made, nor any wood cut that would burn. This distressed the general to the greatest degree by obliging him after his long journey to sit above two hours without any fire, excepting the fire of the stars."

posed to a snow storm, which had very near destroyed him entirely, but with great difficulty, with the assistance of some cordials he was brought to."

In such fashion did Forbes make his triumphal progress back to Philadelphia. There he was received with a considerable public demonstration of respect and joy. His illness was fatal, and he lingered on until in March he gave up at last to the foe whom not even such as he could conquer. In the chancel of old Christ church he lies buried, a brave and honored man. C. L. SMITH.

The Pansy Bed. Always locate the pansy bed in an open, airy place, where the wind can have free sweep over it. It is a mistake to plant pansies in the shade. Under that condition the stems become weak and straggling, whereas the plants should be stout and stocky, with the flowers borne on moderately long stems.

Independent Thought. One self wrought problem will give more vigor than a thousand worked out for us. It is the constant stretching of the mind over large problems, over large models—it is independent thought—that increases mental power.—Success.

A Natural Executioner. "I don't wish to be rude, Banks, but you'd make an excellent executioner." "Why?" "Well, you see, you have such a natural aptitude for minding other people's business."

Sensible. Father—But are you sure he's a sensible young man? Daughter—Oh, yes, papa. Why, he's the only one of our amateur theatrical club who hasn't professional aspirations.—Puck.

There are two powers at which men should never grumble—the weather and their wives.—Disraeli.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure E. W. Grove's signature is on each box. 25c.

Tickets for the Elks' benefit, March 16, can be obtained at the office of Herbert & Travis. Prices, 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50. 54-h

A. W. SCOTT, Architect & Insurance 15th year.

Just About 2 Weeks More

And then we remove to our new location, No. 123 Sixth Street.

REMEMBER while we are at our present location you can get shoes away down.

A Few pairs of the Ladies' $3.00 and $3.50 Shoes left at $1.50 a pair.

Get a pair of the $4, $5 and $6 Men's Pants at $2.50 a pair.

THE BIG REMOVAL SALE
Bostonian Shoe House & Haberdasher
Sixth and Washington Streets.

Always Remember the Full Name
Laxative Bromo Quinine
Cures a Cold in One Day, Grip in 2 Days

E. W. Grove on every box, 25c

Among the Potteries and Allied Industries

WORK OF BOARD.

At the recent meetings of the local arbitration board several disputed points have been settled and others will be taken up at the next meeting to be held Wednesday evening, March 9. The disputes yet to be settled are mainly on new shapes adopted by outside plants. For some time there has been a dispute at the Steubenville plant in regard to the kiln drawing crew having to assort and nest thin cups. This system had been in vogue before the settlement by conference last October. The men claimed that the conference abolished the system and that they would not draw the kilns nesting and assorting the cups without an additional allowance of four and a half men for the seven kilns was made. This matter was brought up before the committee and ruled that the firm was trying to establish a new condition and if they insisted on the men assorting and nesting the cups they were to be allowed the four and a half men extra for the seven kilns, making a total allowance of 63 men for their seven kilns instead of 58½ as heretofore.

The question of the measurement of one of the kilns at the Wellsville plant was settled in favor of the men. The kiln in question is a down draft one and the firm insisted that the kiln should be measured and the down draft pipe, which is six foot in circumference, should be deducted from the measurement. This the men were opposed to, claiming that the kiln according to our agreement should be measured regardless of the down draft pipe.

Another matter on which settlement was reached was the determining of the size of a jug being made at the china shop of the Sebring Potteries company. This was adjusted by declaring the jug to be a 24s.

The following persons constitute the committee: Manufacturers—William Cook, of the Sebring Pottery company;

William Griggs, of the Klondike plant, and Thomas Anderson, of the Edwin M. Knowles. N. B. of O. P.—Charles Och, of local union No. 12; E. N. Croxall, local union No. 4, and George Smith, local union No. 9.

POTTERY NOTES.

James Kinney, jiggerman at the Dresden, is not able to work owing to illness.

Frank Smurthwaite has accepted a position in the glass crew at the Mc-Nicol plant.

The Dresden is now making a glass kiln a day and is one of the busiest shops in town.

Jack Hoskinson, presser at the Dresden, has been sick and unable to work for several days.

Henry Henderson, a well known Wellsville potter, has recovered from his recent illness.

Miss Mabel Regan, a sister of John Regan, formerly of East Liverpool, died at Peoria a few days ago.

Samuel Leighton, dishmaker at the Dresden, has been confined to his home with an attack of the grip.

Local union No. 44 has contributed a nice sum for the families of the miners killed in the Hardwick disaster.

President T. J. Duffy, of the N. B. of O. P., has returned from Steubenville, where he made an address to the local there.

Frank Shoddy, Timothy Hickey and George Smurthwaite are the alternate delegates to the national convention from No. 12.

Henry Wolf and Henry Estercamp, of the biscuit crew of the Dresden, have been unable to work for the past few days owing to illness.

Local No. 24, of Wellsville, nominated delegates to the national convention at the last meeting. Nominations will be closed and the election held at the meeting next week.

Tim Stapleton, of New York, who has been the guest of Thomas Cannon, kiln fireman at the Dresden, returned to his home a few days ago. Mr. Stapleton was once a potter and was employed at Wheeling as a presser. During his stay here he and Mr. Cannon visited old friends at Wheeling.

A GUARANTEED CURE FOR PILES.
Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles. Your druggist will refund money if PAZO OINTMENT fails to cure you in 6 to 14 days. 50 cents.

Tickets for the Elks' benefit, March 16, can be obtained at the office of Herbert & Travis. Prices, 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50. 54-h

New tomatoes, strawberries, cucumbers, parsley, lettuce, radishes and green onions, at
SCHMIDT'S CASH GROCERY.

CHANGE OF ADDRESS.
SUBSCRIBERS DESIRING THEIR PAPER CHANGED FROM ONE ADDRESS TO ANOTHER WILL PLEASE NOTIFY THIS OFFICE DIRECT. CALL EITHER 'PHONE.

Tickets for the Elks' benefit, March 16, can be obtained at the office of Herbert & Travis. Prices, 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50. 54-h

HEAR BEDDOE SING IN THE JEWELL CONCERT, MARCH 8.

THAT BRASHER OF BACON,
that skillet of eggs—crisp, sweet and luscious as to the bacon, fresh, appetizing, wholesome and nourishing as to eggs—are within easy reach of you whether you live near or far away from here. Our telephone and delivery wagon make the connection perfect and prompt. Your orders, please.

Heddleston Bros.,
"The Home of Quality," 4th and Market.

HIGH SCHOOL HAZING TO BE INVESTIGATED

Outrageous Actions at Youngstown Likely to Result in Expulsion and Prosecutions.

Youngstown, March 4.—The faculty of Raven high school have decided to take up the investigation of the students of the school who were implicated in the hazing of Gordon Bulmer, a member of the freshman class.

About a month ago Bulmer was subjected to the hazing process in vogue at the school. First being ducked under the campus pump, he was taken to the basement of the school building, where he was subjected to such indignities as made necessary the services of a surgeon to attend to his injuries. Bulmer, with the false school-boy loyalty and determination, made no complaint to the faculty, but the surgeon who attended him reported the seriousness of his injuries, and upon this information the faculty decided to take action.

It is the expectation that a number of the students who were most active in the brutal hazing of Bulmer will be, upon conviction, expelled from the school, and the expulsion will probably be followed by prosecution in the criminal courts.

Tickets for the Elks' benefit, March 16, can be obtained at the office of Herbert & Travis. Prices, 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50. 54-h

We have received large shipments of our spring stock of shoes, the latest and the best yet.

FRANK, SHUMAKER & CO.

Tickets for the Jewell concert March 8th now on sale at Reed's drug store. Prices, 75 cents and $1. 54-a

Dressed chickens, fresh oysters, parsnips, sweet potatoes and maple sugar, at

SCHMIDT'S CASH GROCERY.

Tickets for the Elks' benefit, March 16, can be obtained at the office of Herbert & Travis. Prices, 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50. 54-h

Health Rules.

One of Queen Victoria's health rules is said to have been, "Do whatever you like, but do it in moderation," or words to that effect, and a similar rule might be adopted with still greater profit by the men and women of the present day. The people of Queen Victoria's generation had not made a fad of health, and every newspaper they picked up did not worry them with conflicting hygienic rules. The no breakfast fad, if he existed, was less prominent than at present, and those who thought that the first ought to be the best meal of the day did not publish their views from every roof top, figuratively speaking. Vegetarians and meat eaters wrangled only in inconspicuous corners, and the devotees of the cold bath were content with fewer victims. Today, when all these and a million other so called health rules are being dinned into the ears of a long suffering public on all sides, it is more than ever important to bear in mind that inclinations and disinclinations were not arbitrarily implanted by nature in animal organisms; that they exist for our guidance and not solely to mislead us.—New York Tribune.

Happy, Healthy Children.

Any child can take Little Early Risers with perfect safety. They are harmless, never gripe or sicken, and yet they are so certain in results that robust constitutions requiring drastic means are never disappointed. They cannot fail to perform their mission and every one who uses DeWitt's Little Early Risers prefer them to all other pills. They cure biliousness. Sold by Alvin H. Bulger.

Don't forget Jewell concert, March 8. Tickets on sale at Reed's drug store. Prices, 75 cents and $1. 54-a

Food and Rummage Sale.

The ladies of the W. C. T. U. have concluded to continue their food and rummage sale until Saturday night. All members are requested to donate something in the line of bread, pies or cakes for Saturday. 53-a

Free job printing—News Review. 54-h

Star Bargain Store

New Spring Suits

Elton jacket suits, made with cape and belt, in black, blue, gray and tan, for $5.98, worth $8.

$10 jacket suits in different colors for $7.98.

Military jacket suits at $12.50, $15.00 up to $22.50, worth from $3 to $5 more.

New Spring Jackets

A nice line of spring jackets arrived this week in box front, fitted back and corset jackets, in a nice variety of colors from $3.49 up to $10.

Rain coats with large cape for $7.50, worth $10.

$12 rain coats with two capes for $8.98.

Better ones at $10, $12.50 and $15.

New belts in leather and silk at 25c and 50c.

New line of lace and fancy collars at 25c and 50c.

New Dress Goods

Fancy cotton voile in light and dark shades for 25c. Wool and cotton mixed, 36 inches wide, crepe for 25c. A very extensive line in plain and novelty goods in dark and light shades, 65c grade for 50c.

Mohair in light and dark blue, white, champagne, gray and brown for 50c a yard.

Albatross in white and all colors, 50c a yard.

44 inch all wool hosiery in all colors, $1 grade for 75c a yard.

$1 voile in black and blue for 75c.

$1.25 voile in all shades for 98c.

Black lustre at 39c, 50c, 75c, 98c and $1.25.

Striped siciliana, the latest goods for suits, at $1.25 and $1.49.

Silks

A new line of foulard silks at 48c, 65c, 75c and $1 a yard. Silk taffeta for shirt waist suits in checked and striped in exclusive patterns, at saving prices.

New line of lace cape collars from 50c up to $3.49.

STAR BARGAIN STORE, 138-140 Fifth Street.

Danger Don't Delay Your Teeth

DON'T DELAY THE CARE OF YOUR TEETH OR IT WILL BE TOO LATE TO SAVE THEM. If you will come today and let us apply some treatment we may be able to prevent further decay. A small filling may save a whole tooth. Our plan is to protect them by applying a remedy without delay. There are many points to consider about teeth. There are many ways to spoil the digestion and seriously impair the teeth. Care makes the teeth strong, revives old ones and protects good ones. We want to tell you what your teeth need and how we can help them.

DO YOU SMILE?

People show more than they suppose, their character when they smile. In these days it is not necessary to have bad teeth when dentistry has reached such a degree of perfection. Our attention to bad teeth will make them good, or we provide sets to take the place of defective natural teeth. Bring your tooth troubles to me.

Parlors Mulberry St. East End.

M. W. TAYLOR, D. D. S.,

Bell Phone, 369-L. East End.

Women Sold by Auction.

An auction of unmarried ladies used to take place annually in Babylon. In every district they assembled on a certain day of every year all the virgins of marriageable age. The most remarkable was first put up, and the man who bid the largest sum of money gained possession of her. The second in personal appearance followed, and the bidders gratified themselves with handsome wives according to the depth of their purses. But, alas, it seems that there were in Babylon some ladies for whom no money was likely to be offered, yet these also were disposed of, so provident were the Babylonians. When all the beautiful virgins were sold, the crier ordered the most deformed to stand up, and after he had openly demanded who would marry her with a small sum she was at length adjudged to the man who would be satisfied with the least, and in this manner the money arising from the sale of the handsome served as a portion to those who were either of disagreeable looks or that had any other imperfection. This custom prevailed about 500 years before Christ.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Have you indigestion, constipation, headache, backache, kidney trouble? Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will make you well. If it fails, get your money back. That's fair. 35 cents, tea or tablet form. C. F. Craig.

Tickets for the Elks' benefit, March 16, can be obtained at the office of Herbert & Travis. Prices, 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50. 54-h

Men's 75c rubbers, small sizes and a little out of style, for 15c at

FRANK, SHUMAKER & CO.

54-h

OLD TAVERN GOSSIP.

Wayside Inn of Olden Days Was a Heartsome Place.

(Copyright 1904 by American Press Association.)

Many quaint and fascinating pictures remain to us in old volumes and diaries of that famous institution of colonial days, the country or village tavern. The habits of life and the methods of travel then in vogue were such as to make the old tavern a conspicuous place in the community. It was the place where every traveler who came along sought rest and refreshment for himself and his tired steed. So thither the male gossip of the village were wont to assemble on all sorts of occasions, and pretty nearly all the time to gaze on the stranger, see what manner of man he might be, and to get into conversation with him and perhaps extract from him some choice bit of news.

The tavern was also the stopping place of all the stages on the road, the arrival and departure of which were great events in the life of the staid rural communities. The stage brought visitors to the cabin whose temporary presence afforded to the local habitues a chance to get a glimpse through their conversation of far distant places. The shady porches of the tavern or the spreading tree on which hung the creaking sign were the chosen gathering places of the village gossips as they came to talk over the weather, the crops, the recent or prospective visit of the candidate for some office, or the latest batch of news from the outside world, brought in by the latest stage. Here was the village junta which met in daily session and passed in review the lives and character of their neighbors. On the important day when the news letter or the weekly paper from the distant capital came the assembly was always on the eager watch. The precious sheet with its little batch of information as to the doings of the world would be spread out carefully across the knees of the best reader in the company and the rest would gather closely and attentively about while he would read aloud, thus making one paper do the work now allotted to a score or half a hundred dailies.

As the frosts of early winter caused the leaves to shrivel and fall the village cabal adjourned to the tavern tap-room, where to the accompaniment of foaming flagons of beer, ale and flip, and by a roaring hickory fire, with jest and song, the afternoons and evenings were passed away. It would be easier, possibly, to say what was not talked about than to tell the subjects of the homely gossip.

The tavern with its old-fashioned life has gone with the stage, and the weekly news letter, and the flip, and the hickory fire, and with them have mouldered away the hearty old tavern gossips, but all have left a fragrant memory.

C. L. SMITH.

FORBES' HARDEST FIGHT.

While Very Ill He Makes Trip Home on Rough Litter.

(Copyright 1904 by American Press Association.)

The successful campaign of 1758 which forever ended French domination on the Ohio was in command of General Forbes, a brave and competent officer. When he set out from Philadelphia he was sick with a complication of disorders such as would have caused any ordinary man to stay quietly at home in bed. But the sturdy will of General Forbes knew not how to give up even to disease itself, so he plodded along through the increasing cold and storms of autumn, till at last, in spite of all obstacles, he found himself in possession of the French position. So ill was he at the time that within two days after arriving at the ruins of Fort Duquesne he could scarcely summon strength enough to pen a letter. At the end of that time he managed to write briefly to General Amherst, adding:

"I shall leave this place as soon as I am able to stand, but God knows when I shall reach Philadelphia, if I ever do."

The brave old soldier was destined to reach that city, but it was only after a hard trip. He was not able to wait till he could stand, but began the rough trip in a litter carried by some of his troopers. Thus he traveled the whole long journey. Each day men were sent ahead, who erected a small hut with a stove chimney and fireplace and gathered wood for his comfort. For many years afterwards this line of historic huts stood mouldering along the old Forbes road clear from Pittsburgh to Philadelphia, melancholy reminders of the sad return of the invalid general.

On one occasion, on Dec. 28, Major Halket wrote from a place on the line of march called Tomahawk camp: "How great was our disappointment, on coming to this ground last night, to find that the chimney was unkind, no fire made, nor any wood cut that would burn. This distressed the general to the greatest degree by obliging him after his long journey to sit above two hours without any fire, exposed to a snow storm, which had very near destroyed him entirely, but with great difficulty, with the assistance of some cordials he was brought to."

In such fashion did Forbes make his triumphal progress back to Philadelphia. There he was received with a considerable public demonstration of respect and joy. His illness was fatal, and he lingered on until in March he gave up at last to the foe whom not even such as he could conquer. In the chancel of old Christ church he lies buried, a brave and honored man. C. L. SMITH.

The Pansy Bed.

Always locate the pansy bed in an open, airy place, where the wind can have free sweep over it. It is a mistake to plant pansies in the shade. Under that condition the stems become weak and straggling, whereas the plants should be stout and stocky, with the flowers borne on moderately long stems.

Independent Thought.

One self wrought problem will give more vigor than a thousand worked out for us. It is the constant stretching of the mind over large problems, over large models—it is independent thought—that increases mental power.—Success.

A Natural Executor.

"I don't wish to be rude, Banks, but you'd make an excellent executioner."

"Why?"

"Well, you see, you have such a natural aptitude for minding other people's business."

Sensible.

Father—But are you sure he's a sensible young man? Daughter—Oh, yes, papa. Why, he's the only one of our amateur theatrical club who hasn't professional aspirations.—Puck.

There are two powers at which men should never grumble—the weather and their wives.—Disraeli.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY
Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure E. W. Grove's signature is on each box. 25c.

Tickets for the Elks' benefit, March 16, can be obtained at the office of Herbert & Travis. Prices, 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50. 54-h

A. W. SCOTT,
Architect & Insurance
15th year.

Just About 2 Weeks More

And then we remove to our new location, No. 123 Sixth Street.

REMEMBER while we are at our present location you can get shoes away down.

A Few pairs of the Ladies' $3.00 and $3.50 Shoes left at $1.50 a pair.

Get a pair of the $4, $5 and $6 Men's Pants at $2.50 a pair.

THE BIG REMOVAL SALE
Bostonian Shoe House & Haberdasher
Sixth and Washington Streets.

Always Remember the Full Name
Laxative Bromo Quinine
Cures a Cold in One Day, Grip in 2 Days

E. W. Grove on every box 25c

CROOK'S
Everybody's Store

Furniture Carpets
Curtains

CROOK'S
Everybody's Store

You're Money Out If You Miss This Celebration.

We've been selling you or your friends for 21 years, and to show our customers that we have appreciated their business we are going to give every buyer a Discount From Now Until April 1st.

SPRING GOODS ARE IN

New Furniture, New Go-Carts, New Carpets, New Rugs, New Lace Curtains, New Portieres.

Just received a better lot of Ruffled Swiss Curtains than we've ever sold at 35c—But the price will be the same.

Everything marked in Plain Figures.

YOU'R WELCOME TO CREDIT AT

Fifth
and Market

CROOK'S

21 Years in East Liverpool

A TOWER BUILT OF GRAVESTONES

Singular Ornament to a House Which Stands in a Massachusetts Town.

In the town of Sheffield, Mass., is to be found one of the strangest structures in the United States. It is a residence with a large tower at one corner. This tower is built of grave stones of Union soldiers, but it is not as saddening a spectacle as might be presumed. The gate posts to the carriage way leading from the avenue to the house are also constructed of tombstones. The house belongs to E. F. McCormick, of Hudson, N. Y., and is occupied by his parents. The origin is a peculiar one.

There is a marble quarry at Sheffield and a number of years ago when the government was furnishing headstones for soldiers' graves, the owner of the quarry was awarded a contract for a large number of the stones. He got them out, each being numbered consecutively, but no names placed on them. After the work had been completed a United States inspector appeared and condemned the lot. The stones were about three feet long and six inches square. The huge pile of stones was finally bought by Albert Curtis, who used them in the building of a house, which afterward passed into the possession of Mr. McCormick. There is nothing which appears to the sentimental in the appearance of the house, for the numbers on the stones are turned away from the sight.

"I owe my whole life to Burdock Blood Bitters. Scrofulous sores covered my body. I seemed beyond cure. B. B. B. has made me a perfectly well woman." Mrs. Chas. Hutton, Berville, Mich.

Tickets for the Elks' benefit, March 16, can be obtained at the office of Herbert & Travis. Prices, 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50. 54h

Good Team at Sebring.
Sebring will have a strong base ball team in the field the coming summer and most of the old players will be in the game. It will be composed of at least eight players who were in the game last year. The club has not been formally organized but it will be at an early date. The crack battery of last year, Rafferty and Smith, will be retained. Rice, Bumgartner and Jones will be in the outfield. The Sebring team is anxious to open the season with a game with Alliance. A four-club league composed of Salem, Sebring, Alliance and Canton is proposed.

A household necessity—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Heals burns, cuts, wounds of any sort; cures sore throat, catarrh, asthma; never fails.

New tomatoes, strawberries, cucumbers, parsley, lettuce, radishes and green onions, at

SCHMIDT'S CASH GROCERY.

EAST END

RECOVERING FROM YESTERDAY'S DELUGE

DAMAGE TO CITY STREETS ESTIMATED AT $1,000.

Street Department Faces a Serious Situation in Repairing All the Damage.

The East End has recovered in a measure from the deluge of water, but it will be several weeks before the damage can be repaired. The district affected yesterday is for the most part free from water, but streets, alleys, foundations, fences and other property is badly damaged. The street department faces a rather serious situation owing to the great amount of damage done. To repair the torn up streets in a reasonable length of time additional men will be necessary. The loss to the city in the East End will be something near $1,000.

The Sandy Bottom district is still in a bad way. All of the houses were surrounded and many of them badly damaged. The course of the stream that passes through that section had been altered some time ago, but when the rush of water came it took the old channel, causing considerable damage. It is reported that one resident, a kiln drawer, had to swim the torrent to reach his work at the Laughlin pottery early yesterday morning.

The damage to the street-railway trestle at Oakland was repaired yesterday and the cars were operated east to the state line. Owing to the high water between the power house and the Second street switch few of the operatives at the East End potteries reached their work this morning. Hundreds of people walked to and from town today on the railroad tracks.

Below Mulberry street, along Lake run, there was much damage. The houses owned by J. M. Buckle and Dr. M. W. Taylor were most affected. The foundations on the south side of these houses were carried away and the loss will be about $100.

Water from the river has backed up from the mouth of Lake run and covers the bottom land completely. One house, standing near the street car tracks, is partly under water.

WILL PETITION SERVICE BOARD

CITY WILL BE ASKED TO CARE FOR LAKE RUN.

The Property Owners Will Take Action if City Will Do Her Part.

The board of public service will be appealed to by a number of property owners to take the necessary steps to confine Lake run to its banks where it traverses city property. Along Locust alley the stream has been allowed to spread over a wide territory with a result that its natural banks have filled up. An ordinary rain sends the water onto private property, causing damage and annoyance.

The first work necessary to prevent a repetition of yesterday's flood must be done on city property and for this reason the property owners must wait until some word from the service board has been received. At the intersection of Locust alley and Maple street there is no bank or abutment to hold the water and none can be built unless a bridge is constructed for the use of the many teams that use the street. The property owners do not care to take the responsibility of making an abutment on city property and immediate action will be asked by the board.

If the city will do its part of the work it is stated that the Midway Land company and the Freedom Oil company will cooperate in dredging the channel from Maple street west. If this work is done no further damage from the stream need be feared.

FIST FIGHT AT THE FLINT MILL

Robert Kelly And Engineer Hutchinson Disagreed And Fought It Out—Both Before the Mayor.

Because he obeyed the orders of Foreman John Arnold, of the Flint mill, Robert Kelly says that he was the victim of a vicious assault by J. T. Hutchinson, night engineer of the plant. Both men appeared before the mayor and settled with the city for the encounter. Kelly claims that he had taken an electric light globe from the engine room by Arnold's order and that Hutchinson became angered because it was done without his knowledge.

When the men met late yesterday afternoon there was an argument over the matter and both started to find the foreman. On the way Kelly claims that Hutchinson attacked him, striking him a hard blow on the nose with his fist and another one in his mouth. The men then clinched and hard blows were exchanged. Hutchinson's hand, it is alleged, was bitten by Kelly.

REVIVAL MEETINGS CLOSE THIS WEEK

Farewell Sermon By Rev. Douglass Tonight At the Second United Presbyterian Church.

The revival services that have been in progress with wonderful success at the second United Presbyterian church for the past few weeks will probably be brought to a close this week. Rev. E. E. Douglass will preach his farewell sermon tonight and will return to his home in East Palestine. His work during the week was much appreciated by the congregation.

Rev. T. H. Hanna, formerly of Monmouth, Ill., will fill the pulpit at both morning and evening services Sunday. Rev. Mr. Hanna is an able and eloquent minister, a genial and affable gentleman with an earned reputation as one of the most powerful men in the church. He has been moderator of the general assembly and filled other responsible church positions. He will no doubt be greeted by large congregations.

Large Congregation.

In spite of the fact that many of the streets and sidewalks were almost impassable as a result of yesterday's storm, the congregation at the Second Presbyterian revival meeting last night was quite large. The damage around the church, particularly to the sidewalk, had been repaired as far as possible and the meeting was not interfered with on this account.

Baby Badly Hurt.

The three-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Newton Hughes, of the Klondike, was seriously injured this morning by falling from a chair. The child's arm was broken and the body somewhat bruised. Dr. F. F. Davis rendered medical attention.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

Richard Davis, dipper at Laughlins, has been unable to work owing to sickness.

A son was born yesterday morning to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Shinn, of Penn-

R. E. Larkins & Co.

East End's Leading Grocery.

Always ready to serve the people with the finest and choicest lines of everything good to eat. We buy in large quantities, get the lowest cash price and big discounts, thus enabling us to sell you good goods at the lowest prices.

CANNED GOODS Large shipment of all kinds of canned fruits and other choice canned goods.

EGGS! EGGS! EGGS!

We handle nothing but fresh country eggs and our prices are always lower than other stores.

If you buy your groceries of us you will always
"Hurry Back"

R. E. Larkins & Co.

East End's Leading Grocery.

THINK OF IT!

Gas heating stoves selling for less than cost to make room for our spring stock. We have undoubtedly the finest line of Gas Ranges and Cookers in the city. Prices ranging from $5 to $30.

Screen Doors 50c and up. Screen Windows 15c.

Tin and Slate Roofing, Spouting and Repairing our specialty.

Always consult us before looking elsewhere.

EAST END HARDWARE

JAMES L. FULTON, Prop.

C. C. Phone 477. Bell 625-2. Mulberry Street

HAVE YOUR PAPER HANGING

Done by
F. L. Welkert,
The Expert Paper Hanger.
C. C. Phone 561
Virginia Avenue, East End.

Dr. S. W. Hemphill, Physician and Surgeon.

Office and residence: Oakland Switch, East End.

sylvania avenue.

The Excelsior club gave a dance last night in Larkins' hall.

Mrs. James Koerber, of Oakland, who has been very seriously sick, is reported much better.

Richard Fisher, of near Smith's Ferry, well known in this section, is reported dangerously ill.

C. E. McAfee has reported to the police the loss of $7.50 which he says was taken from his trunk.

A Turkish Love Story.
Do the Turks love their women? Yes, both in life and in death. In life, read the love songs and in death the epitaphs to the beloved ones passed to the silent realm.

It is true the Turk goes to the Arab, the Greek, the Italian, for love songs, but he sings these to his lady's eyebrows, and the story he tells of the quality of his love rises to the purity at times of prayer:

One knocked at the beloved's door, and a voice answered from within, "Who is there?"

Then he answered, "It is I."

Then the voice said, "This house will not hold thee and me."

And the door was not opened.

Then went the lover into the desert, where there is nothing but Allah, and fasted and prayed in solitude.

And after a year he returned and knocked again at the door.

And again the voice asked, "Who is there?"

And he said, "It is myself."

And the door was opened to him. Match that in your Vedantas if you can.—Philadelphia Press.

Only Cure for Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma, Old Croup in Brazilian Balm

The East End Tailor G. W. TOMLIN SPRING SUITINGS NOW READY

For Your Inspection

We're ready to make your new spring clothes—ready with a full line of foreign and domestic woolen such as never before. Their equal cannot be found outside of the largest tailoring establishments. We carry nothing but the finest cloths in the latest patterns obtainable.

No agent for send away suits but take your measure and make your suit right here in the East End. Suits from $19.50 to $50.00, Pants $5.00 to $15.00.

MEN UNNEED PANTS

You cannot make a mistake by placing your order with TOMLIN, Tailor. Prices are right.

If you have a suit that does not fit, bring it to me and I will make it fit. Pressing, Cleaning and Repairing done promptly.

Duck Coats, Aprons and White Vests a Specialty

G. W. TOMLIN,

The only Tailor in East End of many years experience.

Give Me a Call. Mulberry St., East End, East Liverpool, O.

ALARMED

We guarantee our Alarm Clocks to be the best on the market, not the old fashioned kind, but the kind that never fail to wake you up. TRY ONE. You can't depend on somebody calling, you are sure to go to sleep again.

$ Watch

The only UNION MADE Dollar Watch sold in East End or East Liverpool. Guaranteed for 1 year. No man can afford to be without one of these watches if he always wants to be on time.

Diamonds

Have just received a lot of those sparkling gems, all sizes. Also a beautiful line of Jewelry just arrived, among which are many elegant designs of Watches, Rings, etc

Optical Work

Remember the eyes are wage earners. Anything short of perfect vision diminishes the earning powers. We perfect your sight. New line of optical goods just arrived

"Get the Habit"
Deal with

J. M. Buckle

The East End Jeweler,
Mulberry St. Bell Phone 369-J

CROOK'S
Everybody's Store

Furniture
Carpets
Curtains

CROOK'S
Everybody's Store

You're Money Out If You Miss This Celebration.

We've been selling you or your friends for 21 years, and to show our customers that we have appreciated their business we are going to give every buyer a Discount From Now Until April 1st.

SPRING GOODS ARE IN

New Furniture, New Go-Carts, New Carpets, New Rugs, New Lace Curtains, New Portieres.

Just received a better lot of Ruffled Swiss Curtains than we've ever sold at 35c—But the price will be the same.

Everything marked in Plain Figures.

YOU'R WELCOME TO CREDIT AT

Fifth
and Market

CROOK'S

21 Years in East Liverpool

A TOWER BUILT

OF GRAVESTONES

Singular Ornament to a House Which Stands in a Massachusetts Town.

In the town of Sheffield, Mass., is to be found one of the strangest structures in the United States. It is a residence with a large tower at one corner. This tower is built of grave stones of Union soldiers, but it is not as saddening a spectacle as might be presumed. The gate posts to the carriage way leading from the avenue to the house are also constructed of tombstones. The house belongs to E. F. McCormick, of Hudson, N. Y., and is occupied by his parents. The origin is a peculiar one.

There is a marble quarry at Sheffield and a number of years ago when the government was furnishing headstones for soldiers' graves, the owner of the quarry was awarded a contract for a large number of the stones. He got them out, each being numbered consecutively, but no names placed on them. After the work had been completed a United States inspector appeared and condemned the lot. The stones were about three feet long and six inches square. The huge pile of stones was finally bought by Albert Curtis, who used them in the building of a house, which afterward passed into the possession of Mr. McCormick. There is nothing which appears to the sentimental in the appearance of the house, for the numbers on the stones are turned away from the sight.

"I owe my whole life to Burdock Blood Bitters. Scrofulous sores covered my body. I seemed beyond cure. B. B. B. has made me a perfectly well woman." Mrs. Chas. Hutton, Berville, Mich.

Tickets for the Elks' benefit, March 16, can be obtained at the office of Herbert & Travis. Prices, 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50. 54-h

Good Team at Sebring.

Sebring will have a strong base ball team in the field the coming summer and most of the old players will be in the game. It will be composed of at least eight players who were in the game last year. The club has not been formally organized but it will be at an early date. The crack battery of last year, Rafferty and Smith, will be retained. Rice, Bumgartner and Jones will be in the outfield. The Sebring team is anxious to open the season with a game with Alliance. A four-club league composed of Salem, Sebring, Alliance and Canton is proposed.

A household necessity—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Heals burns, cuts, wounds of any sort; cures sore throat, catarrh, asthma; never fails.

New tomatoes, strawberries, cucumbers, parsley, lettuce, radishes and green onions, at SCHMIDT'S CASH GROCERY.

EAST END

RECOVERING FROM YESTERDAY'S DELUGE

DAMAGE TO CITY STREETS ESTIMATED AT $1,000.

Street Department Faces a Serious Situation in Repairing All the Damage.

The East End has recovered in a measure from the deluge of water, but it will be several weeks before the damage can be repaired. The district affected yesterday is for the most part free from water, but streets, alleys, foundations, fences and other property is badly damaged. The street department faces a rather serious situation owing to the great amount of damage done. To repair the torn up streets in a reasonable length of time additional men will be necessary. The loss to the city in the East End will be something near $1,000.

The Sandy Bottom district is still in a bad way. All of the houses were surrounded and many of them badly damaged. The course of the stream that passes through that section had been altered some time ago, but when the rush of water came it took the old channel, causing considerable damage. It is reported that one resident, a kiln drawer, had to swim the torrent to reach his work at the Laughlin pottery early yesterday morning.

The damage to the street-railway trestle at Oakland was repaired yesterday and the cars were operated east to the state line. Owing to the high water between the power house and the Second street switch few of the operatives at the East End potteries reached their work this morning. Hundreds of people walked to and from town today on the railroad tracks.

Below Mulberry street, along Lake run, there was much damage. The houses owned by J. M. Buckle and Dr. M. W. Taylor were most affected. The foundations on the south side of these houses were carried away and the loss will be about $100.

Water from the river has backed up from the mouth of Lake run and covers the bottom land completely. One house, standing near the street car tracks, is partly under water.

WILL PETITION SERVICE BOARD

CITY WILL BE ASKED TO CARE FOR LAKE RUN.

The Property Owners Will Take Action if City Will Do Her Part.

The board of public service will be appealed to by a number of property owners to take the necessary steps to confine Lake run to its banks where it traverses city property. Along Locust alley the stream has been allowed to spread over a wide territory with a result that its natural banks have filled up. An ordinary rain sends the water onto private property, causing damage and annoyance.

The first work necessary to prevent a repetition of yesterday's flood must be done on city property and for this reason the property owners must wait until some word from the service board has been received. At the intersection of Locust alley and Maple street there is no bank or abutment to hold the water and none can be built unless a bridge is constructed for the use of the many teams that use the street. The property owners do not care to take the responsibility of making an abutment on city property and immediate action will be asked by the board.

If the city will do its part of the work it is stated that the Midway Land company and the Freedom Oil company will cooperate in dredging the channel from Maple street west. If this work is done no further damage from the stream need be feared.

FIST FIGHT AT THE FLINT MILL

Robert Kelly And Engineer Hutchinson Disagreed And Fought It Out—Both Before the Mayor.

Because he obeyed the orders of Foreman John Arnold, of the Flint mill, Robert Kelly says that he was the victim of a vicious assault by J. T. Hutchinson, night engineer of the plant. Both men appeared before the mayor and settled with the city for the encounter. Kelly claims that he had taken an electric light globe from the engine room by Arnold's order and that Hutchinson became angered because it was done without his knowledge.

When the men met late yesterday afternoon there was an argument over the matter and both started to find the foreman. On the way Kelly claims that Hutchinson attacked him, striking him a hard blow on the nose with his fist and another one in his mouth. The men then clinched and hard blows were exchanged. Hutchinson's hand, it is alleged, was bitten by Kelly.

REVIVAL MEETINGS CLOSE THIS WEEK

Farewell Sermon By Rev. Douglass Tonight At the Second United Presbyterian Church.

The revival services that have been in progress with wonderful success at the second United Presbyterian church for the past few weeks will probably be brought to a close this week. Rev. E. E. Douglass will preach his farewell sermon tonight and will return to his home in East Palestine. His work during the week was much appreciated by the congregation.

Rev. T. H. Hanna, formerly of Monmouth, Ill., will fill the pulpit at both morning and evening services Sunday. Rev. Mr. Hanna is an able and eloquent minister, a genial and affable gentleman with an earned reputation as one of the most powerful men in the church. He has been moderator of the general assembly and filled other responsible church positions. He will no doubt be greeted by large congregations.

Large Congregation.

In spite of the fact that many of the streets and sidewalks were almost impassable as a result of yesterday's storm, the congregation at the Second Presbyterian revival meeting last night was quite large. The damage around the church, particularly to the sidewalk, had been repaired as far as possible and the meeting was not interfered with on this account.

Baby Badly Hurt.

The three-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Newton Hughes, of the Klondike, was seriously injured this morning by falling from a chair. The child's arm was broken and the body somewhat bruised. Dr. F. F. Davis rendered medical attention.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

Richard Davis, dipper at Laughlins, has been unable to work owing to sickness.

A son was born yesterday morning to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Shinn, of Penn-

R. E. Larkins & Co.

East End's Leading Grocery.

Always ready to serve the people with the finest and choicest lines of everything good to eat. We buy in large quantities, get the lowest cash price and big discounts, thus enabling us to sell you good goods at the lowest prices.

CANNED GOODS Large shipment of all kinds of canned fruits and other choice canned goods.

EGGS! EGGS! EGGS!

We handle nothing but fresh country eggs and our prices are always lower than other stores.

If you buy your groceries of us you will always

"Hurry Back"

R. E. Larkins & Co.

East End's Leading Grocery.

THINK OF IT!

Gas heating stoves selling for less than cost to make room for our spring stock. We have undoubtedly the finest line of Gas Ranges and Cookers in the city. Prices ranging from $5 to $30.

Screen Doors 50c and up. Screen Windows 15c.

Tin and Slate Roofing. Spouting and Repairing our specialty.

Always consult us before looking elsewhere.

EAST END HARDWARE

JAMES L. FULTON, Prop.

C. C. Phone 477. Bell 625-2. Mulberry Street

HAVE YOUR PAPER HANGING Done by F. L. Welkert, The Expert Paper Hanger. C. C. Phone 581 Virginia Avenue, East End.

Dr. S.W. Hemphill,

Physician and Surgeon.

Office and residence: Oakland Switch, East End.

sylvania avenue.

The Excelsior club gave a dance last night in Larkins' hall.

Mrs. James Koerber, of Oakland, who has been very seriously sick, is reported much better.

Richard Fisher, of near Smith's Ferry, well known in this section, is reported dangerously ill.

C. E. McAfee has reported to the police the loss of $7.50 which he says was taken from his trunk.

A Turkish Love Story. Do the Turks love their women? Yes, both in life and in death. In life, read the love songs and in death the epitaphs to the beloved ones passed to the silent realm.

It is true the Turk goes to the Arabic, the Greek, the Italian, for love songs, but he sings these to his lady's eyebrows, and the story he tells of the quality of his love rises to the purity at times of prayer:

One knocked at the beloved's door, and a voice answered from within, "Who is there?"

Then he answered, "It is I."

Then the voice said, "This house will not hold thee and me."

And the door was not opened.

Then went the lover into the desert, where there is nothing but Allah, and fasted and prayed in solitude.

And after a year he returned and knocked again at the door.

And again the voice asked, "Who is there?"

And he said, "It is myself."

And the door was opened to him.

Match that in your Vedantia if you can.—Philadelphia Press.

Only Cure for Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma, Old Croup in Brazilian Balm

The East End Tailor G. W. TOMLIN

SPRING SUITINGS NOW READY

For Your Inspection

We're ready to make your new spring clothes—ready with a full line of foreign and domestic woolen such as never before. Their equal cannot be found outside of the largest tailoring establishments. We carry nothing but the finest cloths in the latest patterns obtainable.

No agent for send away suits but take your measure and make your suit right here in the East End. Suits from $19.50 to $50.00, Pants $5.00 to $15.00.

MEN UNNEED PANTS

You cannot make a mistake by placing your order with TOMLIN, Tailor. Prices are right.

If you have a suit that does not fit, bring it to me and I will make it fit. Pressing, Cleaning and Repairing done promptly.

Duck Coats, Aprons and White Vests a Specialty

G. W. TOMLIN,

The only Tailor in East End of many years experience.

Give Me a Call. Mulberry St., East End, East Liverpool, O.

ALARMED

We guarantee our Alarm Clocks to be the best on the market, not the old fashioned kind, but the kind that never fail to wake you up. TRY ONE. You can't depend on somebody calling, you are sure to go to sleep again.

$ Watch

Diamonds

Optical Work

"Get the Habit" Deal with

The only UNION MADE Dollar Watch sold in East End or East Liverpool. Guaranteed for 1 year. No man can afford to be without one of these watches if he always wants to be on time.

Have just received a lot of those sparkling gems, all sizes. Also a beautiful line of Jewelry just arrived, among which are many elegant designs of Watches, Rings, etc.

Remember the eyes are wage earners. Anything short of perfect vision diminishes the earning powers. We perfect your sight. New line of optical goods just arrived.

J. M. Buckle

The East End Jeweler,
Mulberry St. Bell Phone 369-J

Diamond THE SLEEPLESS SHOE CO. Diamond

The News Review

Daily Except Sunday.

BRUSH BROS. PROP'S.

LOUIS H. BRUSH, Publisher

The News Review, Daily,
Established 1884. By mail, one year,
when paid in advance, $3.00; six months, 1.50; three months, 75c; by carrier, $5.00;
ten cents per week.

The Saturday Review, Weekly,
Established 1870. By mail, one year,
$1.00 in advance; six months, 50 cents;
three months, 25 cents.

Official Papers of the City of East Liverpool and Colum-biana County.

Office 196 Washington Street.

Call Telephone.

Business Office .....No. 122
Editorial Room .....No. 122
Columbiana County Telephone.

Business Office .....No. 122
Editorial Room .....No. 122

NEW YORK OFFICE—528 Temple Court
CHICAGO OFFICE—1306 Tribune Bldg.
CHARLES S. PATTESON,
Manager of Foreign Advertising.

UNCHALLENGED STATEMENT.

Circulation larger than that of the two other East Liverpool daily papers combined.

CIRCULATION STATEMENT.

The sworn paid circulation of the EVENING NEWS REVIEW for the year 1903 was 1,015,953.

Average for each issue, 3,309.

The following are the figures for the month of February, 1904:

February 1	3,817
February 2	3,807
February 3	3,805
February 4	3,789
February 5	3,805
February 6	3,791
February 7	SUNDAY.
February 8	3,805
February 9	3,803
February 10	3,804
February 11	3,883
February 12	3,805
February 13	3,813
February 14	SUNDAY.
February 15	3,815
February 16	3,809
February 17	3,814
February 18	3,816
February 19	3,804
February 20	3,816
February 21	SUNDAY.
February 22	3,814
February 23	3,815
February 24	3,818
February 25	3,848
February 26	3,819
February 27	SUNDAY.
February 28	3,825
February 29	3,922

TOTAL .....95,462
AVERAGE .....3,818

Columbiana County, State of Ohio, ss.
I, William L. Betts, manager of circulation of the Evening News Review, swear that the above is true.

WILLIAM L. BETTS.
Sworn to and subscribed to in my presence this 1st day of March, 1904.
J. S. HILBERT,
Notary Public.

Subscribers who fail to receive their papers promptly and regularly should at once notify the News Review office.
Call by either telephone. All papers, even in the most distant parts of the city, should be delivered before 6 p. m.

TRADE UNION COUNCIL
EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO

FRIDAY, MARCH 4, 1904.

TWELVE PAGES.

Neatness Does Count

"Some one has said that clothes does not make the man," but neat dress has gotten many a person a good position. This same thing holds good when applied to the stationery you use, neat, stylish, up-to-date letter paper shows three good qualities of the writer, neatness, stylishness and good taste. Our line of stationery both in box paper and tablets has been chosen with the greatest of care and contains many of the latest tints and styles, and the price is less than is often asked for the out of date stationery.

You might as well be in style when it costs no more.

Call and see our stock of stationery.

Craig's Drug Store,

Southwest Cor. Market and W.
Fifth Streets.

Foutts or Stevenson Block.

his bumps, send him buggy riding over some of the rural roads just now.

"Houses were swept away and drowned" at Irondale, according to the Cherry Picker. Well, what next?

The cold weather helped to check the flood or there would have been still greater damage to record.

The rain clerk has done his best toward cleaning the streets. Now let the city take a hand.

The groundhog is capable of more mischief yet.

OBITUARY

Andrew Shaw.

Andrew Shaw, aged 71 years, died last evening at 7:30 o'clock, at his home at 285 College street, after a week's illness of pneumonia. He was a potter by trade and since 1882 had been employed at the K. T. & K. plant. He was born in Boness, Scotland, and came to America in May, 1881. His wife and five children survive. They are James, David C., Miss Jean and Miss Martha, of this city, and Mrs. James McGillivray, of Chicago.
Funeral services will be private and will be held from the late home tomorrow afternoon, Rev. J. H. Cooper officiating. Interment will be made in Riverview cemetery.

B. Y. Brown.

Lisbon, March 4.—(Special).—B. Y.
Brown, a well known Wayne township farmer, ill for some time with heart trouble, died this morning. He was 46 years old and had lived all his life in this vicinity. He is survived by his wife, nee Miss Nettie Ewing, and four children, Helen, Evalyn, Wilbur and Clifford. Funeral services will be held at the house next Monday. Rev.
J. T. Anderson, Presbyterian, will officiate.

Ervin Edwards.

Lisbon, March 4.—(Special).—Word has been received here of the death of Ervin Edwards, a veteran of the civil war, which occurred Tuesday in the Soldier's Home at Dayton. He was 79 years old and was received at the home six years ago from Lisbon. He was a coal miner and located here after the war.

Edward Whitacre.

Lisbon, March 4.—(Special).—Edward Whitacre, who has been low with consumption for some time, died at his home here at noon today. He was upward of 30 years old and is survived by his wife and two small children.

Boys' lace shoes, all sizes 89c. at FRANK, SHUMAKER & CO.

LIQUOR MEN ARE HOPEFUL

Think They May Defeat the Ward Local Option
Bill.

J. C. WALSH HAS RETURNED

J. C. Walsh, who represented the liquor men of this section of the state at the hearing before the temperance committee of the state legislature on the proposed local ward option measure now pending, has returned from Columbus this morning and expresses himself as well pleased with the result.

It had been announced that the liquor dealers of the state would be heard on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, and strong arguments against the measure were made before the committee and the house itself. Mr. Walsh was seen by a reporter this morning and he said:
"Every section of the state was well represented. All of the state officers of the liquor league were present, and the arguments made were logical and to the point. I was cordially treated by our representative, Hon. D. W.

Crist, who is a prominent member of the committee before which we appeared. He is a thorough gentleman, and while not as well posted on the matters at issue as many others, is willing at all times to consider both sides, and I feel certain his conclusions will be made only after honest deliberation.

"We made such a good impression that I am in every way satisfied with the prospects for defeating the bill when it comes up. The hotel proprietors will be given a hearing next week, and the outcome of this conference will be a telling point in our favor."

20 lbs granulated sugar, $1; one dozen 3 lb cans tomatoes for $1; one dozen 3 lb cans baked beans with tomato sauce, $1; one dozen 3 lb cans syrup for $1; one dozen 3 lb cans pumpkin, $1; one dozen 3 lb cans kraut, $1.

SCHMIDT'S CASH GROCERY.

Tickets for the Elks' benefit, March 16, can be obtained at the office of Herbert & Travis. Prices, 50c, 75c,
$1.00 and $1.50.

Two Styles of Women's $2.50 Shoes Go On Sale Tomorrow Morning at $2.18

They have Vici Kid Uppers, Patent Leather Tips, medium high heels, medium round toes, single and double soles.

Every size in both styles. Not a thing wrong with the shoes—just a little extra inducement for your patronage.

Bendheim's

IN THE DIAMOND.

Special Sale of Unframed Pictures

Friday, Saturday, Monday and Tuesday.

Pictures are in our East window and will be sold from there.

The popular things are

- Art Sprays
- XIX Century Girls
- Actresses and Their Flowers
- XX Century Girls

20 Cents
apiece

There are many others which will interest you. Among them a fine one of Pope Pius X., photos of Authors and Musicians, and a new line of Yard Pictures. Be sure to see the ## Yard of Yawns.

HARD'S

The Big Store.

Wholesale and Retail.

"There is no reason to believe that Gen. Charles Dick, who has been elected to represent Ohio in the senate of the United States, will not discharge the duties of his office as honestly and intelligently as any of the long list of distinguished Ohioans who have preceded him." Thus says the Cleveland Press, a newspaper which can scarcely be accused of Republican leanings.
The Press further makes this sensible suggestion: "Until Gen. Dick demonstrates his unworthiness for the high office to which he has been elevated, even the hostile opposition press ought to be loyal enough to Ohio and fair enough to keep its claws off her new senator."

The Belmont county coroner's jury has exonerated the jailer at the county jail from responsibility for the re-

The Sowajistro Wolwich Krakussow Pod Imenicon Tadausha Kosh-kusko company, of Youngstown, for sick and accident benefits, has been incorporated at Columbus. As long as a fellow is able to pronounce its name
he is not in need of sick benefits.

One year from today a president of the United States will be inaugurated.
His name will be Theodore Roosevelt, if that gentleman lives, and he is one of the ablest men who ever held the office.

Cleveland may repeat his declaration that he is not a candidate so often that people will cease to believe him.
Protesting too much inspires suspicion.

The Cleveland doctors call loudly for filtration of drinking water, though they know it will injure their business
if the city gets it.

"Twelve hours ahead with the news"
did not even mention that it was raining when the worst flood of the year was upon us!

If you want to see your enemy get

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS TODAY.

Assignee's sale of the Reich-Cher-toff company's stock.

Wm. Erlanger & Co., the story of new spring styles.

The Bostonian Shoe House and Haberdasher, a few bargains before we move.

G. W. Tomlin, spring suitings now ready for inspection.

East End Hardware Co., gas heating stoves, screen doors, windows, etc.

J. M. Buckle, watches, diamonds,
optical work.

Bendheim's, two styles of women's shoes.

The Leader, spring's brightest fancies.

The Star Bargain Store, new spring suits, jackets, dress goods, etc.

R. E. Larkins & Co., finest and choicest line of good things to eat.

The Yates Novelty Store, house furnishings.

Sloan's, spring suits, wraps, walking skirts, etc.

The Sleepless Shoe Co., "take five."

The Surprise Clothing House, "you'r next."

M. W. Taylor, dangerous to delay.
Newman's Bazaar, mantles.

R. W. Sample & Co., some good shoes left.

FRIENDS AND VISITORS

J. C. Walsh returned this morning from a trip to Columbus.

Mrs. Rachel Hill, of this city, is a guest at the home of relatives in Pittsburg.

William Hackworth, of Fourth street, who has been ill for several days, is recovering.

Mrs. Edward Dunlap, who has been visiting relatives at Carrollton, has returned to this city.

Mrs. T. Manion, who has been visiting relatives at Toronto, has returned to the city, accompanied by her daughter.

Hon. E. W. Hill returned from Columbus today, having spent the week in the capital, looking after legislative matters.

J. B. Appell, who has been employed by the Bell Telephone company in this city, has resigned and will work for a Pittsburg firm.

J. W. Duncan, of West Market street, who has been suffering from a severe attack of grip, was able to return to work yesterday.

Mrs. Robert Rutledge, who has been at the bedside of her father, Jacob Maple, at Carrollton, returned to her home in this city a few days ago.
When she arrived here she was handed a message, stating that her parent had suffered a relapse, and she was compelled to return immediately.

President T. J. Duffy, of the N. B. of O. P., returned yesterday afternoon from a visit to Steubenville. President Duffy has been on a tour during the past week. He visited Sebring, Steubenville and several other points paying fraternal visits to the locals and making speeches. He reports the locals visited in excellent condition.

FOR SALE.

We have three nice five room houses in East End we will sell cheap if sold at once. Inquire of the J. T.
Smith Lumber Co., J. T. Smith or J.
M. Shive.

Tickets for the Elks' benefit, March 16, can be obtained at the office of Herbert & Travis. Prices, 50c, 75c,
$1.00 and $1.50.

Glass Ware

Our line of Glass Ware comprises all the newest and latest designs and to look at it you could not tell it from genuine Cut Glass. Call and look over this beautiful line.
We carry the largest stock of glass ware in the city.

See our Window Display.

NEWMAN'S BAZAAR,

"The Store That Never Disappoints."

HOUSEHOLD GOODS

If it is anything in the House Furnishing line you can be sure of getting what you want at

The Yates Nov- elty Store.

IN THE DIAMOND.

Quality and Price

Absolute purity and highest quality in all drug store goods with lowest possible prices always—is a combination in force at this store that makes it well worth while going out of your way to come here. Quality is made of chief importance. It is never sacrificed. After that comes price. Our goods are priced at a very close margin of profit. On equally high quality of goods we do not believe there are any lower prices anywhere else.

G. G. Anderson

Druggist.
In the Diamond.
"Only the Best"

Take Five. Sit Down and Think About It.

Do you think it possible, for the dealer who does a credit business, to sell shoes as cheap as we do? We can afford to pay about 10c a pair more for $2 shoes, and possibly 25c on the $3 and $3.50 grades, and a little more on the $4 and $5 grades.

We make a specialty of "Owl Brand" shoes for ladies, and are putting every possible cent into each grade of this leading line. They are being made so attractive and durable that if you once wear a pair you will remember them a long while and doubtless want another of the same make.

What you won't find in "Owl Brand" shoes.

- You won't find any cut off vamps.
- You won't find any cheap sole leather.
- You won't find any shoddy counters.
- You won't find any fault with the wear.
- You won't find any fault with the fit.
- You won't find any fault with the price.
- You won't find any shoes like them for the price

Prices from $2.00 to $4.00

Diamond THE SLEEPLESS SHOE CO. Diamond

WELLSVILLE

THE DAMAGE DONE AMOUNTS TO THOUSANDS

WEST END SUFFERED GREATLY FROM INUNDATION.

Mayor's Timely Warning Enabled Many to Take Precautions And Avoid Loss.

It is estimated that the damage caused by the heavy rain of Wednesday evening to property in the West End amounts to several thousand dollars, exclusive of about $1,500 damage which resulted at the Vulcan Brick company works to green fire bricks in the kiln.

The warning issued by Mayor Fogo yesterday afternoon to the residents of Wellsville through the News Review was heeded by hundreds of people. Soon after this newspaper was delivered in Wellsville last night people in the lowlands commenced to remove their effects from the first floors of their homes to upper floors, and because of this action were able to save much damage that otherwise would have resulted.

Street workmen were hastened to the West End section yesterday afternoon, where manholes of the storm sewer and sanitary sewers were taken up and the water from McQueen's run that flooded that section of the city was allowed to flow into the Ohio river. Thin mud was left on the streets and pavements after the water had been drained off, to the depth of from four to eight inches. This mud was almost a liquid and it will be several weeks before it can be done away with.

It is claimed that no matter how many sewers there had been in the West End, they would have been insufficient to carry off the water that poured out of McQueen's run Wednesday evening. Residents of that section of the city say they never knew as run on such a rampage.

Mayor Fogo, accompanied by Chief Engineer, visited the flooded section of the city and gave orders to the policemen to render all possible aid to those whose homes were surrounded by water.

The East Liverpool railway was only able to operate cars to Twelfth street yesterday afternoon, this being on account of so much mud and rubbish being washed on the tracks by the water. A force of men were put to work, but were unable to have the tracks cleaned until late last evening.

Will Become a Marine Engineer.

Charles Morgan, son of Conductor C. Morgan, of the street railway, has left for New Orleans where he proposes to complete his ride as a marine engineer. Morgan is at New Orleans working at his trade when the Boer war broke out, and he went to England and enlisted in the English army. He served one year. He has been in Wellsville since the close of the war.

McLain Hurt Most.

George McLain, who was injured in a gas explosion at the home of Samuel Davis, on Broadway, Wednesday night, was much improved today. Davis went in the cellar of his home to repair a hydrant, and discovered a gas leak. He held a lighted torch in his hand. McLain was looking at Davis' work, and received burns more severe than did Davis.

Men's rubbers, late style and all sizes for 25c per pair, at FRANK, SHUMAKER & CO. 54-h

New patterns in Spring Suitings at Laufenburger's, Market street. 54-h

Home news complete in this paper.

Special Prices on Our Monogram Stationery

Two Quires of Paper Embossed to order and two packs of envelopes (not stamped) boxed, for

One Dollar

Numerous styles to select from.

Your name engraved on plate and 50 visiting cards for

Seventy-Five Cents

New Styles, New Prices. Come and examine.

Above prices good for 30 days.

HODSON'S
DRUG STORE,
5th and Broadway.

THOUSANDS OF MEN ARE RENDERED IDLE

FLOOD RESULTED IN STOPPING MANY INDUSTRIES.

The Losses in Pittsburg and Vicinity Will Be Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars.

Pittsburg, March 5.—(Special).—Thousands of workmen in mills and factories were thrown out of employment by the flood. Work was started this morning on the task of repairing damage caused by the high water and it is expected that a majority of the mills will be started early in the week.

The Bryant pumping station on the Pittsburg & Western railroad, south of Wildwood, was washed away by the high waters. The boiler house was wrecked and the boilers were carried several miles down the stream. Thousands of workmen are idle in the Turtle creek valley. The Westinghouse electrical works are closed down and will remain so for several days.

Nearly all of the low lying territory in the upper valleys and down the Ohio, were damaged to a much greater extent, it is estimated, than during the flood of January. It is impossible to estimate the loss, but conservative figures place the sum at several hundred thousands of dollars.

THREE MEN RECEIVE A DEATH SENTENCE

Pittsburg Murderers Hear Their Fate as Pronounced By the Judge With Calmness.

Pittsburg, March 4.—(Special).—In criminal court today three men were sentenced to be hanged. They were Frank Oursley, John Johnson and Reno Dardia. The two former were convicted of murdering Grocer James Donally on December 31, 1903, and the latter, an Italian, killed Joseph St. Clair, a Scotchman, at Imperial, last October.

All heard their fate with calmness, Johnson smiling and thanking the court as he was led back to jail.

CHAPMAN BILL PASSES SENATE

Measure Abolishing Spring Elections Approved By the Upper House.

Columbus, March 4.—The senate yesterday by a strict party vote passed the Ricketts resolution providing that the matter of biennial elections, by an amendment to the state constitution, be submitted to a popular vote.

The Chapman bill was passed by a vote of 29 to 9. The Democrats cast their four votes against the measure. The Ricketts resolution and the Chapman bill both caused a great deal of heated debate.

RUSSIAN EDITOR FEELING BETTER

Are Less Inclined to Think Uncle Sam the Enemy of the Czar.

St. Petersburg, March 5.—(Special).—The Russian press hails with satisfaction the American dispatches sent out within the last few days, indicating a change in the disposition of the government of the United States and its people toward Russia.

Novoe Vremya says: "If the fog that has been hanging over Washington is dispelled and good feelings return, we shall be the first to welcome them."

LOSS OF LIFE HEAVY FROM AN EARTHQUAKE

A Seismic Convulsion in Peru Caused an Incalculable Amount of Damage.

Lima, Peru, March 4.—(Special).—An earthquake of intense severity which did incalculable damage occurred here at 5:20 this morning. Nothing like it has been felt in this section for 30 years.

Loss of life was heavy.

ALL OF RUSSIA'S ARMY MAY BE MOBILIZED

An Imperial Order is Issued Summoning All Reserves Into Training.

St. Petersburg, March 4.—(Special).—An imperial order has been issued summoning all the reserves of European Russia for a six weeks' course of training.

This is interpreted as indicating that everything is being made ready for the mobilization of the entire Russian army, if found necessary.

If you are thinking of building, get the J. T. Smith Lumber company to give you a price and save money. J. T. Smith, president; J. M. Shive, secretary and treasurer. 54-h

SOCIAL EVENTS

Supper at the Bazaar.

Mrs. Frank Conkle, Mrs. George Miller and Mrs. P. Saint have been appointed as a committee representing the supper department of the coming hospital bazaar, for the purpose of soliciting in the country districts, donations of edibles for the suppers which will be given in connection with the bazaar. The ladies will solicit such articles as chickens, butter, hams, potatoes, and eggs. It is probable that the country people as well as the city folk will be generous with their donations, since every one realizes that the hospital is a much needed institution.

Lynch-Tracy.

Miss Lenora Lynch and Edward Tracy were married yesterday afternoon by Squire H. P. McCarron. The couple were former residents of Ashland, Ky., and have lived here only a short time. Mr. Tracy is a painter and paper hanger.

To Entertain Her Class.

Mrs. S. J. Cripps will entertain her Sunday school class of the First M. E. church this evening at her home on Jackson street. There are 19 boys in the class who anticipate with pleasure the evening with game and music.

Wedded at Lisbon.

Lisbon, March 4.—(Special).—Harvey D. Russell, of Enon Valley, Pa., and Miss Blanche Augustine, of East Palestine, were married in the probate court room today by Rev. J. S. Seccrest.

For the Parsonage Fund.

The ladies of the First Presbyterian church are working assiduously in order to have a very fine bread and

SLOAN'S

Spring Suits

Our spring assortment of women's tailored suits is now complete. We are not going to print a word description of them, but you'll find they comprise the best features that will be seen in the latest tailored-to-order models. We've chosen carefully and made sure that the material, the style, the cut and the making were right in every suit. They are moderately priced. Not boasting, they are the best values we ever had. Prices range from $8.00 to $25.00.

Spring Wraps

Covert and silk jackets, in the smart styles, with capes and military effects and corset fitting, prices, $5.00, $7.50, $8.00 and $10.00.

SPECIAL—To open the season on jackets we offer Saturday and Monday our $5.00 special covert jacket with shoulder capes, for $4.50. We have not forgotten the children. Nice, new, nobby coats in silk and mohair from $3.98 up.

Walking Skirts

Spring style skirts, exceedingly stylish, nice light weight materials and heavy weights if you want them tailored so well they are sure to hold their shape. Can't describe them all but will ask you to come and see them yourself. We will guarantee the prices are awfully interesting, from $3.50 to $7.00.

SPECIAL—For Saturday and Monday, a good skirt in brown and gray mixtures, self trimmed with straps and buttons, a winner at our regular price of $3.50, but for these two days, only $2.90.

New Fixings

Lace collars from 50c to $1.00. Lace stocks, 25c and 50c. Collar and cuff sets, 25c and 50c. Wrist bags, 50c, $1.00 and $1.50. Waist sets, stock pins, belts, belt buckles and belt sets from 10c to $1.00.

The Women's Store

SLOAN'S

Sixth Street.

cake sale in the basement of the church tomorrow afternoon. The indications are that the sale will be largely patronized, as many donations will be given. It is requested that all donations be given before 2 p. m. tomorrow. The proceeds go toward purchasing the parsonage.

Licensed to Marry.
Lisbon, March 4.—(Special).—A marriage license was issued today to Edward Tracy and Lenora Lynch, of East Liverpool.

French country eggs, 28c per dozen; fresh country butter, creamery butter and butterine.

SCHMIDT'S CASH GROCERY. 54-h

Potatoes, per bushel, $1.10; fancy hams, per lb, 14c; pork loins, 2 lbs for 25c; country sausage, 2 lbs for 25c; large sweet oranges, two dozen for 25c.

SCHMIDT'S CASH GROCERY. 54-h

COAL LANDS SOLD
Transfer of Large Tracts Near Irondale—The Price Paid Is $65,000.

Steuensville, March 4.—The largest deal made in the county for many years was recorded this week when F. L. Head et al sold for $65,000 land in Saline township, in the northern part of the county, a great part of the land will be used to develop coal. The transfer was made to the Irondale Coal company and included two tracts, one of 395 and one of 166 acres.

Tickets for the Elks' benefit, March 16, can be obtained at the office of Herbert & Travis. Prices, 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50. 54-h

Tickets for the Jewell concert March 8th now on sale at Reed's drug store. Prices, 75 cents and $1.

Rates $2.00 per Day
Rates $2.50 per Day with Bath
HOTEL METROPOLE
E. S. WOOLWEAVER, Prop.
WELLSVILLE, O.

ASSIGNEE'S SALE

Owing to the assignment of The Reich-Chertoff Co., successors to House & Hodgson at 162 and 164 6th Street, the entire stock of

Dry Goods, Clothing, Furnishings, Boots and Shoes

must be sold at once for the benefit of its creditors.

$10,000 STOCK

Which enables us to offer values challenging anything like competition. Saturday morning at 10 o'clock we place on sale the entire stock at 40 to 50 per cent off. Sale will continue until every article is sold.

<h2>500</h2> Pairs of Men's Dress and Working Shoes, vic kid and calf leather, formerly sold at $2.50, will go at this sale for.... $1.00	<h2>1,000</h2> Pairs Ladies' Lace and Button Shoes all leathers, all sizes, formerly sold at $3.99 and $2.50, remember these are all high grade shoes. $3 ones $1.75 $3.50 ones $2.25	<h2>250</h2> Pairs Boys' Youths' and Misses' Shoes all sizes, all leathers, will be sold at 40 per cent less than regular price.	<h2>550</h2> Pairs of Men's Patent Colt and Patent Leather Dress Shoes, best makes, formerly sold at $4.50 and $5.00 sale price $2.25 and $2.75	<h2>500</h2> Pairs of Ladies' Shoes, all leathers, styles and sizes, formerly sold at $2.99 and $2.50, sale price $1.25	<h2>800</h2> Pairs of Ladies' Men's and Children's Slippers. $2.50 ones $1.25 $1.00 ones 50c 2.50ones $1.00 75c ones 38c 1.50 ones 75c 50c ones 25c
---	--	---	---	--	--

Sale Commences Saturday, March 5th, at 10 a. m.

GREATEST BARGAINS EVER OFFERED

The Reich-Chertoff Co. Successors to House & Hodgson

Remember the place 162 and 164 6th Street.

NEAR THE DIAMOND. . . . . East Liverpool, Ohio.

WELLSVILLE*THE DAMAGE DONE AMOUNTS TO THOUSANDS

WEST END SUFFERED GREATLY FROM INUNDATION.

Mayor's Timely Warning Enabled Many to Take Precautions And Avoid Loss.

It is estimated that the damage caused by the heavy rain of Wednesday evening to property in the West End amounts to several thousand dollars, exclusive of about $1,500 damage which resulted at the Vulcan Brick company works to green fire bricks in the kiln.

The warning issued by Mayor Fogo yesterday afternoon to the residents of Wellsville through the News Review was heeded by hundreds of people. Soon after this newspaper was delivered in Wellsville last night people in the lowlands commenced to remove their effects from the first floors of their homes to upper floors, and because of this action were able to save much damage that otherwise would have resulted.

Street workmen were hastened to the West End section yesterday afternoon, where manholes of the storm water and sanitary sewers were taken up and the water from McQueen's run that flooded that section of the city was allowed to flow into the Ohio river. Thin mud was left on the streets and pavements after the water had been drained off, to the depth of from four to eight inches. This mud is almost a liquid and it will be several weeks before it can be done away with.

It is claimed that no matter how many sewers there had been in the West End, they would have been insufficient to carry off the water that poured out of McQueen's run Wednesday evening. Residents of that section of the city say they never knew the run on such a rampage.

Mayor Fogo, accompanied by Chief Engineer, visited the flooded section of the city and gave orders to the policemen to render all possible aid to those whose homes were surrounded by water.

The East Liverpool railway was only able to operate cars to Twentieth street yesterday afternoon, this being on account of so much mud and rubbish being washed on the tracks by the water. A force of men were put to work, but were unable to have the tracks cleaned until late last evening.

Will Become a Marine Engineer.

Charles Morgan, son of Conductor C. Morgan, of the street railway night car, has left for New Orleans where he proposes to complete his ride as a marine engineer. Morgan is at New Orleans working at his trade when the Boer war broke out. He went to England and enlisted in the English army. He served one year. He has been in Wellsville since the close of the war.

McLain Hurt Most.

George McLain, who was injured in a gas explosion at the home of Samuel Davis, on Broadway, Wednesday night, was much improved today. Davis went in the cellar of his home to repair a hydrant, and discovered a gas leak. He held a lighted torch in his hand. McLain was looking at Davis' work, and received burns more severe than did Davis.

Men's rubbers, late style and all sizes for 25c per pair, at

FRANK, SHUMAKER &amp; CO. 54-h

New patterns in Spring Suitings at Laufenburger's, Market street. 54-h

Home news complete in this paper.*Special Prices on Our*Monogram Stationery

Two Quires of Paper Embossed to order and two packs of envelopes (not stamped) boxed, for

One Dollar

Numerous styles to select from.

Your name engraved on plate and 50 visiting cards for

Seventy-Five Cents

New Styles, New Prices. Come and examine.

Above prices good for 30 days.

HODSON'S*DRUG STORE,

5th and Broadway.

THOUSANDS OF MEN ARE RENDERED IDLE

FLOOD RESULTED IN STOPPING MANY INDUSTRIES.

The Losses in Pittsburgh and Vicinity Will Be Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars.

Pittsburg, March 5.—(Special.)—Thousands of workmen in mills and factories were thrown out of employment by the flood. Work was started this morning on the task of repairing damage caused by the high water and it is expected that a majority of the mills will be started early in the week.

The Bryant pumping station on the Pittsburg & Western railroad, south of Wildwood, was washed away by the high waters. The boiler house was wrecked and the boilers were carried several miles down the stream. Thousands of workmen are idle in the Turtle creek valley. The Westinghouse electrical works are closed down and will remain so for several days.

Nearly all of the low lying territory in the upper valleys and down the Ohio, were damaged to a much greater extent, it is estimated, than during the flood of January. It is impossible to estimate the loss, but conservative figures place the sum at several hundred thousands of dollars.

THREE MEN RECEIVE A DEATH SENTENCE

Pittsburg Murderers Hear Their Fate as Pronounced By the Judge With Calmness.

Pittsburg, March 4.—(Special.)—In criminal court today three men were sentenced to be hanged. They were Frank Ouresley, John Johnson and Reno Dardia. The two former were convicted of murdering Grocer James Donally on December 31, 1903, and the latter, an Italian, killed Joseph St. Clair, a Scotchman, at Imperial, last October.

All heard their fate with calmness, Johnson smiling and thanking the court as he was led back to jail.

CHAPMAN BILL PASSES SENATE

Measure Abolishing Spring Elections Approved By the Upper House.

Columbus, March 4.—The senate yesterday by a strict party vote passed the Ricketts resolution providing that the matter of biennial elections, by an amendment to the state constitution, be submitted to a popular vote.

The Chapman bill was passed by a vote of 29 to 9. The Democrats cast their four votes against the measure. The Ricketts resolution and the Chapman bill both caused a great deal of heated debate.

RUSSIAN EDITOR FEELING BETTER

Are Less Inclined to Think Uncle Sam the Enemy of the Czar.

St. Petersburg, March 5.—(Special.)—The Russian press hails with satisfaction the American dispatches sent out within the last few days, indicating a change in the disposition of the government of the United States and its people toward Russia.

Novoe Vremya says: "If the fog that has been hanging over Washington is dispelled and good feelings return, we shall be the first to welcome them."

LOSS OF LIFE HEAVY FROM AN EARTHQUAKE

A Seismic Convulsion in Peru Caused an Incalculable Amount of Damage.

Lima, Peru, March 4.—(Special.)—An earthquake of intense severity which did incalculable damage occurred here at 5:20 this morning. Nothing like it has been felt in this section for 30 years.

Loss of life was heavy.

ALL OF RUSSIA'S ARMY MAY BE MOBILIZED

An Imperial Order Is Issued Summoning All Reserves Into Training.

St. Petersburg, March 4.—(Special.)—An imperial order has been issued summoning all the reserves of European Russia for a six weeks' course of training.

This is interpreted as indicating that everything is being made ready for the mobilization of the entire Russian army, if found necessary.

If you are thinking of building, get the J. T. Smith Lumber company to give you a price and save money. J. T. Smith, president; J. M. Shive, secretary and treasurer. 54-h

SOCIAL EVENTS

Supper at the Bazaar.

Mrs. Frank Conkle, Mrs. George Miller and Mrs. P. Saint have been appointed as a committee representing the supper department of the coming hospital bazaar, for the purpose of soliciting in the country districts, donations of edibles for the suppers which will be given in connection with the bazaar. The ladies will solicit such articles as chickens, butter, hams, potatoes, and eggs. It is probable that the country people as well as the city folk will be generous with their donations, since every one realizes that the hospital is a much needed institution.

Lynch-Tracy.

Miss Lenora Lynch and Edward Tracy were married yesterday afternoon by Squire H. P. McCarron. The couple were former residents of Ashland, Ky., and have lived here only a short time. Mr. Tracy is a painter and paper hanger.

To Entertain Her Class.

Mrs. S. J. Cripps will entertain her Sunday school class of the First M. E. church this evening at her home on Jackson street. There are 19 boys in the class who anticipate with pleasure the evening with game and music.

Wedded at Lisbon.

Lisbon, March 4.—(Special.)—Harvey D. Russell, of Enon Valley, Pa., and Miss Blanche Augustine, of East Palestine, were married in the probate court room today by Rev. J. S. Sechrist.

For the Parsonage Fund.

The ladies of the First Presbyterian church are working assiduously in order to have a very fine bread and

SLOAN'S

Spring Suits

Our spring assortment of women's tailored suits is now complete. We are not going to print a word description of them, but you'll find they comprise the best features that will be seen in the latest tailored-to-order models. We've chosen carefully and made sure that the material, the style, the cut and the making were right in every suit. They are moderately priced. Not boasting, they are the best values we ever had. Prices range from $8.00 to $25.00.

Spring Wraps

Covert and silk jackets, in the smart styles, with capes and military effects and corset fitting, prices, $5.00, $7.50, $8.00 and $10.00.

SPECIAL—To open the season on jackets we offer Saturday and Monday our $5.00 special covert jacket with shoulder capes, for $4.50. We have not forgotten the children. Nice, new, nobby coats in silk and mohair from $3.98 up.

Walking Skirts

Spring style skirts, exceedingly stylish, nice light weight materials and heavy weights if you want them tailored so well they are sure to hold their shape. Can't describe them all but will ask you to come and see them yourself. We will guarantee the prices are awfully interesting, from $3.50 to $7.00.

SPECIAL—For Saturday and Monday, a good skirt in brown and gray mixtures, self trimmed with straps and buttons, a winner at our regular price of $3.50, but for these two days, only $2.90.

New Fixings

Lace collars from 50c to $4.00. Lace stocks, 25c and 50c. Collar and cuff sets, 25c and 50c. Wrist bags, 50c, $1.00 and $1.50. Waist sets, stock pins, belts, belt buckles and belt sets from 10c to $1.00.

The Women's Store SLOAN'S

Sixth Street.

cake sale in the basement of the church tomorrow afternoon. The indications are that the sale will be largely patronized, as many donations will be given. It is requested that all donations be given before 2 p. m. tomorrow. The proceeds go toward purchasing the parsonage.

Potatoes, per bushel, $1.10; fancy hams, per lb, 14c; pork loins, 2 lbs for 25c; country sausage, 2 lbs for 25c; large sweet oranges, two dozen for 25c.

SCHMIDT'S CASH GROCERY. 54-h $1.00 and $1.50.

Licensed to Marry.
Lisbon, March 4.—(Special.)—A marriage license was issued today to Edward Tracy and Lenora Lynch, of East Liverpool.

French country eggs, 28c per dozen; fresh country butter, creamery butter and butterine.

SCHMIDT'S CASH GROCERY. 54-h

Tickets for the Elks' benefit, March 16, can be obtained at the office of Herbert & Travis. Prices, 50c, 75c, 1.00 and 1.50.

COAL LANDS SOLD
Transfer of Large Tracts Near Irondale—The Price Paid Is $65,000.

Steubenville, March 4.—The largest deal made in the county for many years was recorded this week when F. L. Head et al sold for $65,000 land in Saline township, in the northern part of the county, a great part of the land will be used to develop coal. The transfer was made to the Irondale Coal company and included two tracts, one of 395 and one of 166 acres.

Tickets for the Elks' benefit, March 16, can be obtained at the office of Herbert & Travis. Prices, 50c, 75c, 1.00 and 1.50.

Tickets for the Jewell concert March 8th now on sale at Reed's drug store. Prices, 75 cents and $1.

Rates $2.00 per Day Rates $2.50 per Day with Bath
HOTEL METROPOLE
E. S. WOOLWEAVER, Prop.
WELLSVILLE, O.

ASSICNEE'S SALE

Owing to the assignment of The Reich-Chertoff Co., successors to House & Hodgson at 162 and 164 6th Street, the entire stock of

Dry Goods, Clothing, Furnishings, Boots and Shoes

must be sold at once for the benefit of its creditors.

$10,000 STOCK

Which enables us to offer values challenging anything like competition. Saturday morning at 10 o'clock we place on sale the entire stock at 40 to 50 per cent off. Sale will continue until every article is sold.

500	Pairs of Men's Dress and Working Shoes, vicid kid and calf leather, formerly sold at $2.50, will go at this sale for.... $1.00	1,000	Pairs Ladies' Lace and Button Shoes all leathers, all sizes, formerly sold at $3.00 and $3.50, remember these are all high grade shoes. $3 ones $1.75 $3.50 ones $2.25	250	Pairs Boys' Youths' and Misses' Shoes all sizes, all leathers, will be sold at 40 per cent less than regular price.
550	Pairs of Men's Patent Colt and Patent Leather Dress Shoes, best makes, formerly sold at $4.50 and $5.00—sale price $2.25 and $2.75	500	Pairs of Ladies' Shoes, all leathers, styles and sizes, formerly sold at $2.00 and $2.50, sale price $1.25	800	Pairs of Ladies' Men's and Children's Slippers. $2.50 ones $1.25 1.00 ones 50c 2.50 ones $1.00 75c ones 38c 1.50 ones 75c 50c ones 25c

Sale Commences Saturday, March 5th, at 10 a. m.

GREATEST BARGAINS EVER OFFERED

The Reich-Chertoff Co. Successors to House & Hodgson

Remember the place 162 and 164 6th Street.

NEAR THE DIAMOND. . . . . . East Liverpool, Ohio.

Easter Suit

It's Time to Think of It!

It is always to a customer's advantage to purchase early while the lines are unbroken and before the rush period has arrived. It is sure to be more satisfactory all around.

EASTER SUIT or $15.00 EASTER OVERCOAT

We are showing some exceptionally nobby patterns in all the new spring shades which are

MADE TO YOUR ORDER

And Guaranteed by Union Labor.

The United Woollen Mills Co.
TAILORS TO THE MASSES.
253 West Market St.

REALM OF SPORTS

BASEBALL PROJECT ON AT WELLSVILLE

A First-Class Team to Be Organized from the Shops And Rolling Mill.

Present indications are that there will be but one real fast base ball team in this vicinity during the coming season. And it will not be owned or managed by East Liverpool parties. Wellsville is to be the proud owner. The team is to come from among the employees of the railroad shops and the rolling mill of the sister city. Charles Hall, foreman of the shops, is to have control of the team, but he has interested a large number of others and it will undoubtedly be a success.

It is said that the Wellsville people hung back a little waiting action on the part of East Liverpool base ball promoters and when they found that there was little hope for the organization of a first-class team here, went into the project with a will that is sure to win. Mr. Hall is a man of good judgment and a life-long lover of the national sport. He has become interested greatly of late and that he has condescended to take hold of the team is enough to secure its prosperity.

Employed at the shops and the mill are a number of ex-professional players, and they have all agreed to play the game again this year. So enthusiastic are they that they have each subscribed no small amount toward buying uniforms and other paraphernalia used by a ball team. They held a meeting the other day and organized and have selected the style of their uniforms and now arrangements are being made to lease the West End ball park. They will not encounter any difficulty in getting the lease, and unless another phase is brought to play the grounds will be soon prepared for play.

Since the railroad company extended a track back of the town to get the freight from the potteries and other manufacturing plants there has been some talk of running it still further down the river, and if so it will have to cross the park. If that is done of course the park will be useless as a pleasure resort.

DEVELOPMENT OF THE AUTOMOBILE

Horseless Carriages Not New, But Came Into Prominence Only Recently.

During the present week the automobile claims public attention in Cleveland. Horseless vehicles of all sorts and makes are exhibited and much interest is attracted by this annual display.

In nothing has there been greater development in recent years than in the automobile. More than a century ago the first horseless vehicle, known as the steam carriage, was built for use on the country roads of England. For a few years after 1790 these carriages were a novelty in England, but their use was soon abandoned. Between 1824 and 1836 there was another period of development in which a few horseless vehicles were built, but nothing permanent came of it. Something like twenty years ago, however, the present era of development began. The modern steam, gasoline and electric machines have come since then.

The earlier horseless carriages were clumsy contrivances at best, when compared with the modern automobile. Not only has the latest development been along the line of speed, but also in the beauty of construction and in strength. The manufacturers have vied with each other in these directions, until they have produced carriages that are attractive to the eye, which have great strength, and which also have speed. Machines are now built which can be propelled

There is a Couple

Of very essential features in the makeup of a good harness: good leather and good workmanship, we guarantee our harness to fit, we guarantee them not to rip and we guarantee the leather to give satisfactory service, besides guaranteeing the price to be right. Our stock of Root and Fibre horse brushes, 10c to 50c; a dandy for 25c, just the thing for mud. Tail ties, 10c.

TROTTER & SON.

Beautiful Spring Designs in Wall Paper

Are now ready for your inspection. We selected for this season the largest and most complete line that we have ever carried. An early inspection of our stock will assure you the choicest patterns in the city.

J. M. M'DOLE
Broadway, next to Fire Station.

at the rate of 60 miles an hour with ease, carrying heavy loads along country roads.

The making of automobiles has become one of the important industries of the United States, and in Cleveland are manufactured some of the best machines that are produced anywhere in the world. Not only does this industry furnish employment to a large number of persons, but the use of automobiles, which is growing at an amazing rate, is becoming one of the most pleasant of all outdoor pastimes. Great as the development of the automobile has been, however, it is, as yet, only in its infancy. There is no lessening of the demand for these swift and strong horseless vehicles, and the demand is certain to increase. The manufacturers are wise in encouraging the automobile habit by these annual exhibitions.

THEIR LOSING STREAK STILL WITH THEM

Powell's Bowlers Lost Again to the Williams Team Last Night.

Powell's team cannot get out of its losing streak. It was beaten again last evening by the Williams aggregation in a rather interesting series on the Imperial alleys. The winners made a creditable showing, two of their men passing the 200 mark. The individual scores follow: Powell, 189, 168, 167; Logan, 113, 146, 113; Litten, 144, 140, 166; Brunt, 193, 179, 149; Rose, 182, 158, 176; Williams, 165, 138, 190; Salt, 113, 141, 138; Lewellen, 145, 208, 184; Frank, 139, 115, 155; Wood, 154, 206, 159.

WELLSVILLE ANXIOUS

Bowlers of the Sister City Think They Can Win from Locals By a Little Practice.

Convinced that they would have had an easy victory over the Imperial bowling team of East Liverpool had they just been in ordinary form, the Wellsville team has concluded to get down to training and get another series with the locals. In the games on Wednesday evening it was not hard to see that the Wellsville men were not used to the violent sport. They showed conclusively that they understood the game, but were simply out of practice and could not expect to

Your Next Spring Suit Your Next Spring Overcoat Your Next Spring Raincoat Your Next Easter Bonnet

ALL will need your consideration soon and when you do think of them we know you will want to know a few things: First, where can you get the most fashionable goods in the city? Second, where can you get the most reliable and durable goods in the city? Third, where can you get the above at the lowest price. These are only a few questions you must ask yourself but they are the most essential, and to the above questions we say to you that never have we shown such a nice, up-to-date line of Clothing, Hats and Furnishings as we are showing this season and that is saying a great deal, as we have built up a reputation second to none for always having the latest and most reliable goods on the market, and always at from 20 to 30 per cent less than others on the same class of goods. So we say again, consider us in the race always when looking for the best at least money.

The Surprise Clothing House

The Largest Distributors of Men's, Boys' and Children's Clothing, Hats and Furnishing Goods in Eastern Ohio.

East Liverpool

Ohio

AMUSEMENTS.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.
JAB, A. MORRIS, Manager.
Seats on Sale at Reed's Drug Store.

Friday, March 4

The Laughing Surprise of the Season.

MISS KATE WATSON

In the Pastoral Comedy

THE HOOSIER GIRL

Supported by

MR. GUS COHEN

And An All Star Cast.

Prices, 25c, 35c, 50c, 75c.

Saturday, March 5

The Great Play of a Decade.

An American Hobo

By the author "A Poor Relation," "Peaceful Valley," etc. A splendid triumph of American dramatic genius. Splendid company; grand presentation. Possessing all the elements of popularity.

Prices, 25c, 35c, 50c, 75c.

USHERS' BENEFIT

March 28.

Arthur C. Alston's

At the Old Cross Roads

Our success of two years ago brought back by the numerous requests received from our pleased patrons who witnessed the play at that time.

No advance in price still
$1.00 and 75c

Seats can be procured from the ushers. First come, first served. The advance sale will be the largest of the season. Don't forget the date, March 28, and all come. You all know the play and its merits, the same cast of two years ago are producing the play.

Basket Ball

ROCK SPRINGS PAVILION

Friday, March 4th

Freedom

vs.

East Liverpool.

Game called at 8:30 o'clock. Admission 35c and 25c. Reserved seats on sale at

Chas. T. Larkins' Drug Store.

Colonist Tickets to the West and Southwest via Pennsylvania Lines.

March 1st and 15th special one way second class colonist tickets to Oklahoma and Indian Territories, Kansas, Missouri, Arkansas, Texas and New Mexico will be sold via Pennsylvania Lines. Ask the nearest Ticket Agent of those lines for particulars.

Exceedingly Low Rates.

On March 1 and 15, the Missouri Pacific railway and Iron Mountain route will sell one way colonist tickets from St. Louis to Oklahoma and Indian Territories at rates of $8.50, and to Texas and Louisiana for $10.00. For rates, schedule of trains and information concerning agricultural and timber lands in the southwest, address Jno. R. James, Central Passenger Agent, 905 Park building, Pittsburgh, Pa.

AT THE THEATER

"The Hoosier Girl," the greatest of all rural comedies, comes to the Grand tonight. Both public and press praise it as an unrivalled production which should be an absolute guarantee of its merit and an indication of the splendid treat in store for our theatergoers. For scenic effects and magnificence of its stage settings "The Hoosier Girl" under the management of Dave L. Lewis, has seldom been equaled in this city. A good cast is required to produce it and Mr. Lewis claims this to be the best ever given under his management. Miss Kate Watson and Gus Cohen are featured in a large company of players.

"An American Hobo" at the Grand Saturday night, March 5. Quick, snappy dialogue, brisk comedy, strong dramatic climaxes and startling situations are promises held out to all who may witness E. E. Kidder's melodramatic success, "An American Hobo," which, if reports prove true, is destined to achieve as great a success as did others of this play-constructor's works, notably "A Poor Relation" and "Peaceful Valley." In "An American Hobo" the author again selects his hero from among the lowly and endows him, even though he be a tramp, with nobility of character, scintillating flashes of wit, touches of true pathos, and a heart that impels him ever to aid other unfortunates in distress.

Miss Anna Jewell played the Liszt E flat concerto with great feeling and rare intelligence. Her technique is fine and her tone full and limpid. She played the Quasi Adagio with tender pathos which stirred the heart, while the Allegro thundered and crashed to its last resounding octave, says the New York Musical Courier.

Lewis Morrison himself will soon appear for the last time in this city as Mephisto in a superb new scenic production of "Faust" said to surpass all previous productions this star has presented.

COUNTY AND NEIGHBORHOOD

The Friends' school at Colerain has been closed on account of scarlet fever.

Mrs. Beatty, mother of John Beatty, of Pleasant Valley, is 89 years old and ill of grip.

Malvern has adopted a Sunday closing ordinance and not even a cigar or a peanut can be purchased on that day.

Mrs. Daniel Geiger died at Columbiana, aged 73. She was born in Elk-run township, her maiden name being Eliza Ann Caldwell.

Hon. E. S. Wertz, of Wayne county, has a bill in the legislature that makes it punishable by a $100 fine for any public official to ride on a railroad pass.

Captain J. Thomas Bishop, who drafted the charter for the first Grand Army post organized in the United States and was one of its charter members, died in Pittsburgh.

Hon. J. H. Beal, president of Seol college, is now making an active campaign to raise an endowment of $50,000 which is to be known as the Bishop Simpson Matthew Memorial.

Lieut. Col. James T. Kerr, formerly of Martin's Ferry, has been selected as one of the ten army officers who will watch the Japanese-Russian war, at close quarters, as a guest of the czar's officers.

For eruptions, sores, pimples, kidney and liver troubles, constipation, indigestion, use Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. Carries new life to every part of the body. 35 cents, tea or tablet form. C. F. Craig.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK, of East Liverpool, Ohio.

Invites Business and Personal Accounts. Safety Deposit Boxes For Rent. General Banking Business.

Capital, $100,000. Surplus and Profits, $141,637.25

OFFICERS:

DAVID BOYCE ..... President

J. M. KELLY ..... Vice President

N. G. MACRUM ..... Cashier

THOMAS A. FISHER ..... Assistant Cashier

BOARD OF DIRECTORS:

DAVID BOYCE, W. L. THOMPSON, O. C. VODREY, J. M. KELLY, JNO. C. THOMPSON, B. C. SIMMS, N. G. MACRUM.

THE AMERICAN FIRE EXTINGUISHER.

If you have not seen the American Fire Extinguisher, you have not seen an up-to-date Extinguisher. The American is AS SURE as a bucket of water but simpler and easier to handle as it does its own throwing. You don't have to get burned or suffocated when putting a fire out with the AMERICAN.

The American Fire Extinguisher, second only to it $15. The Eureka Extinguisher, second only to it $6. HERMAN FEUSTEL, Jr., General Agent. Room No. 7 Potters National Bank Building. Open evenings P. O. Box 2166, East Liverpool, Ohio.

The M. F. DAVIS CO., 326 Walnut St.

General Transfer Line and Storage

Distributors High Grade Coals.

Movers of Baggage, Freight, Household Goods and Heavy Tonnage on short notice.

Rigs Always Ready For Quick & Careful Service

PHONES—Bell; Office 37, Home 670-L C. C., Office 207.

CALL US UP.

Positively the Best

Place to open a savings account is with

The Potters Building and Savings Company.

at the Cor. of Fifth and Washington Sts. Assets nearly Two Million Dollars. You can start with any amount of money at any time.

Pittsburgh and Cincinnati Packet Line.

Steamers for Wheeling, Marietta, Parkersburg, Gallipolis, Huntington, Ironton, Portsmouth, Cincinnati, Louisville, Memphis, St. Louis, New Orleans and New York. Leave wharftop foot of Broadway, down as follows: Steamer Keystone State, Monday 9 p. m.; Steamer Queen City, Wednesday 9 p. m.; Steamer Virginia, Saturday 9 p. m. Up the river, Keystone State, Sunday 2 p. m.; Queen City, Tuesday 2 p. m.; Virginia, Friday 2 p. m. Fare, East Liverpool to Cincinnati, $0.50. For freight trip, $11 and $13, meals and berth included. For freight or passage apply to Geo. Martindale, Agent, Broadwharf wharf. Both phones 25. James A. Henderson, General Manager, Pittsburgh.

Easter Suit

It's Time to Think of It!

It is always to a customer's advantage to purchase early while the lines are unbroken and before the rush period has arrived. It is sure to be more satisfactory all around.

EASTER SUIT or $15.00 EASTER OVERCOAT

We are showing some exceptionally nobby patterns in all the new spring shades which are

MADE TO YOUR ORDER

And Guaranteed by Union Labor.

The United Woollen Mills Co.
TAILORS TO THE MASSES.
253 West Market St.

REALM OF SPORTS

BASEBALL PROJECT ON AT WELLSVILLE

A First-Class Team to Be Organized from the Shops And Rolling Mill.

Present indications are that there will be but one real fast-base ball team in this vicinity during the coming season. And it will not be owned or managed by East Liverpool parties. Wellsville is to be the proud owner. The team is to come from among the employees of the railroad shops and the rolling mill of the sister city. Charles Hall, foreman of the shops, is to have control of the team, but he has interested a large number of others and it will undoubtedly be a success.

It is said that the Wellsville people hung back a little waiting action on the part of East Liverpool base ball promoters and when they found that there was little hope for the organization of a first-class team here, went into the project with a will that is sure to win. Mr. Hall is a man of good judgment and a life-long lover of the national sport. He has become interested greatly of late and that he has condescended to take hold of the team is enough to secure its prosperity.

Employed at the shops and the mill are a number of ex-professional players, and they have all agreed to play the game again this year. So enthusiastic are they that they have each subscribed no small amount toward buying uniforms and other paraphernalia used by a ball team. They held a meeting the other day and organized and have selected the style of their uniforms and now arrangements are being made to lease the West End ball park. They will not encounter any difficulty in getting the lease, and unless another phase is brought to play the grounds will be soon prepared for play.

Since the railroad company extended a track back of the town to get the freight from the potteries and other manufacturing plants there has been some talk of running it still further down the river, and if so it will have to cross the park. If that is done of course the park will be useless as a pleasure resort.

DEVELOPMENT OF THE AUTOMOBILE

Horseless Carriages Not New. But Came Into Prominence Only Recently.

During the present week the automobile claims public attention in Cleveland. Horseless vehicles of all sorts and makes are exhibited and much interest is attracted by this annual display.

In nothing has there been greater development in recent years than in the automobile. More than a century ago the first horseless vehicle, known as the steam carriage, was built for use on the country roads of England. For a few years after 1790 these carriages were a novelty in England, but their use was soon abandoned. Between 1824 and 1836 there was another period of development in which a few horseless vehicles were built, but nothing permanent came of it. Something like twenty years ago, however, the present era of development began. The modern steam, gasoline and electric machines have come since then.

The earlier horseless carriages were clumsy contrivances at best, when compared with the modern automobile. Not only has the latest development been along the line of speed, but also in the beauty of construction and in strength. The manufacturers have vied with each other in these directions, until they have produced carriages that are attractive to the eye, which have great strength, and which also have speed. Machines are now built which can be propelled

There is a Couple

Of very essential features in the make-up of a good harness; good leather and good workmanship, we guarantee our harness to fit, we guarantee them not to rip and we guarantee the leather to give satisfactory service, besides guaranteeing the price to be right. Our stock of Root and Fibre horse shoes, 10c to 50c; a dandy for 25c, just the thing for mud. Tail ties, 10c.

TROTTER & SON.

Your Next Spring Suit Your Next Spring Overcoat Your Next Spring Raincoat Your Next Easter Bonnet

ALL will need your consideration soon and when you do think of them we know you will want to know a few things: First, where can you get the most fashionable goods in the city? Second, where can you get the most reliable and durable goods in the city? Third, where can you get the above at the lowest price. These are only a few questions you must ask yourself but they are the most essential, and to the above questions we say to you that never have we shown such a nice, up-to-date line of Clothing, Hats and Furnishings as we are showing this season and that is saying a great deal, as we have built up a reputation second to none for always having the latest and most reliable goods on the market, and always at from 20 to 30 per cent less than others on the same class of goods. So we say again, consider us in the race always when looking for the best at least money.

The Surprise Clothing House

The Largest Distributors of Men's, Boys' and Children's Clothing, Hats and Furnishing Goods in Eastern Ohio.

East Liverpool

Ohio

AMUSEMENTS.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

JAS. A. MORRIS, Manager.
Seats on Sale at Reed's Drug Store.

Friday, March 4

The Laughing Surprise of the Season.
MISS KATE WATSON

In the Pastoral Comedy

THE HOOSIER GIRL

Supported by

MR. GUS COHEN

And An All Star Cast.

Prices, 25c, 35c, 50c, 75c.

Saturday, March 5

The Great Play of a Decade.

An American Hobo

By the author "A Poor Relation," "Peaceful Valley," etc. A splendid triumph of American dramatic genius. Splendid company; grand presentation. Possessing all the elements of popularity.

Prices, 25c, 35c, 50c, 75c.

USHERS' BENEFIT

March 28.

Arthur C. Aiston's

At the Old Cross Roads

Our success of two years ago brought back by the numerous requests received from our pleased patrons who witnessed the play at that time.

No advance in price still

$1.00 and 75c

Seats can be procured from the ushers. First come, first served. The advance sale will be the largest of the season. Don't forget the date, March 28, and all come. You all know the play and its merits, the same cast of two years ago are producing the play.

Basket Ball

ROCK SPRINGS PAVILION

Friday, March 4th

Freedom

vs.

East Liverpool.

Game called at 8:30 o'clock. Admission 35c and 25c. Reserved seats on sale at

Chas. T. Larkins' Drug Store.

Colonist Tickets to the West and Southwest via Pennsylvania Lines.

March 1st and 15th special one way second class colonist tickets to Oklahoma and Indian Territories, Kansas, Missouri, Arkansas, Texas and New Mexico will be sold via Pennsylvania Lines. Ask the nearest Ticket Agent of those lines for particulars.

Exceedingly Low Rates.

On March 1 and 15, the Missouri Pacific railway and Iron Mountain route will sell one way colonist tickets from St. Louis to Oklahoma and Indian Territories at rates of $8.50, and to Texas and Louisiana for $10.00. For rates, schedule of trains and information concerning agricultural and timber lands in the southwest, address Jno. R. James, Central Passenger Agent, 905 Park building, Pittsburgh, Pa.

AT THE THEATER

"The Hoosier Girl," the greatest of all rural comedies, comes to the Grand tonight. Both public and press praise it as an unrivaled production which should be an absolute guarantee of its merit and an indication of the splendid treat in store for our theatergoers. For scenic effects and magnificence of its stage settings "The Hoosier Girl" under the management of Dave L. Lewis, has seldom been equaled in this city. A good cast is required to produce it and Mr. Lewis claims this to be the best ever given under his management. Miss Kate Watson and Gus Cohen are featured in a large company of players.

"An American Hobo" at the Grand Saturday night, March 5. Quick, snappy dialogue, brisk comedy, strong dramatic climaxes and startling situations are promises held out to all who may witness E. E. Kidder's melodramatic success, "An American Hobo," which, if reports prove true, is destined to achieve as great a success as did others of this play-constructor's works, notably "A Poor Relation" and "Peaceful Valley." In "An American Hobo" the author again selects his hero from among the lowly and endows him, even though he be a tramp, with nobility of character, scintillating flashes of wit, touches of true pathos, and a heart that impels him ever to aid other unfortunates in distress.

Miss Anna Jewell played the Liszt E flat concerto with great feeling and rare intelligence. Her technique is fine and her tone full and limpid. She played the Quasi Adagio with tender pathos which stirred the heart, while the Allegro thundered and crashed to its last resounding octave, says the New York Musical Courier.

Lewis Morrison himself will soon appear for the last time in this city as Mephisto in a superb new scenic production of "Faust" said to surpass all previous productions this star has presented.

COUNTY AND NEIGHBORHOOD

The Friends' school at Colerain has been closed on account of scarlet fever.

Mrs. Beatty, mother of John Beatty, of Pleasant Valley, is 89 years old and ill of grip.

Malvern has adopted a Sunday closing ordinance and not even a cigar or a peanut can be purchased on that day.

Mrs. Daniel Geiger died at Columbiana, aged 73. She was born in Elk-run township, her maiden name being Eliza Ann Caldwell.

Hon. E. S. Wertz, of Wayne county, has a bill in the legislature that makes it punishable by a $100 fine for any public official to ride on a railroad pass.

Captain J. Thomas Bishop, who drafted the charter for the first Grand Army post organized in the United States and was one of its charter members, died in Pittsburgh.

Hon. J. H. Beal, president of Seio college, is now making an active campaign to raise an endowment of $50,000 which is to be known as the Bishop Simpson Matthew Memorial.

Lieut. Col. James T. Kerr, formerly of Martin's Ferry, has been selected as one of the ten army officers who will watch the Japanese-Russian war, at close quarters, as a guest of the czar's officers.

For eruptions, sores, pimples, kidney and liver troubles, constipation, indigestion, use Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. Carries new life to every part of the body. 35 cents, tea or tablet form. C. F. Craig.

Beautiful Spring Designs in Wall Paper

Are now ready for your inspection. We selected for this season the largest and most complete line that we have ever carried. An early inspection of our stock will assure you the choicest patterns in the city.

J. M. M'DOLE
Broadway, next to Fire Station.

at the rate of 60 miles an hour with ease, carrying heavy loads along country roads.

The making of automobiles has become one of the important industries of the United States, and in Cleveland are manufactured some of the best machines that are produced anywhere in the world. Not only does this industry furnish employment to a large number of persons, but the use of automobiles, which is growing at an amazing rate, is becoming one of the most pleasant of all outdoor pastimes. Great as the development of the automobile has been, however, it is, as yet, only in its infancy. There is no lessening of the demand for these swift and strong horseless vehicles, and the demand is certain to increase. The manufacturers are wise in encouraging the automobile habit by these annual exhibitions.

THEIR LOSING STREAK STILL WITH THEM

Powell's Bowlers Lost Again to the Williams Team Last Night.

Powell's team cannot get out of its losing streak. It was beaten again last evening by the Williams aggregation in a rather interesting series on the Imperial alleys. The winners made a creditable showing, two of their men passing the 200 mark. The individual scores follow:

Powell, 180, 168, 167; Logan, 113, 146, 113; Litten, 144, 140, 166; Brunt, 193, 179, 149; Rose, 182, 158, 176; Williams, 165, 138, 190; Salt, 113, 141, 138; Lewellen, 145, 208, 184; Frank, 139, 115, 155; Wood, 154, 206, 159.

WELLSVILLE ANXIOUS

Bowlers of the Sister City Think They Can Win from Locals By a Little Practice.

Convinced that they would have had an easy victory over the Imperial bowling team of East Liverpool had they just been in ordinary form, the Wellsville team has concluded to get down to training and get another series with the locals. In the games on Wednesday evening it was not hard to see that the Wellsville men were not used to the violent sport. They showed conclusively that they understood the game, but were simply out of practice and could not expect to win from a team that is in daily work on the local alleys.

Captain Aten stated this morning that his team would begin at once to get in trim and he would be much surprised if it could not take every series in the future from the locals. At least three of the men on his team were entirely out of form, not having played for months, and as the team came mighty near winning even with such odds against it, he feels that a few weeks of practice will fix things so East Liverpool or no other team can give them the worst of it.

Goes With Cincinnati.

A special dispatch from Cincinnati states that Charley Zeigler, of Canton, who has been captain of the Helena, Montana, team, has volunteered to join the Cincinnati team and take chances on making good as a substitute infielder. Zeigler is in Canton at the home of his father, H. D. Zeigler, on Second street, and is in good condition. He is a fast man on his feet and did good playing last year. He was formerly a member of the Canton tri-state league team and was drafted by Anson for the Chicago team some years ago.

Lisbon Ball Team.

The Lisbon base ball team has organized and Bert Ourant, who was manager last year, was re-elected. The team is composed of the following: Frank Carlisle, Ralph Carlisle, Robert Huston, Will Gailey, Bert King, Wallace Cogswell, Charles Gilmore, Grover Clunk, Dave Pike, Charles French, Raymond Bells and Roy Nicholas. The boys will give a benefit ball at Deville's hall this evening.

CUYAHOGA COUNTY LEADS IN IMPROVED ROADS

Up to the Present She Has Expended $1,500,000 in Paving County Highways.

Cleveland, March 4.—Cuyahoga county has 94 miles of paved country road, or will have by the first of next year.

It is not known exactly how many miles of country roads there are in Cuyahoga county outside of Cleveland, but a conservative estimate places the number at about 1,000.

Ninety-four miles of improved road seems very little as compared with the grand total mileage, but this is not the right light in which to look at the situation and make comparisons. The best method is to compare the miles of improved road in the county with those of other counties in the state, and aside from this consider the enormous expense involved.

Up to the present time Cuyahoga county has expended about $1,500,000 for good roads. This county stands at the head of this list in this state for good roads, and yet there is no end of complaint. The good roads sentiment has been brewing for 20 years, but it was not until within the last five years that important steps were taken.

To obtain a paved road the property owners petition the county commissioners for it. If granted the work is done by the county. The county pays the major part of the expenses, some times as high as 90 per cent. The remainder falls upon the abutting property owners. Good roads never received so much attention from the state legislature as at the present session, and a law will doubtless be enacted covering the whole state, and the task of improving will be lighter and the expense more evenly distributed.

ted. In the new bill the state, county, township and property owners will help bear the expense. In time it is hoped to obtain assistance from the national government, where the idea first received substantial impetus. Much credit along this line is due to Hon. Martin Dodge.

In Cuyahoga county there are 39 1/2 miles of paved road. Fifty-four and one-half miles more of pavement are now contracted for and will be completed this year, which will give this county 94 miles of paved road. In addition to this 18 miles more have been petitioned for. There are many more miles that will be petitioned for during the coming year, and it is safe to estimate that no less than 60 miles paved road will be added next year.

The Name Witch Hazel.

The name Witch Hazel is misused. E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, are the inventors of the original and only genuine Witch Hazel Salve. A certain cure for cuts, burns, hemorrhoids, tetter, piles, etc. There are many counterfeits of this salve, of which are dangerous, while they are all worthless. In buying Witch Hazel Salve see that the name E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, is on the box and cure is certain. Sold by Alvin H. Ger.

Subscribe for the News Review

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK, of East Liverpool, Ohio.

Invites Business and Personal Accounts. Safety Deposit Boxes For Rent. General Banking Business.

Capital, $100,000. Surplus and Profits, $141,637.25.

OFFICERS:

DAVID BOYCE ..... President

J. M. KELLY ..... Vice President

N. G. MACRUM ..... Cashier

THOMAS A. FISHER ..... Assistant Cashier

BOARD OF DIRECTORS:

DAVID BOYCE, W. L. THOMPSON, O. C. VODREY, J. M. KELLY, JNO. C. THOMPSON, B. C. SIMMS, N. G. MACRUM.

THE AMERICAN FIRE EXTINGUISHER.

If you have not seen the American Fire Extinguisher, you have not seen an up-to-date Extinguisher. The American is AS SURE as a bucket of water but simpler and easier to handle as it does its own throwing. You don't have to get burned or suffocated when putting a fire out with the AMERICAN.

The American Oak Leather Trust, have ordered the American on three separate occasions. The Steel Trust, have ordered the second time. The Milwaukee Electric Ry. & L. Co., bought between 100 and 200 of them. The American received the highest endorsement of the New York Fire Commissioners.

The American Extinguisher, $15.

The Eureka Extinguisher, second only to it $5.

HERMAN FEUSTEL, Jr., General Agent.

Room No. 7 Pottery National Building. Open evenings P. O. Box 2166, East Liverpool, Ohio.

The M. F. DAVIS CO., 326 Walnut St.

General Transfer Line and Storage

Distributors High Grade Coals.

Movers of Baggage, Freight, Household Goods and Heavy Tonnage on short notice.

Rigs Always Ready For Quick & Careful Service

PHONES—Bell; Office 37, Home 670-L C. C., Office 237.

CALL US UP.

Positively the Best

Place to open a savings account is with

The Potters Building and Savings Company.

at the Cor. of Fifth and Washington Sts. Assets nearly Two Million Dollars. You can start with any amount of money at any time.

Pittsburg and Cincinnati Packet Line.

Steamers for Wheeling, Marietta, Parkersburg, Gallipolis, Huntington, Ironton, Portsmouth, Cincinnati, Louisville, Memphis, St. Louis, New Orleans and way ports. Leave wharfeboat foot of Broadway, down as follows: Steamer Keystone State, Monday 9 p. m.; Queen City, Wednesday 9 p. m.; Virginia, Saturday 8 p. m. Up the river, Keystone State, Sunday 2 p. m.; Queen City, Tuesday 2 p. m.; Virginia, Friday 2 p. m. Fare, East Liverpool to Cincinnati, $3.00. For freight, trip, $11 and $13, meals and berth included. For freight or passage apply to Geo. Martindale, Agent, Broadstreet wharf. Both phones, 25. James A. Henderson, General Manager, Pittsburg.

WORKS LIKE A CHARM
Just Breathe Balsamic Air of Hyomei.
It's Sure to Effect a Cure of Your Catarrh.
Brings Quick Relief for the "Chocking" Sensation.
Sales Break all Records—Guaranteed to Cure by Leading Drug Firm, or Money Will Be Returned.

The popularity and remarkable sales of Hyomei have broken all records, in nearly every city and town in the country, this guaranteed cure for catarrh has given most astonishing results.

The leading druggists are so enthusiastic over the remarkable percentage of cures following the use of Hyomei, that with hardly an exception, they advertise to their customers that Hyomei will be sold with the understanding that it costs nothing unless it cures.

In East Liverpool, Will Reed is endorsing it and guaranteeing to refund the money unless Hyomei cures catarrh. He has sold a great many Hyomei outfits, and today, no other treatment for the cure of catarrh has as many friends in East Liverpool and vicinity as Hyomei.

It is a scientific, yet common sense method of treating and curing this too common disease. It sends by direct inhalation to every cell of the air passages in the head, throat and lungs, a balsamic air that destroys all catarrhal germs, purifies the blood with additional ozone, and makes a complete and lasting cure of any catarrhal trouble.

The complete outfit costs but $1, and includes an inhaler, medicine dropper and sufficient Hyomei for several weeks' treatment.

You take no risk in buying Hyomei. Will Reed positively guarantees to refund your money unless it cures.

WILL REED'S CONFIDENCE IN HYOMEI

Not a Penny Need Be Paid Unless It Cures You of Catarrh.

"Use Hyomei and be cured of catarrh," says Will Reed. When a responsible business house like this comes out and advertises that Hyomei will not cost a penny unless it does all that is claimed for it, it shows what remarkable confidence they have in this scientific medical treatment.

A complete Hyomei outfit consists of a neat inhaler, that can be carried in the pocket or purse, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei, and costs but $1.

The inhaler lasts a lifetime and when extra bottles of Hyomei are needed, they can be obtained for 50c.

This treatment does away with all disagreeable and dangerous stomach dosing. Breathed through the Hyomei inhaler for a few minutes four times a day, it impregnates every particle of air taken into the air passages and lungs with germ-killing and health-giving balsams. In this way it cures the most chronic and deep-seated catarrhal diseases of the air passages and respiratory organs.

The user is the sole judge whether Hyomei is to be paid for or not. If it does not help, Will Reed will cheerfully return the money and it will not cost a penny.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

For County Auditor,
J. L. McDONALD,
Wellsville Twp.
Subject to the decision of the Republican county convention, March 26, 1904.

For County Auditor,
GALEN A. SHEETS,
Hanover Township.
Subject to the decision of the Republican county convention, March 26, 1904.

For County Auditor,
F. F. TRIMBLE,
Perry Township.
Subject to the decision of the Republican county convention, March 26, 1904.

For County Auditor,
CHARLES E. HAMILTON,
Center Township.
Subject to the decision of the Republican county convention, March 26, 1904.

For County Auditor,
GEORGE HOLMES,
Perry Township.
Subject to the decision of the Republican county convention, March 26, 1904.

Hearts Courageous

HALLIE
By... ERMINIE
RIVES

Copyright, 1902, by THE BOWEN-MERRILL COMPANY

CHAPTER III.—Continued.

Anne watched him go, a curl on her lip. When she turned at Betsy's exclamation it was first to be aware that all on the wharf were looking her way, that some of them were smiling and then that the young Frenchman, with the redemptorist woman following him, was approaching her.

Before she had recovered from her astonishment he was bowing low. "Mademoiselle," he said, "will pardon the liberty I take in addressing her?" She bowed coldly, half startled.

"Fate," he went on, "has made me the owner of this servant, for whom, being no landholder, I have scant use. She speaks a strange tongue and is in a strange land, and to free her without bond time were small kindness. May I beg the favor, mademoiselle, that you take her in your service, demanding such labor as will require her support?"

The indignant color flooded Anne's brow. "Sir," she said frigidly, drawing herself up, "we have strange surprises in Virginia, but surely the effrontery of our visitors surpasses them all."

Armand looked clearly at her out of his dark eyes. "Mademoiselle will pardon," he answered, "the error of one of these visitors, who, seeing her face, has overestimated her graciousness and charity."

With this he bowed again till his hat swept the ground, and, followed by the bondswoman, walked down the wharf toward the unloading vessel.

The red in Anne's cheeks had grown to firebrands and her anger lent sting to the half concealed snarls of those who stood nearest.

"Land of mercy!" said Betsy, with emphasis. "What impudence!"

Soon the curious crowd was thinning. Betsy's search was ended, and Anne, having left her seat in the coach, watched at nearer view the disgoring of the cargo.

Here Brooke came primed with a new sensation. This now nothing less than the tale of a fight which had occurred during the voyage between the mate of the vessel and a passenger. Anne's eyes were very soft as he finished.

"And who d'ye think," he ended, "was this champion? Why, the young Frenchman yonder that you crushed so mercilessly, Mistress Tillotson."

"And the redemptorist woman?" asked Anne, with something like dread.

"'Twas the wench he won from Burnaby Rolph."

"Oh!" the cadence was full of liquid self reproach.

"Where are you going?" Betsy asked as Anne rose. She did not answer, but walked quickly across the wharf to the spot where Armand stood. He made no movement as she came.

"Monsieur!"—She faltered and stopped.

His hat was in his hand instantly, and he was gravely deferential.

"I wish to take back," she went on, "my words of awhile ago. I assure you they were not rudely meant. I—"

He stayed her with a gesture. "What am I that mademoiselle should speak thus? I was brusque, unmanly."

"No, no."

"I forgot where I was—forgot that I had not the joy of knowing her—forgot everything but what I saw in her face as she sat in the chariot. For I am a great magician, mademoiselle. I know all who are lovely and gracious of heart."

"I was wrong," she said proudly.

"And for this I ask your pardon. May—may I have the bond servant?"

He smiled gayly now and bowed low to her. "To be treated with such pleasant surgery all the world would be glad of wounds," he cried. "You recompense me a thousand times!"

He signed to the serving woman who sat stolidly upon a nearby chest and pointed from himself to Anne. She understood, and when Anne put her in charge of John the Baptist to take on ahead a pillion she went without question.

Betsy watched this transaction open mouthed.

"Did you ever?" she gasped. "I wonder what mother will say to that?"

Armand had stepped to position, hat under arm, at the coach door. "Mademoiselle will permit me to assist her?" he asked and gave her the tips of his fingers. His eyes were bright on her face.

On the step she stopped, half turned.

a delicate flush coming to her cheek—a flush that deepened to damask at his look. She hesitated an instant as if about to speak, then suddenly entered, sat down, gave the word to the driver and was whirled away. The secretary stood looking after the retreating chariot.

"A splendid creature," purred Brooke, at his elbow, "albeit you found her wintry."

"Wintry?" exclaimed the young man. "She who is made only of summer, its incense, its colors, its dreams! Yours is an enchanted land, monsieur, and she its goddess!"

"Egad, I'll make a sonnet of that!" exclaimed Brooke. "Sink me, but it's coming back!" The latter remark was applied to the chariot, which had turned and was now approaching more slowly the spot where they stood.

As it drew up Anne leaned from the window. "Monsieur?" she called, "I had quite forgot to speak of the indenture."

He drew it from his pocket and held it out to her.

"Such have to be conveyed, I make sure," she said, looking at it doubtfully. "Your delicacy, sir, forbade you to set me right. We shall have to sign and witness a deed and what not, I suppose."

"This a plain indenture," said Brooke, peering.

She drew it away sharply. "Alas, we women know so little of business. I bethink me my father will wish to receipt to you for it."

"Mademoiselle!"

"Aye, but he will. At any rate, you would not be so ungallant as to have me blamed, sir? Will you not ride to Gladden Hall with me? 'Tis scarce a half league away."

"Mademoiselle!"

"Your father is in Williamsburg, mistress," ventured the exquisite. "I chanced to overhear him say this morning he would remain over at Colonel Byrd's until tomorrow."

Anne frowned. "I fear you did not hear aright, sir," she returned coldly.

"Mademoiselle will permit me to assist her?"

Then, with an enchanting smile, she opened the coach door and made room for the secretary beside her. "I await you, monsieur," she said, her eyes like fringed gentians. He bowed to her with a new light on his face, entered and closed the door.

"Home, Rashleigh!" she cried to the driver, and the heavy coach rolled away.

"Wintry," said the top to himself, with a chuckle. "Methinks report does the lady wrong."

Jarrat meanwhile had been sitting in the skipper's dingy cabin, for Master Elves had now transferred responsibility to the ship's agent, his face properly smoothed to good fellowship over a noggin of rum from the locker. He had long ago cultivated a new affability with the master of the Two Sisters. Now he had an errand, though he was somewhat long in coming to the point.

"The Marquis de la Trouerie," he said finally and in a purely casual way as he smacked his lips. "It was nigh two months since that he died, if I remember."

The mariner took down his log from the shelf and, turning it with a hairy thumb, pushed it across the board. The other looked at it closely and laid the book open before him. Incidentally he filled up the glasses. "Knew you aught of his affairs in this colony?" he queried.

One might have noticed that the eyes opposite narrowed perceptibly.

"Not I," answered the skipper. "I hold to my own helm."

"A close tongue," vouchsafed Jarrat, "makes a wide purse."

The drift of this succinct remark was not lost upon his companion, who discreetly kept his eyes upon his glass.

The speaker continued, dropping his voice and leaning on the table: "The marquis and I had somewhat of business together, although we never met. In fact, I made this voyage at his own

You get the best 15c meal in town at Hardwick's.

Hardwick's sell pure Oysters for 35c qt.

Buy your Candies at Hardwick's.

You get a large bowl of Oyster Soup at Hardwick's.

Hardwick's Confectionery
No. 101 Market St.

request. Now, to be frank, the news of his death will not aid a mutual venture of ours here in Virginia, which, for my part, has gone too far for backing. Zooks! A mortal pity to publish it!"

There were interest and speculation in the narrow eyes if nothing more. Something jingled. It may have been the visitor's sword knot or a hand in a pocket. The skipper was not deaf.

"The passengers?" he hazarded.

"They are off for the north today. Boston blab will not hurt me. 'Tis the gazettes here I care about. As for the factors, they are bent on business. Our young Virginia woolpack has gone to Pennsylvania. I'll risk him."

"There's the marquis' secretary."

Jarrat snapped his fingers. "He'll be cheap. I know the breed. A leaf lost from a log is no great matter," he continued slowly as though to himself. Again the jingle. The skipper cleared his throat.

Jarrat's hand slowly, very slowly, tore out the leaf, folded it and placed it in his pocketbook. Yellow disks passed across the table.

"I'll be keel hauled if I see your game," said the skipper.

The other smiled. "I'll be keel hauled if I see why you should," said he.

Brooke was scarce done twisting his lovecock when Jarrat crossed the wharf from the ship hot from his bargain with the skipper. He made inquiries concerning a young gentleman dressed in gray and by good luck hit upon an apprentice lad who told him he had carried the young gentleman's chest to the Swan tavern, at which he had been directed to bespeak supper and lodging.

(To be Continued.)

Lulu Stanhope, St. Louis: "I used to have a horrid complexion. I took Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea and am called the prettiest girl in the city." 35 cents. C. F. Craig.

An Irish Gem.

An Irish journal had this gem in answer to a correspondent: "We decline to acknowledge the receipt of your post card."

Which is very much like the Corkonian who traveled into Kerry to an insulting enemy to "tell him to his face that he would treat him with silent contempt."—London Tit-Bits.

Colds Cause Pneumonia.

One of the most remarkable cases of a cold, deep-seated on the lungs, causing pneumonia, is that of Mrs. Gertrude E. Fenner, Marion, Ind., who was entirely cured by the use of One Minute Cough Cure. She says: "The coughing and straining so weakened me that I ran down in weight from 148 to 92 pounds. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I used One Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength. Sold by Alvin H. Bulger."

Only Two Occasions.

"You always appear to be nervous," remarked the friend solicitously.

"But really," replied the housekeeper, "there are only two occasions when I am nervous. One is when I have a servant girl, and the other is when I haven't."—Philadelphia Press.

What You Need for Constipation.

When troubled with constipation, what you need is a remedy that is sure to produce the desired effect. A remedy that is mild and gentle in its action. A remedy that leaves the bowels in a natural and healthy condition. A remedy that is easy and pleasant to take. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets meet all of these requirements. Give them a trial and you will never wish to take another dose of pills. Use them as directed and they will cure chronic constipation. Price 25 cents. Every box is warranted for sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

Carefully Brought Up.

"Were you carefully brought up, my lad?" asked the merchant of the applicant for a situation.

"Please, sir, yes, sir; I came up in the elevator, sir," said the respectful youth.

"A dose in time saves lives." Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup; nature's remedy for coughs, colds, pulmonary diseases of every sort.

HOME-SEEKERS' EXCURSIONS
To West, Northwest, South and Southwest via Pennsylvania Lines.

For full information about Homeseekers' excursion fares to points in the west, north-west, south and southwest, apply to ticket agents of Pennsylvania Lines.

THE INVENTION OF THE TELEPHONE

Credit Due to a Former Bethany College Professor for Great Work.

THE SCIENTIFIC WORLD

First Informed of the New Method of Sound Transmission By Prof. A. E. Dolbeare—Reaped No Profit for His Labors.

Bethany college has had among its students graduates and professors, such men as B. B. Odell, governor of New York; James Lane Allen, the famous novelist and lecturer; Champ Clark, John C. New, secretary of the interior under Harrison, and others, but perhaps among them A. E. Dolbeare has done most for the advancement of the human race, and his name should live for centuries as one of the greatest inventors the world has ever produced.

For many years a number of persons of this vicinity have been under the impression that Mr. Dolbeare, who in the early 70's held a professorship at Bethany college, was the original inventor of the Bell telephone, and that he instead of Bell should be given the credit for it.

For this reason Mr. Dolbeare, who is now a leading professor at Tufts college, Massachusetts, was communicated with and gave the following facts:

Professor Dolbeare was professor of science at Bethany college from 1859 to 1873, and while there made many experiments in sound electricity, having to do with the principles of the telephone, and his experiments with the so-called string telephone are still remembered by some of the old students and townspeople. The magnet telephone, now called the Bell telephone, he invented after he left Bethany. The first telephone was crude, but other inventors have brought it to its present state of efficiency.

In 1873 Professor Dolbeare read two papers at a meeting of the American association for the advancement of science, in Portland, Maine. One was a treatise on "The Convertibility of Sound into Electricity" and the points he made created quite a stir among the physicists gathered at the convention. He also published in the Journal of the Franklin Institute an account of a device for showing the movements of a diaphragm when actuated by speech sound, and called it an "opeloscope." His device is the most vital part of the telephone both for receiving and transmitting sound.

While in Bethany the professor experimented to a great extent with tuning forks and made several improved forks for showing Lissajous' curves. He also worked out many experiments in solar projections and wrote a book called "The Art of Projecting," but while he was at Bethany he could get no publisher for it, and it was subsequently issued by a Boston house.

It was at Bethany that the professor discovered a new process for making sodium and potassium; also the polarity of the magnetic phantom.

The so-called microphone was invented by Hughes, of London, in 1878. It is not an essential for transmitting speech, but it greatly increased the efficiency of the telephone. The static telephone, a radical departure from the first type, Professor Dolbeare worked out in 1879.

Professor Dolbeare resigned the Bethany professorship to take the chair of science at Tufts college, a Universalist institution near Boston, Mass. He was associated there with Alex. Graham Bell, the alleged inventor of the telephone. Dolbeare continued his experiments and the wire-

The Strong Hold

which
THE POTTERS NATIONAL BANK

Has upon public confidence is evidenced by its large and increasing business.

DIRECTORS:
Wm. Brant, Geo. W. Thomas
N. A. Frederick, W. E. Wells,
W. W. Herker, Wm. Cartwright,
David Boyce.

JUDGE THEO. MAYER TALKS TO THE SICK

If you are run down, worn out, get up in the morning almost as tired as when you go to bed, need a rest the worst way but cannot spare the time—cannot afford to take your hands off the tiller of your work—then, says Judge Theodore Mayer, of Chicago's famous Chicago Avenue Police Court, you are in just the condition I was in a while back.

"Owing to the sedentary nature of my occupation, six months ago I felt decidedly out of sorts and I thought I would have to lay aside my judicial duties and spend some time at a health resort. My appetite began to fail me and I was subject to a condition of general lassitude."

"A physician who is one of my intimate friends told me that I exhibited the primary symptoms of catarrh of the stomach. I was about to put myself under his particular care when I heard from a number of the police officers attached to the station that they had been relieved of similar ailments through the use of Mucu-Tone, so I sent to the United Drug Co. at Boston for a trial bottle. What the real nature of my ailment was I cannot say. It has gone now, and I am as well as I have ever been in my life. A few bottles of the remedy removed the last vestige of my trouble. Having received such beneficial results from it, I have no hesitation in recommending Mucu-Tone."

Theodore C. Mayer

Judge Theodore Mayer presides at the Chicago Avenue police court, a court famous in Chicago's criminal history. Here it was that the anarchists were arraigned; later the Cronin murder suspects and Adolph Leutger, the wife murderer. Judge Mayer is in close touch with the vast cosmopolitan population of Chicago. Within his jurisdiction great colonies from all the nations of Europe have made their homes. He is known personally to thousands in all walks of life and he has a broad sympathy with the hopes and aspirations of the great body of the common people. Stern and severe when occasion demands, he is still the soul of sympathy when misfortune and inexperience bring a prisoner before him. His advice is frequently sought by the residents of the city, and his territory is frequently personal differences which might lead to expensive litigation are adjusted through his wise counsel. He comes from distinguished German ancestry and numbers among his intimate friends the leading German-Americans of Chicago.

Working through the starved bloodvessels, Rexall Mucu-Tone drives out the catarrhal poison, stimulates the mucous-cells into the active exercise of their functions, fills the arteries with rich, red blood, tones up the stomach, restores the appetite and builds up the body.

There is no slow, uphill work about this. From the very first dose its strengthening influence will be felt. Lethargy and pain will slip away and in their place will come the fresh, buoyant vigor and power of application of the long ago.

Don't be skeptical; don't wait until you are flat on your back. But give Rexall Mucu-Tone a trial—just one trial. If you don't feel better immediately you can stop taking it and we will give back your money.

Sold only at our store.

Chas. T. Larkins, Druggist.

less telegraph now so well known but attributed to another person, was invented by Dolbeare in 1881. His ideas were taken up and improved on by others who were given credit for the original invention.

That Professor Dolbeare did invent the telephone was the opinion of the Western Union Telegraph company, for they paid him for it after a thorough investigation lasting for two years, and it was this invention that was the base of the compact with the Bell company that the latter was to pay to the telegraph company twenty per cent of its profits during the life of the patent.

These were the main facts of his work at Bethany and afterwards as furnished the telegraph by Professor Dolbeare, but not much more inside history can be furnished by friends of this brilliant scientist—one of his friends who was his pupil in 1873 at Bethany, lives in Wheeling at the present time and occupies a high position in the business and social world.

It is said that when Dolbeare consummated his invention, he confided it to another, who immediately left for Washington and obtained a patent for it. Dolbeare objected and a said-to-be mutual friend interested himself in pacifying matters and finally Dolbeare received several thousand dollars and gave up prosecution. The "mutual" friend was instructed to offer $100,000 if necessary.

Professor Dolbeare, ever a close student, paying little or no attention to business matters and when the time came for him to gain fame from his inventive genius, he was tricked out of his invention. But such is usually the fate of great inventors, discoverers and authors.

$100 REWARD, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Address: F. J. CLENEY & CO., Toledo O.
Sold by druggists.
Hall's Family Pills are the best.

It is Seeing the World.

To attend the Universal Exposition at St. Louis, open April 30th. The direct route—Pennsylvania Lines. "Look at the Map!"

ATLANTIC TEA CO.

We find our stock of Canned Goods and Evaporated Fruits unusually large. Our way of reducing stock is to reduce the price, and it never fails.

See Our Price List

Tomatoes, large cans. . . . 3 cans 25 cts
Tomatoes, small cans. . . . 4 cans 25 cts
Early June Peas. . . . . 3 cans 25 cts
String Beans. . . . . 4 cans 25 cts
Extra Standard Peaches. . . 2 cans 25 cts
Ruby Beets, large cans. . . per can 10 cts
Choice Salmon. . . . . per can 10 cts
Evap. Apricots. . . . . per lb. 10 cts
Evap. Peaches. . . . . per lb. 10 cts Evap. Apples. . . . . 3 lbs. 25 cts

ATLANTIC TEA CO.

WE LEAD, LET THOSE WHO CAN, FOLLOW.

New York Hair Parlor
Next to O. V. Gas Office, Sixth Street.

PENN STOCK EXCHANGE
Potters' National Bank Building.
STOCKS BONDS & GRAIN
Markets Received Momentarily.
Over Private Wire
Telephone, Bell 36.

WORKS LIKE A CHARM

Just Breathe Balsamic Air of Hyomei.It's Sure to Effect a Cure of Your Catarrh.Brings Quick Relief for the "Chocking" Sensation.Sales Break all Records—Guaranteed to Cure by Leading Drug Firm, or Money Will Be Returned.The popularity and remarkable sales of Hyomei have broken all records.
In nearly every city and town in the country, this guaranteed cure for catarrh has given most astonishing results.The leading druggists are so enthusiastic over the remarkable percentage of cures following the use of Hyomei, that with hardly an exception, they advertise to their customers that Hyomei will be sold with the understanding that it costs nothing unless it cures.In East Liverpool, Will Reed is endorsing it and guaranteeing to refund the money unless Hyomei cures catarrh. He has sold a great many Hyomei outfits, and today, no other treatment for the cure of catarrh has as many friends in East Liverpool and vicinity as Hyomei.It is a scientific, yet common sense method of treating and curing this too common disease. It sends by direct inhalation to every cell of the air passages in the head, throat and lungs, a balsamic air that destroys all catarrhal germs, purifies the blood with additional ozone, and makes a complete and lasting cure of any catarrhal trouble.The complete outfit costs but $1, and includes an inhaler, medicine dropper and sufficient Hyomei for several weeks' treatment.You take no risk in buying Hyomei.
Will Reed positively guarantees to refund your money unless it cures.

WILL REED'S CONFIDENCE

IN HYOMEI

Not a Penny Need Be Paid Unless It Cures You of Catarrh."Use Hyomei and be cured of catarrh," says Will Reed. When a responsible business house like this comes out and advertises that Hyomei will not cost a penny unless it does all that is claimed for it, it shows what remarkable confidence they have in this scientific medical treatment.A complete Hyomei outfit consists of a neat inhaler, that can be carried in the pocket or purse, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei, and costs but $1.The inhaler lasts a lifetime and when extra bottles of Hyomei are needed, they can be obtained for 50c.
This treatment does away with all disagreeable and dangerous stomach dosing. Breathed through the Hyomei inhaler for a few minutes four times a day, it impregnates every particle of air taken into the air passages and lungs with germ-killing and health-giving balsams. In this way it cures the most chronic and deep-seated catarrhal diseases of the air passages and respiratory organs.The user is the sole judge whether Hyomei is to be paid for or not. If it does not help, Will Reed will cheerfully return the money and it will not cost a penny.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

For County Auditor,
J. L. McDONALD,
Wellsville Twp.
Subject to the decision of the Republican county convention, March 26,
1904.For County Auditor,
GALEN A. SHEETS,
Hanover Township.
Subject to the decision of the Republican county convention, March 26,
1904.For County Auditor,
F. F. TRIMBLE,
Perry Township.
Subject to the decision of the Republican county convention, March 26,
1904.For County Auditor,
CHARLES E. HAMILTON,
Center Township.
Subject to the decision of the Republican county convention, March 26,
1904.For County Auditor,
GEORGE HOLMES,
Perry Township.
Subject to the decision of the Republican county convention, March 26,
1904.Hearts
CourageousMALLIE
ERMINIE
RIVES

Copyright, 1902, by THE BOWEN-MERRILL COMPANY

CHAPTER III.—Continued.

Anne watched him go, a curl on her lip. When she turned at Betsy's exclamation it was first to be aware that all on the wharf were looking her way, that some of them were smiling and then that the young Frenchman, with the redemptioner woman following him, was approaching her.Before she had recovered from her astonishment he was bowing low.
"Mademoiselle," he said, "will pardon the liberty I take in addressing her?"

She bowed coldly, half startled.

"Fate," he went on, "has made me the owner of this servant, for whom,
being no landholder, I have scant use.
She speaks a strange tongue and is in a strange land, and to free her without bond time were small kindness. May I beg the favor, mademoiselle, that you take her in your service, demanding such labor as will require her support?"The indignation color flooded Anne's brow. "Sir," she said frigidly, drawing herself up, "we have strange surprises in Virginia, but surely the effrontery of our visitors surpasses them all."Armand looked clearly at her out of his dark eyes. "Mademoiselle will pardon," he answered, "the error of one of these visitors, who, seeing her face, has overestimated her graciousness and charity."With this he bowed again till his hat swept the ground, and, followed by the bondswoman, walked down the wharf toward the unloading vessel.The red in Anne's cheeks had grown to firebrands and her anger lent sting to the half concealed smirks of those who stood nearest."Land of mercy!" said Betsy, with emphasis. "What impudence!"Upon the curious crowd was thingling, Betsy's search was ended, and Arme, having left her seat in the coach, watched at nearer view the disgoring of the cargo.Here Brooke came primed with a new sensation. This now nothing less than the tale of a fight which had occurred during the voyage between the mate of the vessel and a passenger.
Anne's eyes were very soft as he finished."And who d'ye think," he ended,
"was this champion? Why, the young Frenchman yonder that you crushed so mercilessly, Mistress Tillotson?""And the redemptioner woman?" asked Anne, with something like dread."Twas the wench he won from Burnaby Rolph.""Oh!" The cadence was full of liquid self reproach."Where are you going?" Betsy asked as Anne rose. She did not answer, but walked quickly across the wharf to the spot where Armand stood. He made no movement as she came."Monsieur"— She faltered and stopped.His hat was in his hand instantly,
and he was gravely deferential."I wish to take back," she went on,
"my words of awhile ago. I assure you they were not rudely meant. I—"He stayed her with a gesture. "What am I that mademoiselle should speak
thus? I was brusque, unmanly—"

"No, no!"

"I forgot where I was—for forgot that I had not the joy of knowing her—forgotten everything but what I saw in her face
as she sat in the chariot. For I am a great magician, mademoiselle. I know
all who are lovely and gracious of
heart.""I was wrong," she said proudly.
"And for this I ask your pardon. May
—may I have the bond servant?"He smiled gayly now and bowed low to her. "To be treated with such pleasant surgery all the world would be glad
of wounds," he cried. "You recompense me a thousand times!"He signed to the serving woman who sat stolidly upon a nearby chest and pointed from himself to Anne. She understood, and when Anne put her in charge of John the Baptist to take on
ahead a pillon she went without question.Betsy watched this transaction open
mouthed."Did you ever?" she gasped. "I wonder what mother will say to that!"Armand had stepped to position, hat
under arm, at the coach door. "Mademoiselle will permit me to assist her?"
he asked and gave her the tips of his fingers. His eyes were bright on her face.

On the step she stopped, half turned.

Spring and Summer in the Allegheny Mountains.The Markleton Sanatorium,

Markleton, Somerset Co., Pa.

High up in the Allegheny mountains, Pennsylvania's leading health resort. Beautifully located and completely equipped for the treatment of all chronic and nervous diseases.An ideal place to spend the spring and summer months whether you are sick or well.Under an entire change of management since August first last. Owned and operated exclusively by physicians.All kinds of baths and electrical treatment.

Send for booklet and terms.

A delicate flush coming to her cheek—a flush that deepened to damask at his look. She hesitated an instant as if about to speak, then suddenly entered, sat down, gave the word to the driver and was whisked away. The secretary stood looking after the retreating chariot."A splendid creature," purred Brooke, at his elbow, "albeit you found her wintry.""Wintry?" exclaimed the young man.
"She who is made only of summer, its incense, its colors, its dreams! Yours is an enchanted land, monsieur, and she its goddess!""Egad, I'll make a sonnet of that!"
exclaimed Brooke. "Sink me, but it's coming back!" The latter remark was applied to the chariot, which had turned and was now approaching more slowly the spot where they stood.As it drew up Anne leaned from the window. "Monsieur," she called, "I had quite forgot to speak of the indenture."He drew it from his pocket and held it out to her."Such have to be conveyed, I make sure," she said, looking at it doubtfully.
"Your delicacy, sir, forbade you to set me right. We shall have to sign and witness a deed and what not,
I suppose.""Tis a plain indenture," said Brooke, peering.She drew it away sharply. "Alas,
we women know so little of business.
I think me my father will wish to receive to you for it."

"Mademoiselle!"

"Aye, but he will. At any rate, you would not be so ungallant as to have me blamed, sir? Will you not ride to Gladden Hall with me? 'Tis scarce a half league away."

"Mademoiselle!"

"Your father is in Williamsburg, mistress," ventured the exquisite. "I chanced to overhear him say this morning he would remain over at Colonel Byrd's until tomorrow."Anne frowned. "I fear you did not hear aright, sir," she returned coldly."And who d'ye think," he ended,
"was this champion? Why, the young
Frenchman yonder that you crushed so
mercilessly, Mistress Tillotson?""And the redemptioner woman?" asked Anne, with something like dread."Twas the wench he won from Burnaby Rolph.""Oh!" The cadence was full of liquid
self reproach."Where are you going?" Betsy asked as Anne rose. She did not answer, but walked quickly across the wharf to the spot where Armand stood. He made
no movement as she came."Monsieur"— She faltered and stopped.His hat was in his hand instantly,
and he was gravely deferential."I wish to take back," she went on,
"my words of awhile ago. I assure you
they were not rudely meant. I—"He stayed her with a gesture. "What am I that mademoiselle should speak
thus? I was brusque, unmanly—"

"No, no!"

"I forgot where I was—for forgot that I
had not the joy of knowing her—forgotten everything but what I saw in her face
as she sat in the chariot. For I am a great magician, mademoiselle. I know
all who are lovely and gracious of
heart.""I was wrong," she said proudly.
"And for this I ask your pardon. May
—may I have the bond servant?"He smiled gayly now and bowed low
to her. "To be treated with such pleasant surgery all the world would be glad
of wounds," he cried. "You recom-
pense me a thousand times!"He signed to the serving woman who sat stolidly upon a nearby chest and pointed from himself to Anne. She understood, and when Anne put her in charge of John the Baptist to take on
ahead a pillon she went without question.Betsy watched this transaction open
mouthed."Did you ever?" she gasped. "I wonder what mother will say to that!"Armand had stepped to position, hat
under arm, at the coach door. "Mademoiselle will permit me to assist her?"
he asked and gave her the tips of his fingers. His eyes were bright on her face.

On the step she stopped, half turned.

"And who d'ye think," he ended,
"was this champion? Why, the young
Frenchman yonder that you crushed so
mercilessly, Mistress Tillotson?""And the redemptioner woman?" asked Anne, with something like dread."Twas the wench he won from Burnaby Rolph.""Oh!" The cadence was full of liquid
self reproach."Where are you going?" Betsy asked as Anne rose. She did not answer, but walked quickly across the wharf to the spot where Armand stood. He made
no movement as she came."Monsieur"— She faltered and stopped.His hat was in his hand instantly,
and he was gravely deferential."I wish to take back," she went on,
"my words of awhile ago. I assure you
they were not rudely meant. I—"He stayed her with a gesture. "What am I that mademoiselle should speak
thus? I was brusque, unmanly—"

"No, no!"

"I forgot where I was—for forgot that I
had not the joy of knowing her—forgotten everything but what I saw in her face
as she sat in the chariot. For I am a great magician, mademoiselle. I know
all who are lovely and gracious of
heart.""I was wrong," she said proudly.
"And for this I ask your pardon. May
—may I have the bond servant?"He smiled gayly now and bowed low
to her. "To be treated with such pleasant surgery all the world would be glad
of wounds," he cried. "You recom-
pense me a thousand times!"He signed to the serving woman who sat stolidly upon a nearby chest and pointed from himself to Anne. She understood, and when Anne put her in charge of John the Baptist to take on
ahead a pillon she went without question.Betsy watched this transaction open
mouthed."Did you ever?" she gasped. "I wonder what mother will say to that!"Armand had stepped to position, hat
under arm, at the coach door. "Mademoiselle will permit me to assist her?"
he asked and gave her the tips of his fingers. His eyes were bright on her face.

On the step she stopped, half turned.

"And who d'ye think," he ended,
"was this champion? Why, the young
Frenchman yonder that you crushed so
mercilessly, Mistress Tillotson?""And the redemptioner woman?" asked Anne, with something like dread."Twas the wench he won from Burnaby Rolph.""Oh!" The cadence was full of liquid
self reproach."Where are you going?" Betsy asked as Anne rose. She did not answer, but walked quickly across the wharf to the spot where Armand stood. He made
no movement as she came."Monsieur"— She faltered and stopped.His hat was in his hand instantly,
and he was gravely deferential."I wish to take back," she went on,
"my words of awhile ago. I assure you
they were not rudely meant. I—"He stayed her with a gesture. "What am I that mademoiselle should speak
thus? I was brusque, unmanly—"

"No, no!"

"I forgot where I was—for forgot that I
had not the joy of knowing her—forgotten everything but what I saw in her face
as she sat in the chariot. For I am a great magician, mademoiselle. I know
all who are lovely and gracious of
heart.""I was wrong," she said proudly.
"And for this I ask your pardon. May
—may I have the bond servant?"He smiled gayly now and bowed low
to her. "To be treated with such pleasant surgery all the world would be glad
of wounds," he cried. "You recom-
pense me a thousand times!"He signed to the serving woman who sat stolidly upon a nearby chest and pointed from himself to Anne. She understood, and when Anne put her in charge of John the Baptist to take on
ahead a pillon she went without question.Betsy watched this transaction open
mouthed."Did you ever?" she gasped. "I wonder what mother will say to that!"Armand had stepped to position, hat
under arm, at the coach door. "Mademoiselle will permit me to assist her?"
he asked and gave her the tips of his fingers. His eyes were bright on her face.

On the step she stopped, half turned.

"And who d'ye think," he ended,
"was this champion? Why, the young
Frenchman yonder that you crushed so
mercilessly, Mistress Tillotson?""And the redemptioner woman?" asked Anne, with something like dread."Twas the wench he won from Burnaby Rolph.""Oh!" The cadence was full of liquid
self reproach."Where are you going?" Betsy asked as Anne rose. She did not answer, but walked quickly across the wharf to the spot where Armand stood. He made
no movement as she came."Monsieur"— She faltered and stopped.His hat was in his hand instantly,
and he was gravely deferential."I wish to take back," she went on,
"my words of awhile ago. I assure you
they were not rudely meant. I—"He stayed her with a gesture. "What am I that mademoiselle should speak
thus? I was brusque, unmanly—"

"No, no!"

"I forgot where I was—for forgot that I
had not the joy of knowing her—forgotten everything but what I saw in her face
as she sat in the chariot. For I am a great magician, mademoiselle. I know
all who are lovely and gracious of
heart.""I was wrong," she said proudly.
"And for this I ask your pardon. May
—may I have the bond servant?"He smiled gayly now and bowed low
to her. "To be treated with such pleasant surgery all the world would be glad
of wounds," he cried. "You recom-
pense me a thousand times!"He signed to the serving woman who sat stolidly upon a nearby chest and pointed from himself to Anne. She understood, and when Anne put her in charge of John the Baptist to take on
ahead a pillon she went without question.Betsy watched this transaction open
mouthed."Did you ever?" she gasped. "I wonder what mother will say to that!"Armand had stepped to position, hat
under arm, at the coach door. "Mademoiselle will permit me to assist her?"
he asked and gave her the tips of his fingers. His eyes were bright on her face.

On the step she stopped, half turned.

"And who d'ye think," he ended,
"was this champion? Why, the young
Frenchman yonder that you crushed so
mercilessly, Mistress Tillotson?""And the redemptioner woman?" asked Anne, with something like dread."Twas the wench he won from Burnaby Rolph.""Oh!" The cadence was full of liquid
self reproach."Where are you going?" Betsy asked as Anne rose. She did not answer, but walked quickly across the wharf to the spot where Armand stood. He made
no movement as she came."Monsieur"— She faltered and stopped.His hat was in his hand instantly,
and he was gravely deferential."I wish to take back," she went on,
"my words of awhile ago. I assure you
they were not rudely meant. I—"He stayed her with a gesture. "What am I that mademoiselle should speak
thus? I was brusque, unmanly—"

"No, no!"

"I forgot where I was—for forgot that I
had not the joy of knowing her—forgotten everything but what I saw in her face
as she sat in the chariot. For I am a great magician, mademoiselle. I know
all who are lovely and gracious of
heart.""I was wrong," she said proudly.
"And for this I ask your pardon. May
—may I have the bond servant?"He smiled gayly now and bowed low
to her. "To be treated with such pleasant surgery all the world would be glad
of wounds," he cried. "You recom-
pense me a thousand times!"He signed to the serving woman who sat stolidly upon a nearby chest and pointed from himself to Anne. She understood, and when Anne put her in charge of John the Baptist to take on
ahead a pillon she went without question.Betsy watched this transaction open
mouthed."Did you ever?" she gasped. "I wonder what mother will say to that!"Armand had stepped to position, hat
under arm, at the coach door. "Mademoiselle will permit me to assist her?"
he asked and gave her the tips of his fingers. His eyes were bright on her face.

On the step she stopped, half turned.

"And who d'ye think," he ended,
"was this champion? Why, the young
Frenchman yonder that you crushed so
mercilessly, Mistress Tillotson?""And the redemptioner woman?" asked Anne, with something like dread."Twas the wench he won from Burnaby Rolph.""Oh!" The cadence was full of liquid
self reproach."Where are you going?" Betsy asked as Anne rose. She did not answer, but walked quickly across the wharf to the spot where Armand stood. He made
no movement as she came."Monsieur"— She faltered and stopped.His hat was in his hand instantly,
and he was gravely deferential."I wish to take back," she went on,
"my words of awhile ago. I assure you
they were not rudely meant. I—"He stayed her with a gesture. "What am I that mademoiselle should speak
thus? I was brusque, unmanly—"

"No, no!"

"I forgot where I was—for forgot that I
had not the joy of knowing her—forgotten everything but what I saw in her face
as she sat in the chariot. For I am a great magician, mademoiselle. I know
all who are lovely and gracious of
heart.""I was wrong," she said proudly.
"And for this I ask your pardon. May
—may I have the bond servant?"He smiled gayly now and bowed low
to her. "To be treated with such pleasant surgery all the world would be glad
of wounds," he cried. "You recom-
pense me a thousand times!"He signed to the serving woman who sat stolidly upon a nearby chest and pointed from himself to Anne. She understood, and when Anne put her in charge of John the Baptist to take on
ahead a pillon she went without question.Betsy watched this transaction open
mouthed."Did you ever?" she gasped. "I wonder what mother will say to that!"Armand had stepped to position, hat
under arm, at the coach door. "Mademoiselle will permit me to assist her?"
he asked and gave her the tips of his fingers. His eyes were bright on her face.

On the step she stopped, half turned.

"And who d'ye think," he ended,
"was this champion? Why, the young
Frenchman yonder that you crushed so
mercilessly, Mistress Tillotson?""And the redemptioner woman?" asked Anne, with something like dread."Twas the wench he won from Burnaby Rolph.""Oh!" The cadence was full of liquid self reproach.

Spring's Brightest Fancies In Ready-to-Wear Garments

Begins to look as if all these pretty garments were in advance of the weather. Spring Suits, Jackets and Skirts are arriving by every train and our assortment is unsurpassed in East Liverpool. Almost every style that your fancy can picture is represented here and at prices that cannot be duplicated elsewhere. Come in and see them for yourself as space permits us only to hint of the many styles.

NEW SPRING SUITS mostly all in the Eton Jacket Effect and made of the latest novelties in fancy suitings. $10.98, 15.00, 18.00 and up

SPRING RAIN COATS of light weight, waterproof suitings and Sicilian cloth, mostly all with capes and very prettily trimmed $10.98, 15.00 and 18.00

NOBBY SPRING JACKETS, mostly of the new Covert Cloths. Several different styles from which to select, with and without capes. $5.98 to 15.00

NEW WALKING SKIRTS—Dozens and dozens from which to make your selection including a manufacturers' sample line. We would advise you to come early while the assortment is complete. Prices from $2.98 to 10.00

Hats Trimmed Free of Charge.

THE LEADER

Knowles Block, Washington Street.

We Still Have a Nice Lot of Good Shoes

In late shapes and excellent quality that we will close out 25 per cent less than they are worth. Most any style you may need, men's, Ladies' and Children's.

R. W. Sample & Co.

Diamond, East Liverpool, Ohio.
Public Square, Wellsville, Ohio.

Ladies' vicl kid, pat tip, velvet top shoes, sale price $1.45, at FRANK, SHUMAKER & CO. 54-h

Tickets for the Elks' benefit, March 16, can be obtained at the office of Herbert & Travis. Prices, 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50. 54-h

Spring Suitings are now in at F. Laufenburger's. 54-h

Tickets for the Elks' benefit, March 16, can be obtained at the office of Herbert & Travis. Prices, 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50. 54-h

HEAR MISS GRIFFITH SING JEWELL CONCERT, MARCH 8.

Tickets for the Elks' benefit, March 16, can be obtained at the office of Herbert & Travis. Prices, 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50. 54-h

HOME AFFAIRS

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature And of Matters About Town.

Service Board—The public service board is to hold a regular session tonight.

A Daughter Born—A daughter was born last night to Mr. and Mrs. Philip McShane, of Lisbon street.

Broke a Leg—Mrs. Lizzie Sheets, of Lincoln avenue, broke a leg by a fall at her home. She is getting along well.

Knowles' Purchase—Edwin M. Knowles has purchased a new pattern touring car in Philadelphia. It will be one of the finest autos in the city.

Stranded By the Flood—The flood left the theatrical company that was to appear here last night stranded at Salineville and there was no performance at the Grand.

Thriving Business—The local recruiting office of the United States army is doing a thriving business. Since it was established 26 men have enlisted and 23 have been rejected.

Pastor Expected Soon—Rev. Edwin McMillin, of Adrian, Mich., is expected to arrive in this city in time to begin pastoral work at the First Presbyterian church March 20. The newly purchased residence is being renovated for his occupancy.

They come to look and remain to buy big bargains at FRANK, SHUMAKER & CO. 54-h

Don't forget Jewell concert, March 8. Tickets on sale at Reed's drug store. Prices, 75 cents and $1. 54-a

Have you seen the new spring suitings at Laufenburger's? Market St. 54-h

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY FOR RENT—A small two room house for parties without children. Apply to 340 Fourth street. 54-r

SOUTH SIDE

TWO MEN FINED

Management of Southside Street Cars Will Put a Stop to Disorder on Cars.

That the management of the Chester and East Liverpool railroad proposes to protect its patrons from insult and disorderly conduct on its line was again demonstrated yesterday when two arrests were made.

James Moore and Samuel Martin, both of Chester, were given salty doses in the court of Justice W. C. Johnston. The men were found guilty of using profane language and acting in a disorderly manner on the street cars. The offense that Martin was fined for took place January 30 and he was assessed $28.60, or the alternative of going to the New Cumberland jail for 60 days. Another charge against Martin for a like offense was not prosecuted, but still hangs over his head.

The offense for which Moore was prosecuted took place the night of February 29 and he was assessed $28.60, with the choice of paying or spending 30 days in jail.

Both men made arrangements for the payment of their fines.

MONEY PAID OUT

For Coal Land Purchased at New Cumberland—Site for Switches And Tipples Bought.

E. G. Whitten, of Uniontown, Pa., and B. F. Kline, of Washington, Pa., have been in town and made a second payment on the coal recently purchased by them near New Cumberland. The block purchased includes the coal under the Wilkin, Dorman, Mayhew, Bambrick and other farms. The sums of money paid was about $5,000, the owners of the farms receiving the genuine long green.

They have purchased from A. F. Wilkin and James M. Porter the old brick yard property in the upper end for the purpose of erecting their tipples and switches.

Panhandle Resumed.

Two huge landslides between New Cumberland and Chester prevented the running of trains on the Panhandle yesterday. Large forces of workmen were busy all of yesterday and succeeded in clearing the tracks sufficiently to permit the accommodation train to pass up late yesterday afternoon. The train could go no farther than Third street, however, as the tracks were covered with mud and water at several points above that.

No Meeting Held.

No meeting of the Chester council was held last night owing to the inability of Mayor Mercer and Recorder Huff to be present. It is said a number of citizens were present ready to make a protest against the city's money being used for the purpose of erecting a new jail. The fact that no meeting was held compelled the parties to postpone action, but it will undoubtedly be brought up at the next meeting of the council.

Unclaimed Letters.

Following is a list of letters remaining in the Chester postoffice March 1, 1904:

James Kevin (2), William Jackson, Edward Peters, R. W. Young, William Taylor, A. A. Thompson, Thomas Stephens, Joseph Severs, S. A. Ride, William Potenger, C. M. Piper, C. G. McCullough, William M. Doty, William M. Hall, E. M. Hineman, J. D. Henderson, F. Crowley.

Mrs. J. W. Allison, Mrs. J. A. Cond, Mrs. J. H. Evans, Miss Anna Allison, Miss Florence Kilgore, Miss Mary B. Johnston.

CHESTER NOTES.

Frank Orr, of the mill addition, is ill.

Miss Ethel Martin, of Fairview, is the guest of Chester friends.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. David Thomas, of the mill addition, a daughter.

A daughter has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sharp, of the mill addition.

Harvey Allison will erect a new five room dwelling on a lot recently purchased on Carolina avenue.

Mrs. Sherman Huff, who has been visiting relatives at New Cumberland, has returned to her home in Chester.

Miss Harriet Miller, who has been attending school in Chester, has returned to her home at Fairview and is suffering from measles.

Word was received in Chester yesterday to the effect that Edward Hadley, residing in the country south of Chester, had been seriously injured by coming in contact with the knife of a hay cutter.

Plans are being prepared for a modern dwelling to be erected in Chester by Cashier O. O. Allison, of the First National bank. The residence will be one of the finest in this section, and will be built during the coming summer.

The

Story of New Spring Styles PICTORIALLY TOLD.

To which we might add that more progressive and more aggressive measures enable us to furnish better values than ever—furnish values equal to the best in the land.

Men's Excellent Suits and Top Coats $11.00.

Men's High Art Suits and Top Coats $14.75.

Men's Good Suits and Top Coats $9.50.

The Best Grades of $1.25 Shirts for 95c.

Advertising is expensive and we propose to make ours profitable by making it reliable. We do not ask you to wade through a long discription—we quote the prices with accompanying adjectives and we add you need not buy because you look nor keep because you buy, being satisfied that all lookers will pronounce ours the best values and if they err, in their judgment, they have redress—money back—no argument.

Some New Suits for Boys

Blouse Suits which you will pronounce good $5 values, if values are gauged by general offerings. These are of blue serge bought most advantageously and sold with the curtailed profits which our new policy dictates. $3.95

Buster Brown Suits in the new plain rough finished goods as well as in fancy imported Cheviots; some with separate linen cuffs. Could not begin to do them justice in a small ad. and advise inspection. $6 and $8

New Cravenettes—the sensible, stylish Top Coats as good in rain as in shine—as good in shine as in rain. $11.00

And if this value and sale price is found incorrect, just remember that you need not keep because you buy.

Traveling Goods

A very sightly lot of Suit Cases as good as real leather $2.45

Genuine Leather Suit Cases—dark shades—splendid lock—leather corners. $3.45

Trunks—Neat—fairly durable—size 26. Would not recommend them for traveling around the world, but good enough for most occasions. $1.98

A Square Top Trunk with iron bottom and canvass covered. Size 28 $2.75

Better goods of course—better prices, too.

AUTOMOBILE FACTORY WAS THE PROJECT

It Did Not Materialize And a Suit for Rent of Building Resulted.

Lisbon, March 4.—(Special).—A case in which Paul Metzger, of Salem, is plaintiff against Ellis Roberts, of East Palestine, was heard by Judge Hole yesterday afternoon and was dismissed at the cost of the plaintiff, who gave notice of appeal. The plaintiff asks judgment for $300 with interest from March 1, 1903, alleged to be due for the rent of the Salem Lock company property in Salem. The sum sued for is the rent alleged to be due at the end of the first quarter.

In an answer and cross petition the defendant maintains that the lease, according to the agreement, was not to become binding unless he succeeded in organizing a stock company with a capital of $80,000, of which stock the plaintiff was to subscribe $5,000, for the manufacture of automobiles. Mr. Roberts says that before the beginning of the team of the lease he informed the plaintiff that he had been unable to organize the stock company and offered to surrender the lease.

A further agreement was thereupon entered into, he says, whereby he was to have an extension of time to complete some negotiations with Pittsburg capitalists. He was unable to make any agreement and surrendered his lease on December 11, 1902. Mr. Roberts asks that the lease be declared null and void.

HEAR VON KUNITS, VIOLINIST, JEWELL CONCERT, MARCH 8. 54-a

Dr. C. W. Baker, Physician and Surgeon,

Office and residence 131 Fifth St., in Capt. Myers' Residence. Office Hours, 9 to 10 a. m., 1 to 3 and 7 to 9 p. m.

Tickets for the Elks' benefit, March 16, can be obtained at the office of Herbert & Travis. Prices, 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50. 54-h

Beautiful spring suitings, latest patterns at F. Laufenburger's. 54-h

Men's lace shoes, all sizes, 95c. at FRANK, SHUMAKER & CO. 54-h

Think Twice

Before you speak of buying Life Insurance.

Then talk with

Geo. H. Owen & Co.

About the Annual Dividend Policies of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co.

Our Spring Hats

Are in every way worthy the attention of men of discriminating taste. Which style of hat do you prefer? If you haven't made up your mind, a visit here will help you. If you have decided, you will see the style here in just the color and size you want. The new ones are here—get the first selection.

A. G. MINEHART,

No Clothing Fits Like Ours.

Hard's Old Stand, 5th St.

East Liverpool, O.

Spring's Brightest Fancies In Ready-to-Wear Garments

Begins to look as if all these pretty garments were in advance of the weather. Spring Suits, Jackets and Skirts are arriving by every train and our assortment is unsurpassed in East Liverpool. Almost every style that your fancy can picture is represented here and at prices that cannot be duplicated elsewhere. Come in and see them for yourself as space permits us only to hint of the many styles.

NEW SPRING SUITS mostly all in the Eton Jacket Effect and made of the latest novelties in fancy suitings. . . . . $10.98, 15.00, 18.00 and up

SPRING RAIN COATS of light weight, waterproof suitings and Sicilian cloth, mostly all with capes and very prettily trimmed $10.98, 15.00 and 18.00

NOBBY SPRING JACKETS, mostly of the new Covert Cloths. Several different styles from which to select, with and without capes. . . . . $5.98 to 15.00

NEW WALKING SKIRTS—Dozens and dozens from which to make your selection including a manufacturers' sample line. We would advise you to come early while the assortment is complete. Prices from . . . . . $2.98 to 10.00

Hats Trimmed
Free of Charge.

THE LEADER

Knowles Block,
Washington Street.

SOUTH SIDE

TWO MEN FINED

Management of Southside Street Cars Will Put a Stop to Disorder on Cars.

That the management of the Chester and East Liverpool railroad proposes to protect its patrons from insult and disorderly conduct on its line was again demonstrated yesterday when two arrests were made.

James Moore and Samuel Martin, both of Chester, were given salty doses in the court of Justice W. C. Johnston. The men were found guilty of using profane language and acting in a disorderly manner on the street cars. The offense that Martin was fined for took place January 30 and he was assessed $28.60, or the alternative of going to the New Cumberland jail for 60 days. Another charge against Martin for a like offense was not prosecuted, but still hangs over his head.

The offense for which Moore was prosecuted took place the night of February 29 and he was assessed $28.60, with the choice of paying or spending 30 days in jail.

Both men made arrangements for the payment of their fines.

MONEY PAID OUT

For Coal Land Purchased at New Cumberland—Site for Switches and Tipples Bought.

E. G. Whitten, of Uniontown, Pa., and B. F. Kline, of Washington, Pa., have been in town and made a second payment on the coal recently purchased by them near New Cumberland. The block purchased includes the coal under the Wilkin, Dorman, Mayhew, Bambrick and other farms. The sums of money paid was about $5,000, the owners of the farms receiving the genuine long green.

They have purchased from A. F. Wilkin and James M. Porter the old brick yard property in the upper end for the purpose of erecting their tipples and switches.

Panhandle Resumed.

Two huge landslides between New Cumberland and Chester prevented the running of trains on the Panhandle yesterday. Large forces of workmen were busy all of yesterday and succeeded in clearing the tracks sufficiently to permit the accommodation train to pass up late yesterday afternoon. The train could go no farther than Third street, however, as the tracks were covered with mud and water at several points above that.

No Meeting Held.

No meeting of the Chester council was held last night owing to the inability of Mayor Mercer and Recorder Huff to be present. It is said a number of citizens were present ready to make a protest against the city's money being used for the purpose of erecting a new jail. The fact that no meeting was held compelled the parties to postpone action, but it will undoubtedly be brought up at the next meeting of the council.

Unclaimed Letters.

Following is a list of letters remaining in the Chester postoffice March 1, 1904:

James Kevin (2), William Jackson, Edward Peters, R. W. Young, William Taylor, A. A. Thompson, Thomas Stephens, Joseph Severs, S. A. Ride, William Potenger, C. M. Piper, C. G. McCullough, William M. Doty, William M. Hall, E. M. Hineman, J. D. Henderson, F. Crowley.

Mrs. J. W. Allison, Mrs. J. A. Cond, Mrs. J. H. Evans, Miss Anna Allison, Miss Florence Kilgore, Miss Mary B. Johnston.

CHESTER NOTES.

Frank Orr, of the mill addition, is ill.

Miss Ethel Martin, of Fairview, is the guest of Chester friends.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. David Thomas, of the mill addition, a daughter.

A daughter has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sharp, of the mill addition.

Harvey Allison will erect a new five room dwelling on a lot recently purchased on Carolina avenue.

Mrs. Sherman Huff, who has been visiting relatives at New Cumberland, has returned to her home in Chester.

Miss Harriet Miller, who has been attending school in Chester, has returned to her home at Fairview and is suffering from measles.

Word was received in Chester yesterday to the effect that Edward Hadley, residing in the country south of Chester, had been seriously injured by coming in contact with the knife of a hay cutter.

Plans are being prepared for a modern dwelling to be erected in Chester by Cashier O. O. Allison, of the First National bank. The residence will be one of the finest in this section, and will be built during the coming summer.

The Story of New Spring Styles PICTORIALLY TOLD.

To which we might add that more progressive and more aggressive measures enable us to furnish better values than ever—furnish values equal to the best in the land.

Men's Excellent Suits and Top Coats $11.00.

Men's High Art Suits and Top Coats $14.75.

Men's Good Suits and Top Coats $9.50.

The Best Grades of $1.25 Shirts for 95c.

Advertising is expensive and we propose to make ours profitable by making it reliable. We do not ask you to wade through a long description—we quote the prices with accompanying adjectives and we add you need not buy because you look nor keep because you buy, being satisfied that all lookers will pronounce ours the best values and if they err, in their judgment, they have redress—money back—no argument.

Some New Suits for Boys

Blouse Suits which you will pronounce good $5 values, if values are gauged by general offerings. These are of blue serge bought most advantageously and sold with the curtailed profits which our new policy dictates. . . . . $3.95

Buster Brown Suits in the new plain rough finished goods as well as in fancy imported Cheviots; some with separate linen cuffs. Could not begin to do them justice in a small ad. and advise inspection. . . . . $6 and $8

New Cravenettes—the sensible, stylish Top Coats as good in rain as in shine—as good in shine as in rain. $11.00

And if this value and sale price is found incorrect, just remember that you need not keep because you buy.

Traveling Goods

A very slightly lot of Suit Cases as good as real leather $2.45

Genuine Leather Suit Cases—dark shades—splendid lock—leather corners. . . . . $3.45

Trunks—Neat—fairly durable—size 26. Would not recommend them for traveling around the world, but good enough for most occasions. . . . . $1.98

A Square Top Trunk with iron bottom and canvass covered. Size 28 . . . . . $2.75

Better goods of course—better prices, too.

AUTOMOBILE FACTORY WAS THE PROJECT

It Did Not Materialize And a Suit for Rent of Building Resulted.

Lisbon, March 4.—(Special.)—A case in which Paul Metzger, of Salem, is plaintiff against Ellis Roberts, of East Palestine, was heard by Judge Hole yesterday afternoon and was dismissed at the cost of the plaintiff, who gave notice of appeal. The plaintiff asks judgment for $300 with interest from March 1, 1903, alleged to be due for the rent of the Salem Lock company property in Salem. The sum sued for is the rent alleged to be due at the end of the first quarter.

In an answer and cross petition the defendant maintains that the lease, according to the agreement, was not to become binding unless he succeeded in organizing a stock company with a capital of $80,000, of which stock the plaintiff was to subscribe $5,000, for the manufacture of automobiles. Mr. Roberts says that before the beginning of the term of the lease he informed the plaintiff that he had been unable to organize the stock company and offered to surrender the lease.

A further agreement was thereupon entered into, he says, whereby he was to have an extension of time to complete some negotiations with Pittsburgh capitalists. He was unable to make any agreement and surrendered his lease on December 11, 1902. Mr. Roberts asks that the lease be declared null and void.

HEAR VON KUNITS, VIOLINIST, JEWELL CONCERT, MARCH 8. 54-a

Dr. C. W. Baker,

Physician and Surgeon,

Office and residence 131 Fifth St., in Capt. Myers' Residence. Office Hours, 9 to 10 a. m., 1 to 3 and 7 to 9 p. m.

Men's lace shoes, all sizes, 50c. at FRANK, SHUMAKER & CO. 54-b

Think Twice

Before you speak of buying Life Insurance.

Then talk with

Geo. H. Owen & Co.

About the Annual Dividend Policies of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co.

Tickets for the Elks' benefit, March 16, can be obtained at the office of Herbert & Travis. Prices, 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50. 54-h

We Still Have a Nice Lot of Good Shoes

In late shapes and excellent quality that we will close out 25 per cent less than they are worth. Most any style you may need, men's, Ladies' and Children's.

R. W. Sample & Co.

Diamond, East Liverpool, Ohio.
Public Square, Wellsville, Ohio.

Ladies' vic' kid, pat tip, velvet top shoes, sale price $1.45, at FRANK, SHUMAKER & CO. 54-h

Tickets for the Elks' benefit, March 16, can be obtained at the office of Herbert & Travis. Prices, 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50. 54-h

Spring Suitings are now in at F. Laufenburger's. 54-h

Tickets for the Elks' benefit, March 16, can be obtained at the office of Herbert & Travis. Prices, 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50. 54-h

HEAR MISS GRIFFITH SING JEWELL CONCERT, MARCH 8. 54-h

Tickets for the Elks' benefit, March 16, can be obtained at the office of Herbert & Travis. Prices, 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50. 54-h

HOME AFFAIRS

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature And of Matters About Town.

Service Board—The public service board is to hold a regular session tonight.

A Daughter Born—A daughter was born last night to Mr. and Mrs. Philip McShane, of Lisbon street.

Broke a Leg—Mrs. Lizzie Sheets, of Lincoln avenue, broke a leg by a fall at her home. She is getting along well.

Knowles' Purchase—Edwin M. Knowles has purchased a new pattern touring car in Philadelphia. It will be one of the finest autos in the city.

Stranded By the Flood—The flood left the theatrical company that was to appear here last night stranded at Salineville and there was no performance at the Grand.

Thriving Business—The local recruiting office of the United States army is doing a thriving business. Since it was established 26 men have enlisted and 23 have been rejected.

Pastor Expected Soon—Rev. Edwin McMillin, of Adrian, Mich., is expected to arrive in this city in time to begin pastoral work at the First Presbyterian church March 20. The newly purchased residence is being renovated for his occupancy.

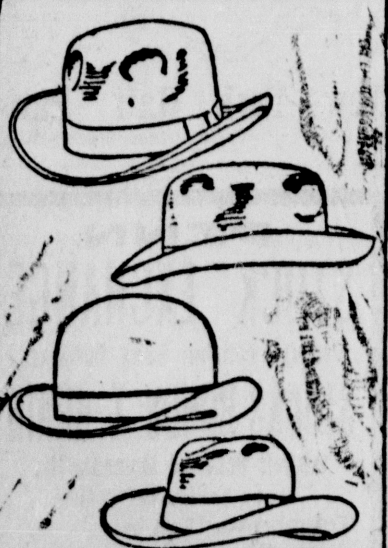

They come to look and remain to buy big bargains at FRANK, SHUMAKER & CO. 54-h

Don't forget Jewell concert, March 8. Tickets on sale at Reed's drug store. Prices, 75 cents and $1. 54-a

Have you seen the new spring suitings at Laufenburger's? Market St. 54-h

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

FOR RENT—A small two room house for parties without children. Apply to 340 Fourth street. 54-r

Our Spring Hats

Are in every way worthy the attention of men of discriminating taste. Which style of hat do you prefer? If you haven't made up your mind, a visit here will help you. If you have decided, you will see the style here in just the color and size you want. The new ones are here—get the first selection.

A. G. MINEHART,
No Clothing Fits Like Ours.

Hard's Old Stand, 5th St.

East Liverpool, O.

Those dreadful hot flashes, sending the blood surging to the heart until it seems ready to burst, and the faint feeling that follows, sometimes with chills, as if the heart were going to stop forever, are only a few of the symptoms of dangerous nervous trouble. The nerves are crying out for assistance. The cry should be heeded in time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was prepared to meet the needs of woman's system at this trying period of her life, and all women who use it pass through this trying period with comfort and safety.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

1997

CHANGE of LIFE

Owing to modern methods of living, not one woman in a thousand approaches this perfectly natural change without experiencing a train of very annoying and sometimes painful symptoms.

Those dreadful hot flashes, sending the blood surging to the heart until it seems ready to burst, and the faint feeling that follows, sometimes with chills, as if the heart were going to stop forever, are only a few of the symptoms of dangerous nervous trouble. The nerves are crying out for assistance. The cry should be heeded in time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was prepared to meet the needs of woman's system at this trying period of her life, and all women who use it pass through this trying period with comfort and safety.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"I feel it my duty to write you about the wonderful cure your medicine has brought about."

"I suffered for years with change of life. I would have fainting spells, either before or after my monthly periods. They would come on me suddenly. Sometimes I would be on the street."

"I had pains all over me. My head ached all the time, could take no walks or go up stairs without becoming completely exhausted. I suffered untold misery. I tried doctor's medicines for a long time, but derived no benefit."

"I cannot say too much in praise of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and would advise all sufferers of female trouble to use it, for it will certainly cure them."—Mrs. LIZZIE C. REYNOLDS, Buchanan, Va.

When one stops to think about the good these women derived from this great medicine, it seems almost beyond belief; yet it is all true as stated in their letters published above at their own request.

For these ills no other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. Refuse all substitutes.

As a positive fact the private files at Lydia E. Pinkham's laboratory contain thousands of letters from women who have been safely carried through that danger period "Change of Life." The cures of Mrs. Reynolds and Mrs. Blake are not unusual ones for this medicine to accomplish.

"My trouble was change of life and cramping. No human tongue can describe what I suffered with the cramp. I dreaded from one time to another so much that I almost wanted to die."

"Our family physician did everything he could for me, but I got no relief. He said if I lived to get through with the other trouble, it would wear away after a time, but I had it six years and could not walk or exercise in any way without bringing on an attack of the cramp, and I would suffer untold misery until I would be perfectly exhausted and helpless."

"I read in one of your little books about your medicine being good for female trouble and change of life, and thought there was no harm in trying it, so I did, and it helped me and I was able to take walks and work some."

"I am very thankful for the relief your medicine has been to me."—Mrs. V. M. BLAKE, Deep Water, W. Va.

So much helpful advice to women who are sick can be had elsewhere as will be received free by addressing Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass.—if you are sick write her—you are foolish if you don't. She speaks from the greatest experience.

$5000

FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

DR. GLADDEN IS OPPOSED

Protests Earnestly Against Proposed Abolition of Spring Elections.

STATE AND LOCAL ISSUES

Should Be Kept Entirely Distinct, According to His Idea—Cumbersome Ballot Also an Objection—He Favors Independent Voting.

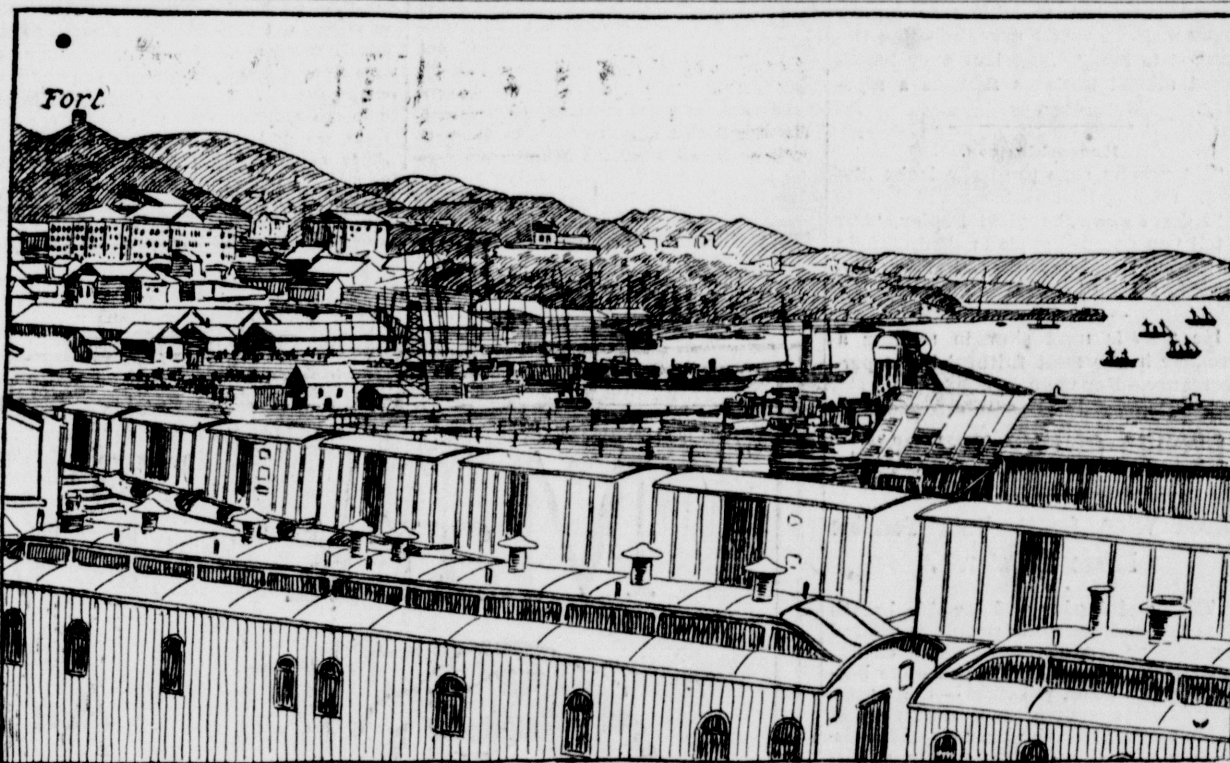

The following strong letter on the bill to abolish spring elections has been written by Dr. Washington Gladden.

Will you permit me to enter my most earnest protest against the bill which proposes to abolish the spring elections, and to hold national, state, county and municipal elections on the same day? In my judgment it is the most mischievous measure which has been introduced into the general assembly since I have lived in Ohio. It would be sure to result in a great lowering of the standards of political morality, and in a very serious obstruction to the efforts which honest men of all parties are now making to secure better government for our citizens.

The one principle upon which the vast majority of the men who are studying municipal problems are agreed is that city politics must be absolutely separated from state and national politics. State and national issues have nothing whatever to do with municipal questions; it is perfectly absurd to elect city officers upon national issues. The parties, in city politics, stand for nothing but the spoils of office; not a vestige of a principle ever appears in them; therefore they are and needs must be utterly selfish and almost uniformly corrupt. This is the fundamental reason why our city governments are, as a rule, so much worse than our state and national governments.

The only way to rescue them from this pit is to keep them separate from national politics so that we may have independent action.

It is true that we have had separate municipal elections, but hitherto the partisan spirit has mainly controlled them. It is only within a very few years that common sense has begun to assert itself in city politics and independent action has begun to appear. This is the ground of our hope. As soon as a fair percentage of our intelligent voters have succeeded in disregarding the claims of party in municipal elections, and in acting together in the public interest we shall secure good nominations by the parties and good administration in our municipalities. The organization of independent parties, or the nomination of independent candidates is not, ordinarily, wise; but the union of a large number of citizens, who hold the balance of power and who can demand from both parties good nominations, is a method which may be made very effective in improving city government.

GENERAL VIEW OF THE TOWN AND HARBOR OF VLADIVOSTOK.

The town of Vladivostok, against which the Japanese appear to be getting ready to make a combined attack by land and by water, is the eastern terminus of Russia's Transiberian railway. It is admirably located for defensive purposes, and with the same amount of money expended upon it might be made as nearly impregnable as Port Arthur, although it, of course, lacks the strategic advantage given to Port Arthur by the Liautong peninsula. The fort on the high hill at the extreme left is equipped with very heavy guns and can easily sweep the entire harbor. Each of the hills farther to the right and each point of land is furnished with a fort or a battery, as Russia regards Vladivostok as being of greater importance to her even than Port Arthur.

It may be said that government must always be by party. So long as parties have any principles to which they may appeal this plea may have some force; when a party has no other bond of union than spoils of office it is less conclusive. But this much is perfectly certain—the only thing that will keep parties in a city government from becoming corrupt and accused is the existence of a large body of independent voters who have the power and the will to punish them for their sins and failures. If municipal elections are kept separate from state and national elections such independent action can be maintained; if they are combined with the other elections, that result will be difficult if not impossible.

It is to prevent this independent action in municipal elections that this measure is particularly designed. Something will be said about the expense of the separate municipal elections, but that is not the main purpose of this bill. If that were the real design, it would be possible to change the constitution so that our state elections should occur once in two years, and the city elections in the alternate years. That would be a wise measure. But that would not serve the purpose of those who are pushing this scheme. What they want is to discourage independent action in city elections.

The cumbersomeness of the ballot which we shall be called upon to use, if this thing goes through, should be well noted. Has any one taken pains to count up the number of names that will be placed upon the blanket ballot when national, state, county and city officers are all to be voted for?

There will be several scores of them on each ticket. Is this calculated to promote intelligent voting? It will be simply impossible for any man to mark his ticket intelligently in the short time that is given him in the booth. Intelligent selection of candidates would be a farce under such a scheme. Intelligent selection of candidates is not wanted by the men who are promoting it. They propose to compel the voters to vote as partisans. It is an outrage upon free citizenship—the most daring and damnable outrage that has been proposed since I have lived in Ohio. And the party which puts the thing through may make up its mind to encounter the indignation of every man in the state to whom the interests of better city government are dear.

There are a good many men in Ohio—an increasing number of them—who know that the question of better city government in this county is ten times more important than any question of state or national politics—who care a great deal more about the administration of affairs of their cities than they care who is president or governor or senator at Washington. It will not, I think, be wholesome for machine politicians to strike these men in the face with such a bill as this, which it is proposed to railroad through our general assembly. They are men who have memories.

It is not best to assume that this bill is going through with no opposition. It must be that there are men in the assembly who will stand up against it. And all citizens to whom the iniquity of the measure is obvious should bestir themselves and make their wishes known. Let every man who objects to being practically disfranchised in the matters that are of most consequence to him, see his representatives in Columbus, or write to them. Let petitions and protests be poured in. There is not a minute to waste. Only the most prompt and resolute action can prevent the passage of a measure which means infinite mischief.

WASHINGTON GLADDEN.

A Timely Suggestion.

This is the season of the year when the prudent and careful housewife replenishes her supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is certain to be needed before the winter is over, and results are much more prompt and satisfactory when it is kept at hand and given as soon as the cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system. In almost every instance a severe cold may be warded off by taking this remedy freely as soon as the first indication of the cold appears. There is no danger in giving it to children, for it contains no harmful substance. It is pleasant to take—both adults and children like it. Buy it and you will get the best. It always cures. Sold by Alvin H. Bulger.

A Grand Success.

Mrs. De Style—I've got ahead of Mrs. De Fashion for the first time. Husband—How? Mrs. De Style—At Mrs. De Fashion's last party two of the guests fainted, but at my grand reception last night the crush was so great that six of the ladies had to be carried out, and one had to have a doctor.

Hives are a terrible torment to the little folks, and to some older ones. Easily cured. Doan's Ointment never fails. Instant relief, permanent cure. At any drug store, 50 cents.

Colonial Tickets to West And North-west via Pennsylvania Lines.

One way second-class colonist tickets to California, the North Pacific coast, Montana and Idaho will be sold via Pennsylvania lines from March 1st to April 30th, inclusive. For particulars apply to nearest ticket agent of those lines.

THE RAPID RISE OF ELMER DOVER

The Late Senator Hanna's Private Secretary Coming to the Front.

HE IS STILL A YOUNG MAN

And Besides Being the Secretary of the Republican National Committee, is Mentioned For Congress in Two Ohio Districts.

In 1896 a young man named Elmer Dover, working as "the staff" of a small country daily in Portsmouth, O., was taken to Chicago by Charles Dick, then assistant secretary of the national committee of the Republican party, to sit at a desk in Mr. Dick's office and bang a typewriter. Recently Mr. Dover has been appointed secretary of the Republican national committee to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Perry Heath. He is mentioned as a most probable selection to fill that position after the Chicago convention, through the campaign of 1904, says W. S. Couch in a Washington letter. The late Senator Hanna, with whom Dover has been associated since 1897, spoke of him on one occasion as "the best secretary any man ever had," and Senator Hanna was well acquainted with George Bruce Cortelyou, whose work with President McKinley won him a place in the cabinet specially created for him.

Incidentally Elmer Dover's name is mentioned in two Ohio districts as a man whose selection as a congressman would be popular. State Senator James Stewart, chairman of the delegation from Cleveland to the Ohio general assembly, went so far in his enthusiasm as to tell Representative T. E. Burton, to whom he refused his support as a successor to Senator Hanna, that his own untrammelled choice would be Dover.

Elmer Dover is still a young man in his first thirties. Personally he is short and stout; equipped with a self-possession and good nature, proof against the most irritating or trying situation; an entertaining talker who can hold his tongue; a man from whom no secret ever escaped and who never fails to extract all the facts from the other fellow on whom the operation, under the ether of Dover's frank, innocent cordiality, is painless. He has valuable knowledge of politics, gleaned from the innermost inside. He has the executive ability that aroused Senator Hanna's admiration, himself successful by exercise of this same quality.

Never was more severe test applied to a man in his position than that which confronted Secretary Dover through Senator Hanna's illness and after his death. In comparison of it with the problem so similar that confronted Mr. Cortelyou at Buffalo, the secretary to the president had greater facilities if heavier responsibilities. Secretary Dover's success was signal. And the thorough and intimate information secured by the press of the country from the sick room was due to him and the policy he determined upon at the outset and persuaded Senator Hanna's family to adopt.

Secretary Dover secured a common school education in the country of southern Ohio. At 16 he edited and managed a country paper—and succeeded with it. He went to Akron, where he worked on local papers and became acquainted with Charles Dick, then one of the younger Ohio politicians, and an unsuccessful candidate for secretary of state. He went back to Portsmouth to do work similar to that which had kept him at Akron. His salary ranged between $10 and $20 a week. At Chicago in 1896 he met Senator Hanna, a hundreds of other young men did. He worked at headquarters, as did some score of others. He won Dick's approval, and when Senator M. A. Hanna entered his fight at Columbus for his first election to the seat he then held by appointment, Dick sent for Dover, among others, to help. Dover worked hard there, as always. Dick recommended him to Senator Hanna, after the battle was won, as a secretary. Dover was accepted, somewhat doubtfully, on trial, and thereafter he and the senator were inseparable.

Their relations were more than employer and employee. It was master and disciple. Senator Hanna never bothered with details. The responsibilities laid upon Dover broadened until they were heavy indeed. His advice was sought and accepted; most

CUT OUT THIS COUPON

Take It To Will Reed's, and Get a Fifty-cent Box of Mi-na, the Flesh-Forming Food, on Approval.

Cut out the following coupon today and get a month's treatment of Mi-na, the remarkable flesh forming food, on approval, from Will Reed. Unless it increases your weight appreciably and cures your digestive troubles, there will be absolutely nothing to pay.

COUPON.
This coupon entitles any:
reader of the News Review to:
have the purchase price of:
Mi-na refunded in case it:
does not increase the weight:
and cure stomach troubles. I:
will assume all the risk and:
Mi-na is absolutely free unless it gives satisfaction.
WILL REED.
I TAKE ALL RISK.

When you get a box of Mi-na, deposit fifty cents with Will Reed as an evidence of good faith. He will give you a signed receipt agreeing to refund the money in accordance with the coupon offer, of Mi-na fails to increase weight and cure stomach troubles. All the risk is his. If Mi-na succeeds, as he is reasonably sure it will, or he could not afford to make an offer like this, the cost is trifling. Cut out the coupon today and take advantage of this offer.

promptly, dismissing further thought of them. At Senator Hanna's death his secretary enjoyed a salary larger than the senator derived from his seat.

Dover has an iron constitution and is tireless. He never tasted alcohol, but smokes incessantly. His dissipation the senator turned over to him tion is the theatre.

Dover is sure to be a figure in Washington for the remainder of this session at least. At the earnest request of Mrs. M. A. Hanna and other members of the senator's family he has come back to complete such business as he can that remained unfinished at the senator's death. This will require all his time until adjournment. The work of preparing for the national Republican convention at Chicago will occupy him until midsummer. Should he be selected as secretary of the campaign committee to be selected for the fight of this fall and summer, he will occupy no small place in the public eye until the votes are counted in November, and he will be the factor of greatest importance to every Republican worker in the United States who is not big enough to deal with the chairman of the committee direct; and a man to be taken very much into account by those who can. The secretary of the committee is the man who, beside other things, keeps tab on services rendered. When it is all over he and the chairman bring in their balance sheet to the successful candidate with the list of the jobs promised and the names of the faithful who deserve them.

As secretary of the committee in a successful campaign Elmer Dover could ask for almost anything he wanted, within reason, of course. Perry Heath was made assistant postmaster general on the strength of his services.

Incidentally the secretary of the national committee is not expected to work for glory. Sometimes it is $5,000 a year for him and sometimes more. Sometimes the salary ends with the year end that follows the campaign and sometimes it is continued until his name can be conveniently transferred to the public rolls or until his work of cleaning up odds and ends is finished.

On the other hand there are opportunities offered Elmer Dover in the line of business which would seem to sound alluring to the average man. His own tastes, it may be stated, hark back to his first calling, newspaper work. He does not show much eagerness to continue in politics.

Do You Want Strength?

If you want to increase your strength you must add to and not take from the physical. In other words, the food that you eat must be digested, assimilated and appropriated by the nerves, blood and tissues, before being expelled from the intestines. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure adds to the physical. It gives strength to and builds up strength in the human system. It is pleasant to the taste and palatable, and the only combination of digestants that will digest the food and enable the system to appropriate all of its health and strength-giving qualities. Sold by Alvin H. Bulger.

Do you want to rent your house? Put an ad. in the News Review "want" column.

THE INDIAN OUTDORE

Renegade Whites Exceeded the Savages in Bestial Cruelty.

WILD CAREER OF DAVID OWENS.

Deserted His Own Race to Become a Companion of the Aborigines—Wedded to a Dusky Woman and Father of a Half Breed Family, He Slew His Wife and Children.

[Copyright, 1904, by American Press Association.]

The savagery of the American Indians is proverbial, so much so that they earned the name of savages as a distinguishing title in all literature relating to them. But early colonial history contains the story of many white men who, in allowing the savage nature to get the uppermost in their lives, outdid any red Indian who ever lived in the way of pure devilry. A tale of such degradation is found in connection with the life of David Owens, who lived a century and a half ago on the Ohio frontier and was called "the white savage." In the days of the bitter quarrel for possession of the Ohio valley Owens was a corporal in the company of one Captain McLean in the border service. He seems to have been a reckless daredevil of a fellow, not possessing any great degree of solid worth. For anything to the contrary, he may have been a brave man, but he was undoubtedly an unscrupulous fellow. It is recorded of him that he esteemed his military vows very lightly and that on several occasions he deserted his command.

In those ruder days along the border military service was rendered in a free and easy manner which would dash the spirits of a disciplinarian, so that the escapades of Owens did not result in his being shot or even severely punished. When he saw fit to re-enter the service he came and did so, and his help was gladly accepted. His series of desertions at length culminated in one in which he went over to the enemy completely, turning renegade and joining the Shawano tribe of Indians. By then he was welcomed with the same open heartedness with which they received so many degenerate whites, and he became a member of the tribe. In due course of time he took to wife a woman of the tribe, who bore to him several children and appears to have been honestly devoted to him.

After spending several years in this sort of life, Owens tired of it, and gradually there arose in his heart a desire to go back to his old haunts and his former white man's life. But he seems to have feared to return after so long a course as he had pursued. How to do something which would be likely to open the door for his reception was the question. In seeking for a solution of his trouble he hit on a plan which for sheer devilishness no Indian ever exceeded in the world. Soon after he resolved to make his escape he was out camping in the forest with four warriors, a boy, his wife and two children and another squaw. In the dead of night he arose while all were asleep, removed their weapons and with two rifles shot two of the warriors dead. The other two leaped away into the darkness in terror. The women and children sprang up shrieking and cried for mercy, but the brutal savage, as deep sunk in villainy as the wickedest Indian, deliberately killed them all, helpless though they were, his own half wife and his two children with the rest. Then he waited in silence till the rising sun plainly revealed the dreadful scene of murder.

He scalped five of his victims. Some kind of remorse or pity or a feeling of some better kind took hold of him, for he did not scalp his two children. Bearing his five hideous scalps, this despicable villain appeared at one of the far out English posts. There his penance and his offering were accepted, and his former misdeeds were allowed to remain covered up, for men were at that time in great demand along the frontier. Owens' accurate knowledge of the Indian country and language made him a very valuable addition to the white forces, so he was at once engaged to go with an early expedition of importance to act as interpreter. Nothing further is definitely known of his career, though the reader will doubtless be ready to agree with the writer that of such a career there had already been far too much. It is a pity that such a man as Owens could not have been severely punished, as he so richly deserved to be, but those were rough days on the border, and even handed justice and regard for law had not yet been so well learned as they now are. The story of Owens is truly a case of white renegade savagery putting to the blush the rascality of the red man.

BRADY'S REVENGE.

How the Famous Scout Evened Up the Killing of His Relatives.

In 1778 a younger brother of the noted scout Captain Sam Brady was murdered by the Indians along the Susquehanna river. Early the following spring the father of these two men, Captain John Brady, was, while taking supplies from Fort Wallis, on the west branch of the Susquehanna, killed from ambush by some Indians hidden by the roadside. At this time Captain Sam Brady was serving as a ranger captain under Colonel Brodhead in the region around Fort Pitt. The news of

SCOTT'S EMULSION

makes pale, thin children fat and chubby. Overcomes wasting tendencies and brings back rosy cheeks and bright eyes.

It's surprising how quickly children respond to Scott's Emulsion. It contains just the element of nourishment their little bodies need. They thrive on it.

Even a few drops in the baby's bottle have a noticeable effect for good. Nothing better than Scott's Emulsion for growing children.

We'll send you a sample free upon request. SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl Street, New York.

the tragic fate of his brother and his father intensified his bitter hatred of the Indians and made him all the more like a bound on their track.

In the spring of 1779 a band of seven Indians came down the Allegheny river and crossed over into the Big Sewickley creek portion of Westmoreland county. There, near Perry's mill, they killed a woman and four children and carried away two children and much plunder. Colonel Brodhead sent out two parties of scouts to punish the marauders. Brady, eager for Indian blood, was in command of one of these parties. By the use of his knowledge of Indian habits he set off with his score of rangers up the Allegheny river to head them off. Carefully watching the river banks, he found the canoes hidden at the mouth of a large creek some distance above the mouth of the Kiskiminetus river. This was likely either the Big Mahoning creek or the Red Bank creek. It is now a little difficult to determine which. After some searching the Indians and their captives were discovered in camp not far from the creek. They were cooking their supper when they were found. The scouts were not seen, and so they hid in the wood.

After dark Brady and a young Indian named Narrowsland crept carefully up and spied on the evening's camp. Crawling flat on their bellies, they got very close to the foe. While they were there one of the hostiles awoke and stepped out for some purpose within two yards of where Brady lay. But the scouts were not discovered, and the camp slept on. Early in the morning the attack was made. At the first fire the chief fell by Brady's own hand and was immediately scalped by Brady.

The story has long been told in some quarters that this was Bald Eagle, the very Indian who had scalped Brady's brother nearly a year before, but this is hardly more than a tradition. The Indian raiders were all killed or driven away, and the two children and all the stolen property were recovered. Two of the redskins were wounded and were traced some distance, but could not be found.

A short time after this fight Brady found a flock of crows eating the decaying body of an Indian in a thick woods not far away, and he supposed the body to be that of one of these wounded Indians. After the victory the scouts returned to Fort Pitt and delivered the children and the goods. It is said that the destruction of this band was of such wholesome effect that there was no further trouble along that section of the border that season.

LAKE ERIE'S VICTIMS.

Cleveland's Pioneers Had to Contend With a Cruel and Treacherous Foe.

The settlement at Cleveland, O., was made in 1796 when General Moses Cleveland's surveying party found their way along the south shore of Lake Erie and came to a halt at the mouth of Cuyahoga river. They were surrounded by wilderness forest, and the region was yet the home of Indians who might prove treacherous, but the lives of these settlers were not the most endangered by land. Just in front of them lay stormy and cruel Lake Erie, a body of water with which the pioneers were but little able to contend in the frail craft which they were able with their limited facilities to construct. In the first dozen years after the original settlement eighteen deaths occurred in the infant colony, and of these eleven were by drowning.

The incidents connected with some of these tragedies are thrilling in the extreme. Early in the period mentioned a sad fate overtook a family just on their way to the Cleveland settlement. A man named Hunter, with his wife and child; a negro named Ben and a negro boy were making their way along the lake toward the port of their hopes when a sharp squall of wind arose and blew them on the shore. At the place of the accident the shore is composed of precipitous and rugged rocks, on which their boat was dashed to pieces and they were severely bruised. The party clambered as far up the rocks as they could and there clung frantically to some frail bushes, thundered upon incessantly by the heavy breakers. The next day the storm grew in fury and still kept them prisoners. That day the two children perished from the exposure. The next day there was no release, and Mrs. Hunter died. The following day Mr. Hunter gave up the struggle and fell from his poor refuge. The day after this the storm subsided, and the negro Ben was sighted and rescued by some French traders on their way to Detroit. The poor fellow remained an invalid for a year after his terrible experience.

Two years after this melancholy event four men who set out in a bateau to go fishing at the mouth of the

Maumee river met with an almost exactly similar fate at about the same place. Some other men who were too late to embark with them set out to follow the lake shore, and as they were walking along the bluff saw the battered wreck of the boat beating about below them, with one of the men clinging to it. A storm had capsized it, and as this man could not swim, he clung to the wreck and drifted ashore. The others started to swim, but were all drowned. The rescuing party left one of their number, a son of the imperiled man, to keep him company in his loneliness and hastened back for help. It was nighttime when they returned and by means of ropes with much difficulty hauled the sufferer up the precipice. This was no light task, for the height of the rocks was sixty feet and the man weighed 220 pounds.

The incidents connected with the others of the eleven cases of drowning in those first years at Cleveland were more or less dramatic in their nature, but they all served to teach the early settlers about the Cuyahoga that there was just near to them a foe as dangerous and as relentless as the red Indians of the forest and that he would not fail to claim his victims in return for the invasion of his solitude.

C. E. SMITH.

Wise Pa.

Johnny—Pa, what is that?
Wise Pa—Tact, Johnny, is knowing how to do things without appearing to be doing them. For instance, I asked Mr. Aridman to dinner this evening, and incidentally I remarked that your mother would entertain us on the piano. Mr. Aridman said he was so sorry he couldn't come.—Boston Transcript.

Management.

"I don't see, Ella, how you manage with your housekeeping money. If I give you a lot, you spend a lot, but if I don't give you so much you seem to get along with it."

"Why, that's perfectly simple, Rudolph. When you give me a lot I use it to pay the debts I get into when you don't give me so much."

An Official Mystery.

Years ago, when Lord Anglesey was lord lieutenant of Ireland, he said once of the Irish secretary of that day, "Mr. Stanley and I do very well together as companions, but we differ so totally about Ireland that I never mention the subject to him." Just how they transacted official business remains a mystery.

Resemblances.

"Everybody says the baby looks like you. Doesn't that please you?"
"I don't know," replied Popley, "but I tell you what—I'm glad nobody thinks of saying I look like the baby."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

He who is most slow in making a promise is the most faithful in its performance.—Rousseau.

OZOENA GNaws THE BONE.

Blood Wine Cures This Terrible Phase of Catarrh.

That awful odor and terrible breath that comes from some people is caused by Ozoena, an advanced stage of catarrh—the point where the bone bordering the nasal passages—the posterior cavities—commences to decay, and there comes from the head a steady discharge of yellow mucus which smells dreadfully. Catarrh is a diseased condition of the mucous membranes, and is caused by poor nourishment of the membranes by the blood—in other words, a diseased condition of the blood—which causes Ozoena and consumption.

Blood Wine quickly stops all those aggravating features of the annoying and fatal disease, such as mucous discharges, dropping in the throat, sore throat, excessive secretions from the nose, spitting up of hard chunks, watery eyes, etc., and cleanses the nasal passages. Mrs. Annie Kreschubel of 424 F Street, Louisville, says:

"For fifteen years (think of it—and the best years of her life) I suffered with catarrh, which led to a stomach trouble. I grew worse and worse, and could hardly walk across the room. As I had taken all kinds of medicines with no results, I had almost given up hope. When 'Blood Wine' commenced to advertise in Louisville I sent for a sample bottle, and later purchased three more. I have now finished my third bottle and can truthfully say that my catarrh has wholly left me and I can walk around without getting tired. My strength is returning and I feel like a new person. I will say to all sufferers with catarrh that 'Blood Wine' is the medicine to take if they want to be cured."

For Constipation ask for our Liver Pills. 100 for 25 cents.

SOLD BY WILL REED, HODSON'S DRUG STORE, ALVIN BULGER AND C. G. ANDERSON.

For Rheumatism, Cold in Chest, Sore Muscles, Stiff Joints.

USE FOUR-FOLD LINIMENT.

"IN USE OVER FIFTY YEARS." AT ALL DRUGGISTS. 25c, 50c, $1.00.

FOR OVER SIXTY YEARS. An Old and Well-Tried Remedy.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been made for over SIXTY YEARS. MILLIONS of mothers for their children's welfare. IT IS THE PERFECT REMEDY FOR COLIC, SOOTHES THE THROAT, CURES THE CROUP, AND IS THE BEST REMEDY FOR ALL INFANTILIA. Sold by Druggists in every part of the world. Be sure and ask for MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. AND TAKE NO OTHER BRAND. Twenty-five Cents a Bottle.

Contagion! Contagion!

This is the Alarm that must be Sounded Against Catarrh.

It is Contagious! It is Catching! It is Infectious!

Catarrh is a GERM disease and must be so treated henceforth. BRAZILIAN BALM is the only antidote that destroys the infectious germ and makes a radical cure.

A Home Treatment for $1.00 With Tonic Free

We all know that Small Pox, Typhoid, Diphtheria, Measles, Mumps, Scarlet Fever, Whooping Cough, etc., are "catching." They are "catching" or contagious because they are germ or microbe diseases. This is no theory, it is a proved fact, admitted by all scientific men. Dr. Theodore Potter, the eminent Bacteriologist, says:—"We can see bacteria, can cultivate them, can identify and grow the different varieties. We can plant them in the bodies of men and animals and reproduce at will the diseases from which the bacteria were obtained."

This is equally true of Catarrh. The catarrh-like breath of the Catarrh victim is laden with these malignant germs; so is the pus. Put a drop of it under a powerful microscope and see the mwriggle. They are very minute it is true. It takes 200,000 of them laid side by side to cover an inch on the rule, but there is probably no microbe so long lived, so persistent, so voracious and so hard to kill.

Not Climatic.

The opinion has widely prevailed that Catarrh was caused by climatic conditions. This is found to be a mistake, and has had most disastrous results, leaving the disease to spread unchecked over wide sections of the country. Possibly some localities are more favorable to its development and violence than others, but there must be the seed before you can get the harvest. Oats must be sown to produce oats, and wheat to produce wheat. The Small Pox microbe must be sown to produce Small Pox, the Mumps microbe to produce Mumps. So the Catarrh microbe must be sown in to produce Catarrh, climate or no climate. The Catarrh germ will produce Catarrh and nothing else will produce it.

Again, among the Aborigines of the country Catarrh was unknown. That proves it is not "climatic." Another thing. It took 30 years for Catarrh to get a foothold among us. Forty years ago less than 5 per cent. of the adult population were affected. Today there are over $5,000,000 victims and rapidly multiplying. Has "climate" done this? Could anything do it but contagion?

How has it Spread?

The breath! The food, germ-laden breath. Also by contact, as in kissing. Also from expectorations; and washing in the same bowl, using the same towels, napkins, etc., used by those afflicted with this putrid disease. It does not spring from the blood or any condition of the blood. The Catarrh microbe is never found in the "blood." It is not a "blood disease," and cannot be cured by "blood medicines." It is a germ disease and is propagated as above stated. It could not be propagated through the "blood."

A Sanitary Problem.

So rapid have been the ravages of this putrid distemper within the last few years that it must soon come to the front as the most vital sanitary problem. The disease is everywhere, but in many localities it is a veritable pestilence. If every house were quarantined where it exists how many houses would fail to display the "Yellow Flag"? Every one must help to stamp out this plague. Every one is vitally interested. Every one who is now free from it must avoid contagion as they would Small Pox or the Cholera. Those who are afflicted with it, even in a mild form, should hasten to get cured, and the other members of the family for their own safety, should insist on having them. With united action the plague can be stayed and stamped out.

One Sure Cure.

Fortunately an antidote has at last been found for this filthy and infectious disorder. At last, after everything else has failed, and even the doctors had given up in despair, Brazilian Balm was discovered. It kills the microbe instantly; it penetrates between the folds and into the deepest passages of the head, healing the ulcers and running sores. It is the most healing balm in the world. The moment you begin its use it renders the breath and expectoration immune (contagious). It heals the throat, cures Asthma and Bronchitis. It heals the sore that has been made raw and ulcerated by swallowing the germ-laden Catarrh pus. It quickly takes Colds and Grippe out of the system. It has been used 15 years and cured tens of thousands even where the throat was eaten out. You could put your finger into the sore an inch deep. It will cure you.

A Great Offer.

Catarrh victims have run down their strength and impaired vitality. It is hardly to be otherwise.

They need a good Tonic to help in restoring their lost vigor. A nerve and strength builder. We have the best remedy for this known to science: TOXICOLA TABLETS. We will from the time on, for the next six months, send a month's treatment of TOXICOLA TABLETS with every $1.00 bottle of Brazilian Balm. A $1.00 bottle of Brazilian Balm contains a Month's Treatment. See the name is blown in the bottle. E. J. Jackson & Co., Indianapolis, Ind. The summer is the best time to treat Catarrh as the disease is less violent then than in cold weather.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS

SCROFULA A DISEASE WE INHERIT.

Scrofula manifests itself in many ways. Swelling of the glands of the neck and throat, Catarrh, weak eyes, white swelling, offensive sores and abscesses, skin eruptions, loss of strength and weakness in muscles and joints.

It is a miserable disease and traceable in almost every instance to some family blood taint.

Scrofula is bred in the bone, and spread rapidly over her body. The disease next attacked the eyes and we feared she would lose her sight. Eminent physicians were consulted, but could do nothing to relieve the little innocent. It was then that we decided to try S. S. S. That medicine at once made a speedy and complete cure. She is now a young lady, and has never had a sign of the disease to return.

MRS. RUTH BERKLY, Salina, Kan.

No remedy equals S. S. S. as a cure for Scrofula. It cleanses and builds up the blood, makes it rich and pure, and under the tonic effects of this great Blood Remedy, the general health improves, the digestive organs are strengthened, and there is a gradual but sure return to health. The deposit of tubercular matter in the joints and glands is carried off as soon as the blood is restored to a normal condition, and the sores, eruptions, and other symptoms of Scrofula disappear.

S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable and harmless; an ideal blood purifier and tonic that removes all blood taint and builds up weak constitutions. Our physicians will advise without charge, all who write us about their case. Book mailed free.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

Stop the Pain!

Do you suffer from those fearful headaches, that make sleep impossible and cause you to become restless, irritable, and depressed? Your suffering can be alleviated, and quickly.

Try NEURALGYLINE FOR THE NERVES

It will give complete relief in twenty minutes. It will cure you and prevent a return of the trouble. It is harmless. It soothes the nerves. Neuralgia is a nerve disease. Neuralgyline will cure it.

"Had suffered for over a week with neuralgia pains in the head, unable to sleep and nearly crazed with pain. Thirty minutes after taking one Neuralgyline tablet, I was completely cured."
Mr. J. B. SISK, St. Paul, Minn.

Neuralgyline is for sale by every first-class druggist in this country and Canada. Price, per box, 25 cents. Samples free. Money refunded if not as represented.

The NEURALGYLINE COMPANY, Manufacturing Chemists, WHEELING, W. VA.

FOR SALE BY JESSE D. HOLLOWAY, C. G. ANDERSON AND CHAS. F. CRAIG, OF EAST LIVERPOOL, AND C. T. McCUTCHEON, OF CLEVELAND, W. VA.

HEALTH AND VITALITY

The great remedy for nervous prostration and all diseases of the generative organs of either sex, such as Nervous Prostration, Falling or Lost Manhood, Impotency, Nightly Emissions, Youthful Errors, Mental Worry, excessive use of Tobacco or Opium, which lead to Consumption and Insanity. With every $5.00 order we guarantee to cure or refund the money. Sold at $1.00 per box, 6 boxes for $5.00. DR. MOTT'S CEREAL CO., Cleveland, Ohio.

Sold by Will Reed, C. E. Craig, C. G. Anderson and The Potters' Drug Co.

Mark Twain

An Amusing Interview with the Greatest of Humorists

by

Clara Morris

in the MARCH

Metropolitan Magazine

Other exceptional features are

The Pardon of Becky Day - by John Fox, Jr.
A Plain Statement about Russia and Japan - by Frederick McCormick
A Story of Tibet - by Albert Kinross
A Story of the American Soldier - by Rufus F. Zogbaum

160 Pages of Reading

A 35-Cent Magazine for 15 Cents

At All Newsdealers

(R 59)

R. H. RUSSELL, PUBLISHER, 3 WEST 20TH ST., N. Y.

THE INDIAN OUTDORE

Renegade Whites Exceeded the Savages In Bestial Cruelty.

WILD CAREER OF DAVID OWENS.

Deserted His Own Race to Become a Companion of the Aborigines—Wedded to a Dusky Woman and Father of a Half Breed Family, He Slew His Wife and Children.

[Copyright, 1904, by American Press Association.] The savagery of the American Indians is proverbial, so much so that they earned the name of savages as a distinguishing title in all literature relating to them. But early colonial history contains the story of many white men who, in allowing the savage nature to get the uppermost in their lives, outdid any red Indian who ever lived in the way of pure devilry. A tale of such degradation is found in connection with the life of David Owens, who lived a century and a half ago on the Ohio frontier and was called "the white savage." In the days of the bitter quarrel for possession of the Ohio valley Owens was a corporal in the company of one Captain McClean in the border service. He seems to have been a reckless daredevil of a fellow, not possessing any great degree of solid worth. For anything to the contrary, he may have been a brave man, but he was undoubtedly an unscrupulous fellow. It is recorded of him that he esteemed his military vows very lightly and that on several occasions he deserted his command.

In those ruder days along the border military service was rendered in a free and easy manner which would dash the spirits of a disciplinarian, so that the escapades of Owens did not result in his being shot or even severely punished. When he saw fit to re-enter the service he came and did so, and his help was gladly accepted. His series of desertions at length culminated in one in which he went over to the enemy completely, turning renegade and joining the Shawano tribe of Indians. By then he was welcomed with the same open heartedness with which they received so many degenerate whites, and he became a member of the tribe. In due course of time he took to wife a woman of the tribe, who bore to him several children and appears to have been honestly devoted to him.

After spending several years in this sort of life, Owens tired of it, and gradually there arose in his heart a desire to go back to his old haunts and his former white man's life. But he seems to have feared to return after so long a course as he had pursued. How to do something which would be likely to open the door for his reception was the question. In seeking for a solution of his trouble he hit on a plan which for sheer devilishness no Indian ever exceeded in the world. Soon after he resolved to make his escape he was out camping in the forest with four warriors, a boy, his wife and two children and another squaw. In the dead of night he arose while all were asleep, removed their weapons and with two rifles shot two of the warriors dead. The other two leaped away into the darkness in terror. The women and children sprang up shrieking and cried for mercy, but the brutal savage, as deep sunk in villainy as the wickedest Indian, deliberately killed them all, helpless though they were, his own faithful wife and his two children with the rest. Then he waited in silence till the rising sun plainly revealed the dreadful scene of murder.

He scalped five of his victims. Some kind of remorse or pity or a feeling of some better kind took hold of him, for he did not scalp his two children. Bearing his five hideous scalps, this despicable villain appeared at one of the far out English posts. There his penance and his offering were accepted, and his former misdeeds were allowed to remain covered up, for men were at that time in great demand along the frontier. Owens' accurate knowledge of the Indian country and language made him a very valuable addition to the white forces, so he was at once engaged to go with an early expedition of importance to act as interpreter. Nothing further is definitely known of his career, though the reader will doubtless be ready to agree with the writer that such a career there had already been far too much. It is a pity that such a man as Owens could not have been severely punished, as he so richly deserved to be, but those were rough days on the border, and even handed justice and regard for law had not yet been so well learned as they now are. The story of Owens is truly a case of white renegade savagery putting to the blush the rascality of the red man.

BRADY'S REVENGE.

How the Famous Scout Evened Up the Killing of His Relatives.

In 1778 a younger brother of the noted scout Captain Sam Brady was murdered by the Indians along the Susquehanna river. Early the following spring the father of these two men, Captain John Brady, was, while taking supplies from Fort Wallis, on the west branch of the Susquehanna, killed from ambush by some Indians hidden by the roadside. At this time Captain Sam Brady was serving as a ranger captain under Colonel Brodhead in the region around Fort Pitt. The news of

SCOTT'S EMULSION

makes pale, thin children fat and chubby. Overcomes wasting tendencies and brings back rosy cheeks and bright eyes.

It's surprising how quickly children respond to Scott's Emulsion. It contains just the element of nourishment their little bodies need. They thrive on it.

Even a few drops in the baby's bottle have a noticeable effect for good. Nothing better than Scott's Emulsion for growing children.

We'll send you a sample free upon request. SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl Street, New York.

the tragic fate of his brother and his father intensified his bitter hatred of the Indians and made him all the more like a lion on their track.

In the spring of 1779 a band of seven Indians came down the Allegheny river and crossed over into the Big Sawickie creek portion of Westmoreland county. There, near Perry's mill, they killed a woman and four children and carried away two children and much plunder. Colonel Brodhead sent out two parties of scouts to punish the marauders. Brady, eager for Indian blood, was in command of one of these parties. By the use of his knowledge of Indian habits he set off with his score of rangers up the Allegheny river to head them off. Carefully watching the river banks, he found the canoes hidden at the mouth of a large creek some distance above the mouth of the Kiskiminetas river. This was likely either the Big Mahoning creek or the Red Bank creek. It is now a little difficult to determine which. After some searching the Indians and their captives were discovered in camp not far from the creek. They were cooking their supper when they were found. The scouts were not seen, and so they hid in the wood.

After dark Brady and a young Indian named Narrowsland crept carefully up and spied on the evening's camp. Crawling flat on their bellies, they got very close to the foe. While they were there one of the hostiles awoke and stepped out for some purpose within two yards of where Brady lay. But the scouts were not discovered, and the camp slept on. Early in the morning the attack was made. At the first fire the chief fell by Brady's own hand and was immediately scalped by Brady.

The story has long been told in some quarters that this was Bald Eagle, the very Indian who had scalped Brady's brother nearly a year before, but this is hardly more than a tradition. The Indian raiders were all killed or driven away, and the two children and all the stolen property were recovered. Two of the redskins were wounded and were traced some distance, but could not be found.

A short time after this fight Brady found a flock of crows eating the decaying body of an Indian in a thick woods not far away, and he supposed the body to be that of one of these wounded Indians. After the victory the scouts returned to Fort Pitt and delivered the children and the goods. It is said that the destruction of this band was of such wholesome effect that there was no further trouble along that section of the border that season.

LAKE ERIE'S VICTIMS.

Cleveland's Pioneers Had to Contend With a Cruel and Treacherous Foe.

The settlement at Cleveland, O., was made in 1796 when General Moses Cleveland's surveying party found their way along the south shore of Lake Erie and came to a halt at the mouth of Cuyahoga river. They were surrounded by wilderness forest, and the region was yet the home of Indians who might prove treacherous, but the lives of these settlers were not the most endangered by land. Just in front of them lay stormy and cruel Lake Erie, a body of water with which the pioneers were but little able to contend in the frail craft which they were able with their limited facilities to construct. In the first dozen years after the original settlement eighteen deaths occurred in the infant colony, and of these eleven were by drowning.

The incidents connected with some of these tragedies are thrilling in the extreme. Early in the period mentioned a sad fate overtook a family just on their way to the Cleveland settlement. A man named Hunter, with his wife and child; a negro named Ben and a negro boy were making their way along the lake toward the port of their hopes when a sharp squall of wind arose and blew them on the shore. At the place of the accident the shore is composed of precipitous and rugged rocks, on which their boat was dashed to pieces and they were severely bruised. The party clambered as far up the rocks as they could and there clung frantically to some frail bushes, thundered upon incessantly by the heavy breakers. The next day the storm grew in fury and still kept them prisoners. That day the two children perished from the exposure. The next day there was no release, and Mrs. Hunter died. The following day Mr. Hunter gave up the struggle and fell from his poor refuge. The day after this the storm subsided, and the negro Ben was sighted and rescued by some French traders on their way to Detroit. The poor fellow remained an invalid for a year after his terrible experience. Two years after this melancholy event four men who set out in a bateau to go fishing at the mouth of the Maumee river met with an almost exactly similar fate at about the same place. Some other men who were too late to embark with them set out to follow the lake shore, and as they were walking along the bluff saw the battered wreck of the boat beating about below them, with one of the men clinging to it. A storm had capsized it, and, as this man could not swim, he clung to the wreck and drifted ashore. The others started to swim, but were all drowned. The rescuing party left one of their number, a son of the imperiled man, to keep him company in his loneliness and hastened back for help. It was nighttime when they returned and by means of ropes with much difficulty hauled the sufferer up the precipice. This was no light task, for the height of the rocks was sixty feet and the man weighed 220 pounds.

The incidents connected with the others of the eleven cases of drowning in those first years at Cleveland were more or less dramatic in their nature, but they all served to teach the early settlers about the Cuyahoga that there was just near to them a foe as dangerous and as relentless as the red Indians of the forest and that he would not fail to claim his victims in return for the invasion of his solitude.

C. J. SMITH.

Wise Pa.

Johnny—Pa, what is that?
Wise Pa—Tact, Johnny, is knowing how to do things without appearing to be doing them. For instance, I asked Mr. Arldman to dinner this evening, and incidentally I remarked that your mother would entertain us on the piano. Mr. Arldman said he was so sorry he couldn't come.—Boston Transcript.

Management.

"I don't see, Ella, how you manage with your housekeeping money. If I give you a lot, you spend a lot, but if I don't give you so much you seem to get along with it."

"Why, that's perfectly simple, Rudolph. When you give me a lot I use it to pay the debts I get into when you don't give me so much."

An Official Mystery.

Years ago, when Lord Anglesey was lord lieutenant of Ireland, he said once of the Irish secretary of that day, "Mr. Stanley and I do very well together as companions, but we differ so totally about Ireland that I never mention the subject to him." Just how they transacted official business remains a mystery.

Resemblances.

"Everybody says the baby looks like you. Doesn't that please you?"
"I don't know," replied Poppley, "but I tell you what—I'm glad nobody thinks of saying I look like the baby."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

He who is most slow in making a promise is the most faithful in its performance.—Rousseau.

OZOENA GNAWS THE BONE.

Blood Wine Cures This Terrible Phase of Catarrh.

That awful odor and terrible breath that comes from some people is caused by Ozoena, an advanced stage of catarrh—the point where the bone bordering the nasal passages—the posterior cavities—commences to decay, and there comes from the head a steady discharge of yellow mucus which smells dreadfully. Catarrh is a diseased condition of the mucous membranes, and is caused by poor nourishment of the membranes by the blood—in other words, a diseased condition of the blood—which causes Ozoena and consumption.

Blood Wine quickly stops all those aggravating features of the annoying and fatal disease, such as mucous discharges, dropping in the throat, sore throat, excessive secretions from the nose, spitting up of hard chunks, watery eyes, etc., and cleanses the nasal passages. Mrs. Annie Kerschhubel of 424 F Street, Louisville, says:

"For fifteen years (think of it—and the best years of her life) I suffered with catarrh, which led to stomach trouble. I grew worse and worse, and could hardly walk across the room. As I had taken all kinds of medicines with no results, I had almost given up hope. When 'Blood Wine' commenced to advertise in Louisville I sent for a sample bottle, and later purchased three more. I have now finished my third bottle and can truthfully say that my catarrh has wholly left me and I can walk around without getting tired. My strength is returning and I feel like a new person. I will say to all sufferers with catarrh that 'Blood Wine' is the medicine to take if they want to be cured."

For Constipation ask for our Liver Pills. 200 for 25 cents.

SOLD BY WILL REED, HODSON'S DRUG STORE, ALVIN BULGER AND C. G. ANDERSON.

For Rheumatism, Cold in Chest, Sore Muscles, Stiff Joints. USE

FOUR-FOLD LINIMENT.

"IN USE OVER FIFTY YEARS."

AT ALL DRUGGISTS. 25c, 50c, $1.00.

FOR OVER SIXTY YEARS.

An Old and Well-Tried Remedy.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used for over SIXTY YEARS by MILLIONS of MOTHERS for their CHILDREN'S COLIC, BRUISES, SCALDS, RASHES, ALLAYS ALL PAIN, SOOTHES THE NERVES, AND IS THE BEST REMEDY FOR INFANTS AND CHILDREN.

SOLD BY DRUGGISTS IN EVERY PART OF THE WORLD. Be sure and ask for MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP, AND TAKE NO OTHER KIND. Twenty-five Cents a Bottle.

Contagion! Contagion!

This is the Alarm that must be Sounded Against Catarrh.

It is Contagious! It is Catching! It is Infectious!

Catarrh is a GERM disease and must be so treated henceforth. BRAZILIAN BALM is the only antidote that destroys the infectious germ and makes a radical cure.

A Home Treatment for $1.00 With Tonic Free

We all know that Small Pox, Typhoid, Diphtheria, Measles, Mumps, Scarlet Fever, Whooping Cough, etc., are "catching." They are "catching" or contagious because they are germ or microbe diseases. This is no theory, it is a proved fact, admitted by all scientific men. Dr. Theodore Potter, the eminent Bacteriologist, says:—"We can see bacteria, can cultivate them, can identify and grow the different varieties. We can plant them in the bodies of men and animals and reproduce at will the diseases from which the bacteria were obtained."

This is equally true of Catarrh. The catarrh-like breath of the Catarrh victim is laden with these malignant germs; so is the pus. Put a drop of it under a powerful microscope and see the mwriggle. They are very minute it is true. It takes 200,000 of them laid side by side to cover an inch on the rule, but there is probably no microbe so long lived, so persistent, so voracious and so hard to kill.

Not Climatic.

The opinion has widely prevailed that Catarrh was caused by climatic conditions. This is found to be a mistake, and has had most disastrous results, leaving the disease to spread unchecked over wide sections of the country. Possibly some localities are more favorable to its development and violence than others, but there must be the seed before you can get the harvest. Oats must be sown to produce oats, and wheat to produce wheat. The Small Pox microbe must be sown to produce Small Pox, the Mumps microbe to produce Mumps. So the Catarrh microbe must be breathed in to produce Catarrh, climate or no climate. The Catarrh germ will produce Catarrh and nothing else will produce it.

Again, Among the Aborigines of this country Catarrh was unknown. That proves it is not "climatic." Another thing. It took 200 years for Catarrh to get a foothold among us. Forty years ago less than 5 per cent. of the adult population were affected. Today there are over 10,000,000 victims, and rapidly multiplying. Has "climate" done this? Could anything do it but contagion?

How has it Spread?

The breath! The fetid, germ-laden breath. Also by contact, as in kissing. Also from expectorations; and washing in the same bowl, using the same towels, napkins, etc., used by those afflicted with this putrid disease. It does not spring from the blood or any condition of the blood. The Catarrh microbe is never found in the "blood." It is not a "blood disease," and cannot be cured by "blood medicines." It is a germ disease and is propagated as above stated. It could not be propagated through the "blood."

A Sanitary Problem.

So rapid have been the ravages of this putrid distemper within the last few years that it must soon come to the front as the most vital sanitary problem. The disease is everywhere, but in many localities it is a veritable pestilence. If every house were quarantined where it exists how many houses would fail to display the "Yellow Flag"? Every one must help to stamp out this plague. Every one is vitally interested. Every one who is now free from it must avoid contagion as they would Small Pox or the Cholera. Those who are afflicted with it, even in a mild form, should hasten to get cured, and the other members of the family for their own safety, should insist on instant action. With united action the plague can be stayed and stamped out.

One Sure Cure.

Fortunately an antidote has at last been found for this filthy and infectious disease. At last, after everything else has failed, and even the doctors had given up in despair, Brazilian Balm was discovered. It kills the microbe instantly; it penetrates between the folds and into the deepest passages of the head, healing ulcers and running sores. It is the most healing balm in the world. The moment you begin its use it renders the breath and expectoration immune (non-contagious). It heals the throat, cures Asthma and Bronchitis. It heals the sore such that has been made raw and ulcerated by swallowing the germ-laden Catarrh pus. It quickly takes Colds and Grippe out of the system. It has been used 15 years and cured tens of thousands, even where the throat was eaten out of you could put your finger into the hole an inch deep. It will cure you.

A Great Offer.

Catarrh victims have run down systems and impaired vitality. It can hardly be otherwise.

They need a good Tonic to help in restoring their lost vigor. A nerve and strength builder. We have the best remedy for this known to science: TOXICOLA TABLETS. We will from the time on, for the next six months, make a month's treatment of TOXICOLA TABLETS with every $1.00 bottle of Brazilian Balm. A $1.00 bottle of Brazilian Balm contains a Month's Treatment. See the name is blown in the bottle. E. J. Jackson & Co., Indianapolis, Ind. The summer is the best time to treat Catarrh as the disease is less violent than in cold weather.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS

SCROFULA A DISEASE WE INHERIT.

Scrofula manifests itself in many ways. Swelling of the glands of the neck and throat, Catarrh, weak eyes, white swelling, offensive sores and abscesses, skin eruptions, loss of strength and weakness in muscles and joints.

It is a miserable disease and traceable in almost every instance to some family blood taint.

Scrofula is bred in the bone, is transmitted from parent to child, the seeds are planted in infancy and unless the blood is purged and purified and every atom of the taint removed Scrofula is sure to develop at some period in your life.

No remedy equals S. S. S. as a cure for Scrofula. It cleanses and builds up the blood, makes it rich and pure, and under the tonic effects of this great Blood Remedy, the general health improves, the digestive organs are strengthened, and there is a gradual but sure return to health. The deposit of tubercular matter in the joints and glands is carried off as soon as the blood is restored to a normal condition, and the sores, eruptions, and other symptoms of Scrofula disappear.

S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable and harmless; an ideal blood purifier and tonic that removes all blood taint and builds up weak constitutions. Our physicians will advise without charge, all who write us about their case. Book mailed free.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

Stop the Pain!

Do you suffer from those fearful headaches, that make sleep impossible and cause you to become restless, irritable, and depressed? Your suffering can be alleviated, and quickly.

Try NEURALGYLINE FOR THE NERVES

it will give complete relief in twenty minutes. It will cure you and prevent a return of the trouble. It is harmless. It soothes the nerves. Neuralgia is a nerve disease. Neuralgyline will cure it.

"Had suffered for over a week with neuralgia pains in the head, unable to sleep and nearly crazed with pain. Thirty minutes after taking one Neuralgyline tablet, I was completely cured." Mr. J. B. SISK, St. Paul, Minn.

Neuralgyline is for sale by every first-class druggist in this country and Canada. Price, per box, 25 cents. Samples free. Money refunded if not as represented.

The NEURALGYLINE COMPANY, Manufacturing Chemists, WHEELING, W. VA.

FOR SALE BY JESSE D. HOLLOWAY, C. G. ANDERSON AND CHAS. F. CRAIG, OF EAST LIVERPOOL, AND C. T. McCUTCHEON, OF CHESTER, W. VA.

HEALTH AND VITALITY

DR. MOTT'S NERVE AND BLOOD PILLS The great remedy for nervous prostration and all diseases of the generative organs of either sex, such as Nervous Prostration, Falling or Lost Manhood, Impotency, Nightly Emissions, Youthful Errors, Mental Worry, excessive use of Tobacco or Opium, which lead to Consumption and Insanity. With every $5.00 order we guarantee to cure, or refund the money. Sold at $1.00 per box, 6 boxes for $5.00. DR. MOTT'S CHEMICAL CO., Cleveland, Ohio.

After Using. Sold by Will Reed, C. F. Craig, C. G. Anderson and The Potters' Drug Co.

Mark Twain

An Amusing Interview with the Greatest of Humorists

by

Clara Morris

in the MARCH

Metropolitan Magazine

Other exceptional features are

The Pardon of Becky Day	by John Fox, Jr.
A Plain Statement about Russia and Japan	by Frederick McCormick
A Story of Tibet	by Albert Kinross
A Story of the American Soldier	by Rufus F. Zogbaum

160 Pages of Reading

A 35-Cent Magazine for 15 Cents

At All Newsdealers

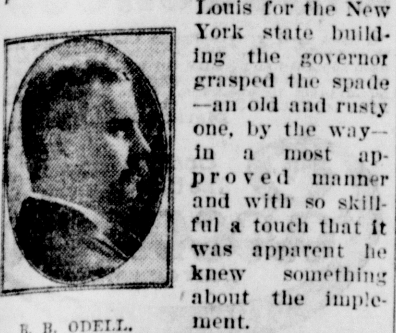

(E 59)

R. H. RUSSELL, PUBLISHER, 3 WEST 29TH ST., N. Y.

EIGHT MEN WHO RUN BIG STATES

Governor Benjamin B. Odell, who has succeeded Thomas C. Platt as head of the Republican organization in New York state, drove an ice wagon for his father in Newburg, N. Y., when a young man and delivered ice from door to door. He is five feet nine and one-half inches tall and weighs over 200 pounds. When he broke ground at St. Louis for the New York state building, the governor grasped the spade—an old and rusty one, by the way—in a most approved manner and with so skillful a touch that it was apparent he knew something about the implement.

B. B. ODELL.

"You handle the shovel very gracefully," remarked one of the executive party. "Yes," replied the governor. "I have often thought that it is a shame to spoil a good cellar digger to make a poor governor."

The governor himself, a man of culture and refinement, has a great dislike for all shams in the way of pretended knowledge, etc., and has, moreover, a rather sharp tongue in criticizing them at times.

Not long ago he was giving utterance to his opinions of many men and things, chiefly the former, when some one happened to mention a New York politician, a member of Tammany Hall, who, it is said, had recently had the courage to return from Paris and assert to some of his political friends that he "thought in French" to such an extent that his sentences were now involuntarily constructed along Gallic lines.

"Yes," Mr. Odell dryly commented. "It's too bad about Blank. He fell down when he was in Paris and broke his English."

Joseph M. Terrell, the popular governor of Georgia, began life as a plowboy, and the old red mule behind which he trudged in bare feet is still hale and hearty. Recently a former schoolmate of the governor, while in a reminiscence mood, referred to their school days. "Joe Terrell first went to school to Mrs. Strozer," he said, "and afterward to Colonel W. T. Revell, now editor of the Meriwether Indicator. It is still a matter of history in Greenville that Joe was the only boy who was never thrashed by the colonel, who, as a teacher, was a firm believer in the rod."

"Joe," we boys would say when we heard that he was to change teachers, "the colonel will give it to you when you come over here with us."

"But they missed it, for Joe and his teacher got along from the start. Never once did Colonel Revell find it necessary to use the birch on the future governor. Joe has since confessed, however, that we had him scared, and he entered Colonel Revell's school prepared to have his jacket dusted."

Andrew Jackson Montague, governor of Virginia, is very fond of fishing, shooting and good literature. The broad mouthed bass is his favorite fish, and he has much scientific as well as practical knowledge of the art of Walton. The governor is well read in history and political economy and is fond of Balzac. His boyhood friends state that as a youth he used to delve omnivorously into histories and even utilized the time when driving across the flat country between his mother's home and the courthouse, some ten miles, in exploring the recesses of books. As the staid old horse jogged along in the country chaise, with reins attached to a book in the green baize covering, the boy could read conveniently, and in this way went through Prescott's voluminous "Conquest of Mexico."

Richard Yates, governor of Illinois, as was his father before him, has kept a scrapbook for nearly thirty years and has pasted into it everything which concerned him and in which he took interest. One of the first entries in the scrapbook is the story of a contest in declamation away back in 1875, when the present governor was a pupil of the Whipple academy at Jacksonville, Ill. (the preparatory school of Illinois college), and one of the contestants. He delivered the "Supposed Speech of John Adams." Commenting on his effort, the local reporter said, "The young gentleman, for one of his years, did exceedingly well, and the audience greeted him with deserved applause." He was then fifteen years old.

William J. Bryan, who was in the same school and of the same age, was also a competitor in this contest, and of him the reporter said: "Mr. Bryan delivered Patrick Henry's celebrated speech in a most creditable manner. His voice, however, is not settled as yet, and because of this his effort was not so good as it otherwise would have been."

Neither Yates nor Bryan won a prize, however, the rewards of excellence going to two young men who as yet have not attained to national fame.

Edwin Warfield, the new governor of Maryland, describes himself as a lawyer and farmer. He is one of the most prominent citizens of Baltimore, is a man of wealth and has been conspicuous in state politics for many years.

Born in Maryland fifty-five years ago, the governor was educated in the public schools and at St. Timothy's Hall, Catonsville, and then embarked in business. He is the founder and president of the Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland and has been a state senator, president of the senate and surveyor of the port of Baltimore, and was a delegate to the Democratic national convention of 1896. The governor is very much interested in patriotic matters and in 1902 was elected president general of the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution.

A. B. Cummins, who is serving his second term as governor of Iowa, is noted for his grace, power and vigor on the platform. The gift of oratory was acquired by Governor Cummins in early years, but an experience in one of his first attempts at public speaking is rendered much more amusing by the lapse of time than when it occurred.

When he was twenty-one he went back to his old home in Pennsylvania for a visit. Soon after his arrival a soldier's reunion was held, and he was asked to speak. The meeting was held at a little crossroads, and Mr. Cummins, with all the dignity at his command, began with the statement that, unfortunately for him, he was born too late to take part in the dangers and glories of a soldier's life. Just then he was attacked with mental paralysis and couldn't say another word. After an instant of hesitation he noticed a grizzled veteran in the corner lean over and whisper to a companion. The whisper was audible all over the house, and the speaker heard "It's a blamed pity he was born at all." That broke the spell, and like a flash his scattered ideas returned, and he made a speech that satisfied even the whisperer in the corner.

The salaries of governors range from $1,500 in Vermont and Oregon, the smallest amount paid, to $10,000 in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, the largest amount. In addition to Vermont and Oregon, New Hampshire pays a small sum to her governor, Naham J. Bacheider, who runs the state for $2,000 per annum. Maine also pays her governor the same sum. Wyoming and Nebraska give $2,500, West Virginia, $2,700, Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, Georgia, Idaho, Iowa, Kansas, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Rhode Island, South Carolina and Mississippi $3,500, Connecticut, Michigan, Nevada, North Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Utah and Washington, $4,000; Maryland $4,500, Alaska,

California, Colorado, Hawaii, Indiana, Louisiana, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Virginia and Wisconsin $5,000; Illinois $6,000, Kentucky $6,500, and Massachusetts, Ohio and Porto Rico, $8,000. Governor Bacheider is a native of his state and is forty-nine years old. Farming is his favorite business when he is not holding office.

No chief executive of any commonwealth in the Union has a greater hold on the affections of the plain people than has James B. Frazier, governor of Tennessee. He came of sturdy Scotch stock, and his people for generations have been noted for their public spirit. His father, Judge Frazier, while criminal judge was impeached by the famous Brownlow legislature because he, in his judicial capacity, released members of the state legislature on writs of habeas corpus who had been arrested for absenting themselves from the legislative halls and refused to be counted in a quorum necessary to enact obnoxious laws. Judge Frazier was restored to civil rights by the constitutional convention of 1870 and soon after was re-elected to the very office from which he had been deposed.

Governor Frazier, simple and unostentatious himself, attracts the humble as well as the more exalted, and any day on the streets of Chattanooga the greeting of "How're you, Jim?" may be heard from some mechanic or farmer to whom the governor of the state is just plain Jim Frazier.

In a diary kept in 1846 it is asserted that "Allen Brydges has been chosen to wake the sleepers in meeting and, being much proud of his place, must needs have a fox tail fixed to the end of a long staff, wherewith he may brush the faces of them that will have naps in time of discourse." This energetic individual was likewise armed with "a sharp thorn" for the benefit of those who "be most sound." There is a record of the use of this implement upon Mr. Tompkins, who was sleeping comfortably in the corner of his pew when Allen "thrust his staff behind Dame Ballard to give him a grievous prick upon the hand, whereupon Mr. Tompkins did spring much above the floor and with terrible force did strike his head against the wall and also to the great wonder of all 'prophane' exclaim in a loud voice, 'Bless the wood-chuck! he dreaming, as it seemed, that a woodchuck had seized him and bit his hand!'"

There is certainly no accounting for tastes, and surely the strangest is that of the Eskimos. Tallow is their candy. It is put up in bright red packages made out of the feet of waterfowl. The women cut off the red feet of this bird, which is called the dovekie, draw out the bones and blow up the skin so as to make pouches, which they fill with the reindeer tallow for their little folk.

None of the food that the Eskimos eat seems very inviting to us, but they are extremely fond of it and are very apt to overeat. It is said by explorers who have gone into Greenland that it is no uncommon sight to see an Eskimo man who has eaten an enormous meal of the raw, frozen flesh of the reindeer, seal or walrus lying on his back and eating blubber until he cannot move.

A Love Charm.

A young woman who thought she was losing her husband's affection went to a seventh daughter of a seventh daughter for a love powder. The mystery woman told her:

"Get a raw piece of beef, cut flat, about an inch thick. Slice an onion in two and rub the meat on both sides with it. Put on pepper and salt and toast it on each side over a red coal fire. Drop on it three lumps of butter and two sprigs of parsley and get him to eat it."

The young wife did so, and her husband loved her ever after.

Couldn't Get Away.

"My dear," said the physician's wife, "why don't you take a good long rest? Go away somewhere and enjoy yourself. You're working yourself into the grave. You haven't been out of town for five years."

"My dear," the celebrated practitioner said, "I dare not leave. If I did so most of my patients would discover that they could get on just as well without me, and my practice would be ruined."

Roman Baths.

Every Roman had the use of the public baths on payment of about half a farthing. These were not such structures as we call public baths, but superb buildings lined with Egyptian granite and Nubian marble. The most magnificent baths were those of Caracalla, which had seats of marble for more than 1,000 people, and those of Diocletian, which had seats for 3,000 people.—National Review.

Stolen Treasures.

Some of M. Gerome's artistic treasures had a curious origin. When in Constantinople once he was brought into contact with a worthy man who sold most beautiful objects at exceedingly reasonable prices. It turned out afterward that he was the keeper of one of the imperial palaces and had been in the habit of laying under contribution the cabinets entrusted to his care. His end, however, was not encouraging, for one day he was caught in the act and subsequently impaled.

California, Colorado, Hawaii, Indiana, Louisiana, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Virginia and Wisconsin $5,000; Illinois $6,000, Kentucky $6,500, and Massachusetts, Ohio and Porto Rico, $8,000. Governor Bacheider is a native of his state and is forty-nine years old. Farming is his favorite business when he is not holding office.

No chief executive of any commonwealth in the Union has a greater hold on the affections of the plain people than has James B. Frazier, governor of Tennessee. He came of sturdy Scotch stock, and his people for generations have been noted for their public spirit. His father, Judge Frazier, while criminal judge was impeached by the famous Brownlow legislature because he, in his judicial capacity, released members of the state legislature on writs of habeas corpus who had been arrested for absenting themselves from the legislative halls and refused to be counted in a quorum necessary to enact obnoxious laws. Judge Frazier was restored to civil rights by the constitutional convention of 1870 and soon after was re-elected to the very office from which he had been deposed.

Governor Frazier, simple and unostentatious himself, attracts the humble as well as the more exalted, and any day on the streets of Chattanooga the greeting of "How're you, Jim?" may be heard from some mechanic or farmer to whom the governor of the state is just plain Jim Frazier.

In a diary kept in 1846 it is asserted that "Allen Brydges has been chosen to wake the sleepers in meeting and, being much proud of his place, must needs have a fox tail fixed to the end of a long staff, wherewith he may brush the faces of them that will have naps in time of discourse." This energetic individual was likewise armed with "a sharp thorn" for the benefit of those who "be most sound." There is a record of the use of this implement upon Mr. Tompkins, who was sleeping comfortably in the corner of his pew when Allen "thrust his staff behind Dame Ballard to give him a grievous prick upon the hand, whereupon Mr. Tompkins did spring much above the floor and with terrible force did strike his head against the wall and also to the great wonder of all 'prophane' exclaim in a loud voice, 'Bless the wood-chuck! he dreaming, as it seemed, that a woodchuck had seized him and bit his hand!'"

There is certainly no accounting for tastes, and surely the strangest is that of the Eskimos. Tallow is their candy. It is put up in bright red packages made out of the feet of waterfowl. The women cut off the red feet of this bird, which is called the dovekie, draw out the bones and blow up the skin so as to make pouches, which they fill with the reindeer tallow for their little folk.

None of the food that the Eskimos eat seems very inviting to us, but they are extremely fond of it and are very apt to overeat. It is said by explorers who have gone into Greenland that it is no uncommon sight to see an Eskimo man who has eaten an enormous meal of the raw, frozen flesh of the reindeer, seal or walrus lying on his back and eating blubber until he cannot move.

A Love Charm.

A young woman who thought she was losing her husband's affection went to a seventh daughter of a seventh daughter for a love powder. The mystery woman told her:

"Get a raw piece of beef, cut flat, about an inch thick. Slice an onion in two and rub the meat on both sides with it. Put on pepper and salt and toast it on each side over a red coal fire. Drop on it three lumps of butter and two sprigs of parsley and get him to eat it."

The young wife did so, and her husband loved her ever after.

Couldn't Get Away.

"My dear," said the physician's wife, "why don't you take a good long rest? Go away somewhere and enjoy yourself. You're working yourself into the grave. You haven't been out of town for five years."

"My dear," the celebrated practitioner said, "I dare not leave. If I did so most of my patients would discover that they could get on just as well without me, and my practice would be ruined."

Roman Baths.

Every Roman had the use of the public baths on payment of about half a farthing. These were not such structures as we call public baths, but superb buildings lined with Egyptian granite and Nubian marble. The most magnificent baths were those of Caracalla, which had seats of marble for more than 1,000 people, and those of Diocletian, which had seats for 3,000 people.—National Review.

Stolen Treasures.

Some of M. Gerome's artistic treasures had a curious origin. When in Constantinople once he was brought into contact with a worthy man who sold most beautiful objects at exceedingly reasonable prices. It turned out afterward that he was the keeper of one of the imperial palaces and had been in the habit of laying under contribution the cabinets entrusted to his care. His end, however, was not encouraging, for one day he was caught in the act and subsequently impaled.

California, Colorado, Hawaii, Indiana, Louisiana, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Virginia and Wisconsin $5,000; Illinois $6,000, Kentucky $6,500, and Massachusetts, Ohio and Porto Rico, $8,000. Governor Bacheider is a native of his state and is forty-nine years old. Farming is his favorite business when he is not holding office.

No chief executive of any commonwealth in the Union has a greater hold on the affections of the plain people than has James B. Frazier, governor of Tennessee. He came of sturdy Scotch stock, and his people for generations have been noted for their public spirit. His father, Judge Frazier, while criminal judge was impeached by the famous Brownlow legislature because he, in his judicial capacity, released members of the state legislature on writs of habeas corpus who had been arrested for absenting themselves from the legislative halls and refused to be counted in a quorum necessary to enact obnoxious laws. Judge Frazier was restored to civil rights by the constitutional convention of 1870 and soon after was re-elected to the very office from which he had been deposed.

Governor Frazier, simple and unostentatious himself, attracts the humble as well as the more exalted, and any day on the streets of Chattanooga the greeting of "How're you, Jim?" may be heard from some mechanic or farmer to whom the governor of the state is just plain Jim Frazier.

In a diary kept in 1846 it is asserted that "Allen Brydges has been chosen to wake the sleepers in meeting and, being much proud of his place, must needs have a fox tail fixed to the end of a long staff, wherewith he may brush the faces of them that will have naps in time of discourse." This energetic individual was likewise armed with "a sharp thorn" for the benefit of those who "be most sound." There is a record of the use of this implement upon Mr. Tompkins, who was sleeping comfortably in the corner of his pew when Allen "thrust his staff behind Dame Ballard to give him a grievous prick upon the hand, whereupon Mr. Tompkins did spring much above the floor and with terrible force did strike his head against the wall and also to the great wonder of all 'prophane' exclaim in a loud voice, 'Bless the wood-chuck! he dreaming, as it seemed, that a woodchuck had seized him and bit his hand!'"

There is certainly no accounting for tastes, and surely the strangest is that of the Eskimos. Tallow is their candy. It is put up in bright red packages made out of the feet of waterfowl. The women cut off the red feet of this bird, which is called the dovekie, draw out the bones and blow up the skin so as to make pouches, which they fill with the reindeer tallow for their little folk.

None of the food that the Eskimos eat seems very inviting to us, but they are extremely fond of it and are very apt to overeat. It is said by explorers who have gone into Greenland that it is no uncommon sight to see an Eskimo man who has eaten an enormous meal of the raw, frozen flesh of the reindeer, seal or walrus lying on his back and eating blubber until he cannot move.

A Love Charm.

A young woman who thought she was losing her husband's affection went to a seventh daughter of a seventh daughter for a love powder. The mystery woman told her:

"Get a raw piece of beef, cut flat, about an inch thick. Slice an onion in two and rub the meat on both sides with it. Put on pepper and salt and toast it on each side over a red coal fire. Drop on it three lumps of butter and two sprigs of parsley and get him to eat it."

The young wife did so, and her husband loved her ever after.

Couldn't Get Away.

"My dear," said the physician's wife, "why don't you take a good long rest? Go away somewhere and enjoy yourself. You're working yourself into the grave. You haven't been out of town for five years."

"My dear," the celebrated practitioner said, "I dare not leave. If I did so most of my patients would discover that they could get on just as well without me, and my practice would be ruined."

Roman Baths.

Every Roman had the use of the public baths on payment of about half a farthing. These were not such structures as we call public baths, but superb buildings lined with Egyptian granite and Nubian marble. The most magnificent baths were those of Caracalla, which had seats of marble for more than 1,000 people, and those of Diocletian, which had seats for 3,000 people.—National Review.

Stolen Treasures.

Some of M. Gerome's artistic treasures had a curious origin. When in Constantinople once he was brought into contact with a worthy man who sold most beautiful objects at exceedingly reasonable prices. It turned out afterward that he was the keeper of one of the imperial palaces and had been in the habit of laying under contribution the cabinets entrusted to his care. His end, however, was not encouraging, for one day he was caught in the act and subsequently impaled.

California, Colorado, Hawaii, Indiana, Louisiana, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Virginia and Wisconsin $5,000; Illinois $6,000, Kentucky $6,500, and Massachusetts, Ohio and Porto Rico, $8,000. Governor Bacheider is a native of his state and is forty-nine years old. Farming is his favorite business when he is not holding office.

No chief executive of any commonwealth in the Union has a greater hold on the affections of the plain people than has James B. Frazier, governor of Tennessee. He came of sturdy Scotch stock, and his people for generations have been noted for their public spirit. His father, Judge Frazier, while criminal judge was impeached by the famous Brownlow legislature because he, in his judicial capacity, released members of the state legislature on writs of habeas corpus who had been arrested for absenting themselves from the legislative halls and refused to be counted in a quorum necessary to enact obnoxious laws. Judge Frazier was restored to civil rights by the constitutional convention of 1870 and soon after was re-elected to the very office from which he had been deposed.

Governor Frazier, simple and unostentatious himself, attracts the humble as well as the more exalted, and any day on the streets of Chattanooga the greeting of "How're you, Jim?" may be heard from some mechanic or farmer to whom the governor of the state is just plain Jim Frazier.

In a diary kept in 1846 it is asserted that "Allen Brydges has been chosen to wake the sleepers in meeting and, being much proud of his place, must needs have a fox tail fixed to the end of a long staff, wherewith he may brush the faces of them that will have naps in time of discourse." This energetic individual was likewise armed with "a sharp thorn" for the benefit of those who "be most sound." There is a record of the use of this implement upon Mr. Tompkins, who was sleeping comfortably in the corner of his pew when Allen "thrust his staff behind Dame Ballard to give him a grievous prick upon the hand, whereupon Mr. Tompkins did spring much above the floor and with terrible force did strike his head against the wall and also to the great wonder of all 'prophane' exclaim in a loud voice, 'Bless the wood-chuck! he dreaming, as it seemed, that a woodchuck had seized him and bit his hand!'"

There is certainly no accounting for tastes, and surely the strangest is that of the Eskimos. Tallow is their candy. It is put up in bright red packages made out of the feet of waterfowl. The women cut off the red feet of this bird, which is called the dovekie, draw out the bones and blow up the skin so as to make pouches, which they fill with the reindeer tallow for their little folk.

None of the food that the Eskimos eat seems very inviting to us, but they are extremely fond of it and are very apt to overeat. It is said by explorers who have gone into Greenland that it is no uncommon sight to see an Eskimo man who has eaten an enormous meal of the raw, frozen flesh of the reindeer, seal or walrus lying on his back and eating blubber until he cannot move.

A Love Charm.

A young woman who thought she was losing her husband's affection went to a seventh daughter of a seventh daughter for a love powder. The mystery woman told her:

"Get a raw piece of beef, cut flat, about an inch thick. Slice an onion in two and rub the meat on both sides with it. Put on pepper and salt and toast it on each side over a red coal fire. Drop on it three lumps of butter and two sprigs of parsley and get him to eat it."

The young wife did so, and her husband loved her ever after.

Couldn't Get Away.

"My dear," said the physician's wife, "why don't you take a good long rest? Go away somewhere and enjoy yourself. You're working yourself into the grave. You haven't been out of town for five years."

"My dear," the celebrated practitioner said, "I dare not leave. If I did so most of my patients would discover that they could get on just as well without me, and my practice would be ruined."

Roman Baths.

Every Roman had the use of the public baths on payment of about half a farthing. These were not such structures as we call public baths, but superb buildings lined with Egyptian granite and Nubian marble. The most magnificent baths were those of Caracalla, which had seats of marble for more than 1,000 people, and those of Diocletian, which had seats for 3,000 people.—National Review.

Stolen Treasures.

Some of M. Gerome's artistic treasures had a curious origin. When in Constantinople once he was brought into contact with a worthy man who sold most beautiful objects at exceedingly reasonable prices. It turned out afterward that he was the keeper of one of the imperial palaces and had been in the habit of laying under contribution the cabinets entrusted to his care. His end, however, was not encouraging, for one day he was caught in the act and subsequently impaled.

California, Colorado, Hawaii, Indiana, Louisiana, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Virginia and Wisconsin $5,000; Illinois $6,000, Kentucky $6,500, and Massachusetts, Ohio and Porto Rico, $8,000. Governor Bacheider is a native of his state and is forty-nine years old. Farming is his favorite business when he is not holding office.

No chief executive of any commonwealth in the Union has a greater hold on the affections of the plain people than has James B. Frazier, governor of Tennessee. He came of sturdy Scotch stock, and his people for generations have been noted for their public spirit. His father, Judge Frazier, while criminal judge was impeached by the famous Brownlow legislature because he, in his judicial capacity, released members of the state legislature on writs of habeas corpus who had been arrested for absenting themselves from the legislative halls and refused to be counted in a quorum necessary to enact obnoxious laws. Judge Frazier was restored to civil rights by the constitutional convention of 1870 and soon after was re-elected to the very office from which he had been deposed.

Governor Frazier, simple and unostentatious himself, attracts the humble as well as the more exalted, and any day on the streets of Chattanooga the greeting of "How're you, Jim?" may be heard from some mechanic or farmer to whom the governor of the state is just plain Jim Frazier.

In a diary kept in 1846 it is asserted that "Allen Brydges has been chosen to wake the sleepers in meeting and, being much proud of his place, must needs have a fox tail fixed to the end of a long staff, wherewith he may brush the faces of them that will have naps in time of discourse." This energetic individual was likewise armed with "a sharp thorn" for the benefit of those who "be most sound." There is a record of the use of this implement upon Mr. Tompkins, who was sleeping comfortably in the corner of his pew when Allen "thrust his staff behind Dame Ballard to give him a grievous prick upon the hand, whereupon Mr. Tompkins did spring much above the floor and with terrible force did strike his head against the wall and also to the great wonder of all 'prophane' exclaim in a loud voice, 'Bless the wood-chuck! he dreaming, as it seemed, that a woodchuck had seized him and bit his hand!'"

There is certainly no accounting for tastes, and surely the strangest is that of the Eskimos. Tallow is their candy. It is put up in bright red packages made out of the feet of waterfowl. The women cut off the red feet of this bird, which is called the dovekie, draw out the bones and blow up the skin so as to make pouches, which they fill with the reindeer tallow for their little folk.

None of the food that the Eskimos eat seems very inviting to us, but they are extremely fond of it and are very apt to overeat. It is said by explorers who have gone into Greenland that it is no uncommon sight to see an Eskimo man who has eaten an enormous meal of the raw, frozen flesh of the reindeer, seal or walrus lying on his back and eating blubber until he cannot move.

A Love Charm.

A young woman who thought she was losing her husband's affection went to a seventh daughter of a seventh daughter for a love powder. The mystery woman told her:

"Get a raw piece of beef, cut flat, about an inch thick. Slice an onion in two and rub the meat on both sides with it. Put on pepper and salt and toast it on each side over a red coal fire. Drop on it three lumps of butter and two sprigs of parsley and get him to eat it."

The young wife did so, and her husband loved her ever after.

Couldn't Get Away.

"My dear," said the physician's wife, "why don't you take a good long rest? Go away somewhere and enjoy yourself. You're working yourself into the grave. You haven't been out of town for five years."

"My dear," the celebrated practitioner said, "I dare not leave. If I did so most of my patients would discover that they could get on just as well without me, and my practice would be ruined."

Roman Baths.

Every Roman had the use of the public baths on payment of about half a farthing. These were not such structures as we call public baths, but superb buildings lined with Egyptian granite and Nubian marble. The most magnificent baths were those of Caracalla, which had seats of marble for more than 1,000 people, and those of Diocletian, which had seats for 3,000 people.—National Review.

Stolen Treasures.

Some of M. Gerome's artistic treasures had a curious origin. When in Constantinople once he was brought into contact with a worthy man who sold most beautiful objects at exceedingly reasonable prices. It turned out afterward that he was the keeper of one of the imperial palaces and had been in the habit of laying under contribution the cabinets entrusted to his care. His end, however, was not encouraging, for one day he was caught in the act and subsequently impaled.

California, Colorado, Hawaii, Indiana, Louisiana, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Virginia and Wisconsin $5,000; Illinois $6,000, Kentucky $6,500, and Massachusetts, Ohio and Porto Rico, $8,000. Governor Bacheider is a native of his state and is forty-nine years old. Farming is his favorite business when he is not holding office.

No chief executive of any commonwealth in the Union has a greater hold on the affections of the plain people than has James B. Frazier, governor of Tennessee. He came of sturdy Scotch stock, and his people for generations have been noted for their public spirit. His father, Judge Frazier, while criminal judge was impeached by the famous Brownlow legislature because he, in his judicial capacity, released members of the state legislature on writs of habeas corpus who had been arrested for absenting themselves from the legislative halls and refused to be counted in a quorum necessary to enact obnoxious laws. Judge Frazier was restored to civil rights by the constitutional convention of 1870 and soon after was re-elected to the very office from which he had been deposed.

Governor Frazier, simple and unostentatious himself, attracts the humble as well as the more exalted, and any day on the streets of Chattanooga the greeting of "How're you, Jim?" may be heard from some mechanic or farmer to whom the governor of the state is just plain Jim Frazier.

In a diary kept in 1846 it is asserted that "Allen Brydges has been chosen to wake the sleepers in meeting and, being much proud of his place, must needs have a fox tail fixed to the end of a long staff, wherewith he may brush the faces of them that will have naps in time of discourse." This energetic individual was likewise armed with "a sharp thorn" for the benefit of those who "be most sound." There is a record of the use of this implement upon Mr. Tompkins, who was sleeping comfortably in the corner of his pew when Allen "thrust his staff behind Dame Ballard to give him a grievous prick upon the hand, whereupon Mr. Tompkins did spring much above the floor and with terrible force did strike his head against the wall and also to the great wonder of all 'prophane' exclaim in a loud voice, 'Bless the wood-chuck! he dreaming, as it seemed, that a woodchuck had seized him and bit his hand!'"

There is certainly no accounting for tastes, and surely the strangest is that of the Eskimos. Tallow is their candy. It is put up in bright red packages made out of the feet of waterfowl. The women cut off the red feet of this bird, which is called the dovekie, draw out the bones and blow up the skin so as to make pouches, which they fill with the reindeer tallow for their little folk.

None of the food that the Eskimos eat seems very inviting to us, but they are extremely fond of it and are very apt to overeat. It is said by explorers who have gone into Greenland that it is no uncommon sight to see an Eskimo man who has eaten an enormous meal of the raw, frozen flesh of the reindeer, seal or walrus lying on his back and eating blubber until he cannot move.

A Love Charm.

A young woman who thought she was losing her husband's affection went to a seventh daughter of a seventh daughter for a love powder. The mystery woman told her:

"Get a raw piece of beef, cut flat, about an inch thick. Slice an onion in two and rub the meat on both sides with it. Put on pepper and salt and toast it on each side over a red coal fire. Drop on it three lumps of butter and two sprigs of parsley and get him to eat it."

The young wife did so, and her husband loved her ever after.

Couldn't Get Away.

"My dear," said the physician's wife, "why don't you take a good long rest? Go away somewhere and enjoy yourself. You're working yourself into the grave. You haven't been out of town for five years."

"My dear," the celebrated practitioner said, "I dare not leave. If I did so most of my patients would discover that they could get on just as well without me, and my practice would be ruined."

Roman Baths.

Every Roman had the use of the public baths on payment of about half a farthing. These were not such structures as we call public baths, but superb buildings lined with Egyptian granite and Nubian marble. The most magnificent baths were those of Caracalla, which had seats of marble for more than 1,000 people, and those of Diocletian, which had seats for 3,000 people.—National Review.

Stolen Treasures.

Some of M. Gerome's artistic treasures had a curious origin. When in Constantinople once he was brought into contact with a worthy man who sold most beautiful objects at exceedingly reasonable prices. It turned out afterward that he was the keeper of one of the imperial palaces and had been in the habit of laying under contribution the cabinets entrusted to his care. His end, however, was not encouraging, for one day he was caught in the act and subsequently impaled.

California, Colorado, Hawaii, Indiana, Louisiana, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Virginia and Wisconsin $5,000; Illinois $6,000, Kentucky $6,500, and Massachusetts, Ohio and Porto Rico, $8,000. Governor Bacheider is a native of his state and is forty-nine years old. Farming is his favorite business when he is not holding office.

No chief executive of any commonwealth in the Union has a greater hold on the affections of the plain people than has James B. Frazier, governor of Tennessee. He came of sturdy Scotch stock, and his people for generations have been noted for their public spirit. His father, Judge Frazier, while criminal judge was impeached by the famous Brownlow legislature because he, in his judicial capacity, released members of the state legislature on writs of habeas corpus who had been arrested for absenting themselves from the legislative halls and refused to be counted in a quorum necessary to enact obnoxious laws. Judge Frazier was restored to civil rights by the constitutional convention of 1870 and soon after was re-elected to the very office from which he had been deposed.

Governor Frazier, simple and unostentatious himself, attracts the humble as well as the more exalted, and any day on the streets of Chattanooga the greeting of "How're you, Jim?" may be heard from some mechanic or farmer to whom the governor of the state is just plain Jim Frazier.

In a diary kept in 1846 it is asserted that "Allen Brydges has been chosen to wake the sleepers in meeting and, being much proud of his place, must needs have a fox tail fixed to the end of a long staff, wherewith he may brush the faces of them that will have naps in time of discourse." This energetic individual was likewise armed with "a sharp thorn" for the benefit of those who "be most sound." There is a record of the use of this implement upon Mr. Tompkins, who was sleeping comfortably in the corner of his pew when Allen "thrust his staff behind Dame Ballard to give him a grievous prick upon the hand, whereupon Mr. Tompkins did spring much above the floor and with terrible force did strike his head against the wall and also to the great wonder of all 'prophane' exclaim in a loud voice, 'Bless the wood-chuck! he dreaming, as it seemed, that a woodchuck had seized him and bit his hand!'"

There is certainly no accounting for tastes, and surely the strangest is that of the Eskimos. Tallow is their candy. It is put up in bright red packages made out of the feet of waterfowl. The women cut off the red feet of this bird, which is called the dovekie, draw out the bones and blow up the skin so as to make pouches, which they fill with the reindeer tallow for their little folk.

None of the food that the Eskimos eat seems very inviting to us, but they are extremely fond of it and are very apt to overeat. It is said by explorers who have gone into Greenland that it is no uncommon sight to see an Eskimo man who has eaten an enormous meal of the raw, frozen flesh of the reindeer, seal or walrus lying

EIGHT MEN WHO RUN BIG STATES

GOVERNOR BENJAMIN R. ODELL, who has succeeded Thomas C. Platt as head of the Republican organization in New York state, drove an ice wagon for his father in Newburg, N. Y., when a young man and delivered ice from door to door. He is five feet nine and one-half inches tall and weighs over 200 pounds. When he broke ground at St. Louis for the New York state building, the governor grasped the spade—an old and rusty one, by the way—in a most approved manner and with so skillful a touch that it was apparent he knew something about the implement.

"You handle the shovel very gracefully," remarked one of the executive party.

"Yes," replied the governor. "I have often thought that it is a shame to spoil a good cellar digger to make a poor governor."

The governor himself, a man of culture and refinement, has a great dislike for all shams in the way of pretended knowledge, etc., and has, moreover, a rather sharp tongue in criticising them at times.

Not long ago he was giving utterance to his opinions of many men and things, chiefly the former, when some one chanced to mention a New York politician, a member of Tammany Hall, who, it is said, had recently had the courage to return from Paris and assert to some of his political friends that he "thought in French" to such an extent that his sentences were now involuntarily constructed along Gallic lines.

"Yes," Mr. Odell dryly commented, "it's too bad about Blank. He fell down when he was in Paris and broke his English."

Joseph M. Terrell, the popular governor of Georgia, began life as a plowboy, and the old red mule behind which he trudged in bare feet is still hale and hearty. Recently a former schoolmate of the governor, while in a reminiscent mood, referred to their school days. "Joe Terrell first went to school to Mrs. Strozer," he said, "and afterward to Colonel W. T. Revell, now editor of the Meriwether Indicator. It is still a matter of history in Greenville that Joe was the only boy who was never thrashed by the colonel, who, as a teacher, was a firm believer in the rod."

"Joe," we boys would say when we heard that he was to change teachers, "the colonel will give it to you when you come over here with us."

"But they missed it, for Joe and his teacher got along from the start. Never once did Colonel Revell find it necessary to use the birch on the future governor. Joe has since confessed, however, that we had him scared, and he entered Colonel Revell's school prepared to have his jacket dusted."

Andrew Jackson Montague, governor of Virginia, is very fond of fishing, shooting and good literature. His broad mouthed bass is his favorite fish, and he has much scientific as well as practical knowledge of the art of Walton. The governor is well read in history and political economy and is fond of Balzac. His boyhood friends state that as a youth he used to deliver oratoriously into histories and even utilized the time when driving across the flat country between his mother's home and the courthouse, some ten miles, in exploring the recesses of books. As the staid old horse jogged along in the country chaise, with reins attached to a hook in the green baize covering, the boy could read conveniently, and in this way went through Prescott's voluminous "Conquest of Mexico."

Richard Yates, governor of Illinois, as was his father before him, has kept a scrapbook for nearly thirty years and has pasted into it everything which concerned him and in which he took interest. One of the first entries in the scrapbook is the story of a contest in declamation away back in 1875, when the present governor was a pupil of the Whipple academy at Jacksonville, Ill. (the preparatory school of Illinois college), and one of the contestants. He delivered the "Supposed Speech of John Adams." Commenting on his effort, the local reporter said, "The young gentleman, for one of his years, did exceedingly well, and the audience greeted him with deserved applause." He was then fifteen years old.

William J. Bryan, who was in the same school and of the same age, was also a competitor in this contest, and of him the reporter said: "Mr. Bryan delivered Patrick Henry's celebrated speech in a most creditable manner. His voice, however, is not settled as yet, and because of this his effort was not so good as it otherwise would have been."

Neither Yates nor Bryan won a prize, however, the rewards of excellence going to two young men who as yet have not attained to national fame.

Edwin Warfield, the new governor of Maryland, describes himself as a lawyer and farmer. He is one of the most prominent citizens of Baltimore, is a man of wealth and has been conspicuously in state politics for many years.

Born in Maryland fifty-five years ago, the governor was educated in the public schools and at St. Timothy's Hall, Catonsville, and then embarked in business. He is the founder and president of the Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland and has been a state senator, president of the senate and surveyor of the port of Baltimore, and was a delegate to the Democratic national convention of 1896. The governor is very much interested in patriotic matters and in 1902 was elected president general of the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution.

A. B. Cummins, who is serving his second term as governor of Iowa, is noted for his grace, power and vigor on the platform. The gift of oratory was acquired by Governor Cummins in early years, but an experience in one of his first attempts at public speaking is rendered much more amusing by the lapse of time than when it occurred.

When he was twenty-one he went back to his old home in Pennsylvania for a visit. Soon after his arrival a soldiers' reunion was held, and he was asked to speak. The meeting was held at a little crossroads, and Mr. Cummins, with all the dignity at his command, began with the statement that, unfortunately for him, he was born too late to take part in the dangers and glories of a soldier's life. Just then he was attacked with mental paralysis and couldn't say another word. After an instant of hesitation he noticed a grizzled veteran in the corner lean over and whisper to a companion. The whisper was audible all over the house, and the speaker heard "It's a blamed pity he was born at all." That broke the spell, and like a flash his scattered ideas returned, and he made a speech that satisfied even the whisperer in the corner.

The salaries of governors range from $1,500 in Vermont and Oregon, the smallest amount paid, to $10,000 in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, the largest amount. In addition to Vermont and Oregon, New Hampshire pays a small sum to her governor, Nabum J. Bacheider, who runs the state for $2,000 per annum. Maine also pays her governor the same sum. Wyoming and Nebraska give $2,500, West Virginia, $2,700, Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, Georgia, Idaho, Iowa, Kansas, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Rhode Island, South Carolina and South Dakota each pay $3,000; Florida and Mississippi $3,500, Connecticut, Michigan, Nevada, North Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Utah and Washington, $4,000; Maryland $4,500, Alaska,

B. R. ODELL.

RICHARD YATES.

J. W. BRYAN.

EDWIN WARFIELD.

A. B. CUMMINS.

A. J. MONTAGUE.

J. M. TERRELL.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

J. J. MARSHALL.

C. F. MCCUTCHEON.

RUSSIA vs. JAPAN

Causes Leading Up to the Present Condition In the East—Characteristics of the Russians and the Japs

In reviewing the present trouble between Japan and Russia and its probable outcome it is necessary to consider the motive actuating each of the parties to the conflict. To Russia a war with Japan—or with any other country, for that matter—would mean territorial or other aggrandizement and nothing more. To Japan war with Russia means national existence almost, for Japan, right or wrong, has constituted herself the guardian of the east and wishes to appear before the world as the oriflamme in the modernization of the orient. She has a quarrel with Russia not only because she dislikes the czar's methods with reference to herself, but also because, if she should permit him to go on as he has begun in the east, Japan will be forced forever into the background. Thus it is that the mikado today has the sympathy of practically the entire civilized world. He is standing for the rights of other nations besides his own, whereas Russia stands for the rights of but one nation—Russia.

A New Japan.

Not that Japan likes Russia. Far from it. Indeed, she has good cause to feel anything but friendly toward the "bear." She has never forgiven Russia for the contemptible part that country played in the settlement between China and Japan. When the Chino-Japanese war began, there was not one military man out of a hundred who did not think that China would project her borders into Korea and literally sweep the timorous Japs into the sea. Those who called attention to the fact that Japan had succeeded in getting together the nucleus of a very respectable navy were met with the statement that China had been doing something along that line herself, and that even on the sea she was apt to demonstrate that numbers would count over the slight additional intelligence which it was conceded that Japan possessed. The battle of the Yalu put to rout the supporters of the Chinese navy, and the fight at Port Arthur disposed of whatever consideration the Chinese army might previously have been entitled to. But, after all, it was not that China's prowess had been overestimated. Japan's simply had been underestimated. In short, it was the same old China which went to war, but a different, a very different, Japan.

Strong on Land and Sea.

When Japan, flushed with victory and anxious to emulate the example of the more liberal larger nations in her peace settlement, suggested terms been building ships, ships, ships, until today her navy, vessel for vessel, is the peer of any in the world. She has also paid a great deal of attention to her army, and, while she does not keep under arms a very large body of men, those which she has are soldiers in every sense of the word.

Russia's Duplicity.

Russia's disinterestedness was exposed when on the pretext of "pacifying" Manchuria she poured 200,000 men into that country in 1900 and then after the war of the allied nations against China contrived by every artifice known to diplomacy to hold on to Manchuria. She had her railroad connecting the Russian and Chinese capitals, and naturally she was anxious to hold on to the territory it traversed. Since then, while the local authorities have been Chinese, they are merely underlings of the Russian representatives, to whom everything must be reported.

Pressure, however, finally became so strong and the other nations so insistent for some expression of Russia's ultimate intentions concerning Manchuria that Russia about a year ago formally declared that she would get out Oct. 8, 1903. For that reason the recent announcement that she intended to remain in Manchuria practically permanently "in the interest of outside enterprises" (to say nothing of her own railroads and the coal which they need and which is found in abundance in the mines of Manchuria) came as a thunderclap from a clear sky to the few diplomats who occasionally seriously regarded the utterances of the czar's government. It was to be expected that this should be denounced as a canard, but it is pretty well understood that the statement was inspired and was issued as a feeler. If it was designed to produce results it disappointed no one, for England, Japan and the United States immediately asked what it all meant. Now Russia says that she will get out when she considers it safe to do so, but she also declared at the close of the Chinese war that she would "soon" evacuate Manchuria.

Japan knew full well that Russia would "consider it safe" to get out of Manchuria concurrently with the blowing of the horn by the angel Gabriel, and Russia knew that Japan knew it. The mikado then realized that the czar had practically announced that it was Japan's move. He therefore notified Russia that as the time for the evacuation of Manchuria had passed it was but right, with Korea (Japan's special charge, which had already cost her one time, but it is certain that she ought to break down the predominating influence of Japan in the Hermit Kingdom. Indeed, she went much further than the proper regard for the rights of an ostensibly friendly nation should have permitted her to go. Naturally Japan wanted to know what she was about. Then began negotiations concerning Korea. Russia actually had the assurance to propose to Japan terms with reference to Korea, a country with which, so far as the facts are generally understood, she has as much right to interfere as the United States would have, the position of "watchdog of Korea" by common consent among the nations of the world having long since been accorded to Japan by reason of her proximity and later because of her having fairly won the distinction in her war with China. But the purpose of the Russian government had been accomplished, and Korea appeared to be the issue, while Manchuria was, at least temporarily, forgotten.

Japan. Perry's mission was to overawe the Japanese into extending to American ships the privileges then enjoyed by the Dutch only. History does not say to what lengths he was prepared to go should his show of force prove insufficient, the fact being that the mere sight of the warships was enough to convince the shogun of the expediency of acceding to Perry's wishes. Accordingly, much against the desires of the mighty daimios, American trade was granted access to two ports. As might have been expected, the European powers were not slow to profit by the example, forcing similar concessions until, little by little, the shogun had surrendered the domestic trade of the country to the control of the treaty powers. Out of this state of affairs ultimately grew the revolution of 1868, in which several of the most influential among the daimios took charge of the person of the young mikado, Mutsuhito, declared their intention of restoring him to full power as the real ruler of their strength, as may be imagined, was time and again tested during that trying march in the summer of 1900. Their agility was at all times in evidence, but perhaps never more so than during the storming of Tientsin.

Quiet, orderly, polite, earnest—such are some more of the qualities of these same tiny warriors who never fail to salute the officers of every nation, endure without murmur all that military life entails, accept thankfully their stipend of $1.50 a month and can live and thrive on a diet in which rice is the prevailing staple, and little enough of that. Yet the Japanese soldier does not retrograde into a mere fighting machine. He knows how to think, he knows how to act on occasion demands. In the individual, as in the race, is found that faculty which works so largely for the greatness of a nation—the faculty of mental initiative.

The Russian Army.

And now for a glance at the other side of the picture. It would be futile to contend that the Russian army is not one of the most powerful war engines the world has ever seen. Equally absurd would it be to hesitate to admit that the Russian soldier, from the old world hypertrophied standpoint, is not one of the best that military science is capable of producing.

Russia has the greatest army on earth. It consists of over 1,000,000 men in times of peace, which may easily be increased to 4,000,000 in the event of war. The magnitude of the czar's military establishment may be realized if one considers the fact that the Russian army even on a peace footing contains more officers alone than the American army has of both officers and men.

On a peace footing, as at present constituted, the armies of the czar are made up of about 62 per cent infantry, 12 per cent cavalry, 14 per cent artillery, 3 per cent engineers, 3 per cent commissariat and departmental troops and 6 per cent Cossacks. These proportions give but little idea, however, of the relative importance of the various arms of the service. While by no means the largest numerically, the most conspicuous and effective portion of the army is the cavalry, together with the kindred though irregular body of troops known as the Cossacks.

In fact, Russia places chief reliance on her war horses. Of these there are 4,000,000 in the empire that have had actual training in the army and that can be requisitioned in case of emergency for cavalry duty.

A Mighty War Engine.

And the horsemen! They have no equal in the world, these wild riders of Russia. It is probably due to the great plains and the vast distances to be traversed that the Muscovites are veritably reared in the saddle. Certainly there are no other people who so love the horse, who so cultivate him and who have such mastery over him. As a result the Slavic empire has almost half of the horses of the world. As another result the men ride like cowboys.

Every year a million men become eligible to enter the Russian army. As only about 300,000 are required, over composed of the peasant or former serf class, the members of which are illiterate, unassuming, stolid, slavish, but withal hardy, courageous and singularly devoted. In fact, no nation on earth has the solidarity that marks Russia. With all its divergent elements, it is still the most completely knit together of any empire now in existence. The Muscovite is taught the submergence of self. Obedience is the prime virtue. It is drilled into the citizen that he exists only for the czar.

Muscovite Peculiarities.

The Russian is gregarious in a marked degree. The communal life has existed in his villages from time immemorial. This sort of rough, elemental altruism is carried into the army and is in fact its distinctive spirit. It marks the Muscovite soldier as peculiar. It gives him a certain stolid bravery which was recognized in the famous remark of Napoleon that "it is not enough to kill a Russian soldier; you must also push him over."

This habit of personal effacement, of blind obedience, of almost slavishness, is shown nowhere more plainly than in the manner of the private soldier in addressing an officer. He stands rigidly at "attention" with his hand at his cap throughout the entire conversation. He never presumes to answer a question with a direct "yes" or "no," but with a qualified "quite so" or "not exactly so." He invariably uses the title of "your excellency" or "your illustriousness" or "your nobility" or even "your high nobility."

Russia, the Undeclared.

The diet of the Muscovite when in the field is simplicity itself. It is largely vegetarian. Cabbage soup, potatoes, peas, beans, macaroni and various kinds of porridges are the staple foods. These, with the black rye bread and occasionally a small amount of meat, make up the army fare. Yet, like the Roman soldier, who also lived on a vegetable diet, these men can endure hardships such as the ordinary civilian can scarcely conceive. The "moving kitchen" is one feature of the Russian camp that is unique and that is being copied by other European armies. It is what its name implies, a veritable kitchen on wheels that accompanies the army on all its marches, as indispensable as its camp equipages, its artillery and its ammunition—in fact, it supplies the ammunition for the human war machines, furnishing dynamic force that when released in time of battle is hurled against the enemy with terrific effect.

Russia has never been defeated, if the rather inconclusive Crimean war be excepted. Steadily, resistlessly, she has spread her dominion over Finland, over Poland, over Turkey, over Manchuria. Even the matchless genius of a Napoleon was unequal to the task of penetrating this human mass. No nation of either ancient or modern times has ever been so unified, so organic.

In the matter of navies there is little to choose between Russia and Japan. Russia has more ships, but many of them are locked up in the Black sea, and many more of them dare not leave the Baltic. Then, too, while a fair pro-

MAP OF KOREA AND VICINITY.

Korea strait, between Korea and Japan, is only 100 miles wide, and midway between the two countries are the well fortified Tsushima islands owned by Japan. This narrow strait, dominated by the forts and fleet of Japan, is Russia's avenue of communication between Vladivostok, on the north, and Port Arthur, the southern terminus of the Chinese Eastern railroad, which connects with the Transsiberian line. Fusan, a Japanese colony in Korea, is rapidly being connected by rail with Seoul through the efforts of the Japanese government. There is also a short line between Seoul and its seaport, Chemulpo. On the map the dotted lines represent the boundary between Korea and Manchuria and between Manchuria and Russia, the parallel lines uncompleted railroads and the checked lines railroads already built.

But, shrewd as are the czar's diplomats, the mikado has about him a few men, like Ito and Komura, who know a bit about diplomacy themselves. They had permitted the Russians to go on and on and on assuming that the Japs had forgotten that Manchuria is still on the map. They were merely biding their time. Therefore when the Russian statesmen, in response to one of their notes dealing with Korea and the "issue" there, received a communication from Tokyo bodily shifting the whole discussion back to Manchuria, whence it had originally begun and where it really belonged, there was but one thing to do—assume to ignore it. This they did, and this Japan refused to accept as being a warrantable position on the part of Russia. As Russia could not well afford to back down after having been checkmated in what she had regarded as a very clever bit of land grabbing, a clash then became inevitable.

When two nations spring at each other's throat, figuratively speaking, there are more things to be considered in speculating upon the probable outcome than mere numbers of men or ships. After all, it is the individual who brings success. American soldiers are regarded as being of more value in the field than the soldiers of any nation, and yet from the strictly technical standpoint they are probably the poorest soldiers in the world. Except for the handful of men who constitute the regular army, the United States has no troops ready to do field duty as it is understood in Germany and Russia and even in France. The conditions render that unnecessary. But, as has been demonstrated on several occasions, the American in six months is converted into the most valuable military man the world has ever seen. That is because he is a thinking individual. Your well drilled man is all right so long as he has officers to lead him, but the moment the head disappears the army becomes a disorganized mob, not knowing what to do or how to do it. With the American the officer's principal duty is to let his men know what he wishes them to do. That is all that is necessary. The men find a way to do it, and the officers don't bother to inquire too closely into the methods which brought about the desired result.

Japan's Transformation.

But even the American soldier is in a measure put in the shade by the Jap, for the latter is full to bursting of enthusiasm born of his self assumed directorship of civilization in the east. Regarded as a nation, Japan is new; regarded as soldiers, the Japanese are so new that the paint hasn't yet worn off. But they have the right spirit, and they have demonstrated to the world that they are in earnest. A brief retrospect just here may serve to show the really wonderful strides made by the Japanese.

From the appearance of Perry and his fleet in Yedo bay, July 8, 1853, may be said to date the awakening of Japan, made war on the shogun's troops and signally worsted them. Thus did the young emperor find himself placed on the throne of which his ancestors had been deprived centuries before.

Birth of a Nation.

The ultimate result of the rebellion was anything but pleasant even for those daimios who had participated in the restoration of the mikado. Gradually falling under the sway of cultivated and liberal minded statesmen, the youthful Mutsuhito began to exercise his titular prerogatives in a way that was contrary to all Japanese traditions. For this change two men, who have since been prominently identified with Japanese politics, were largely responsible, these two being the Marquis Hirobumi Ito and Count Inouye, the former's lifelong friend and political confidant. Chiefly as a result of their efforts the policy of cultivating the foreigner sprang into being, and it was also in no small measure owing to them that the mikado announced his intention of providing the country with an up to date western parliament. Then it was that the daimios surprised themselves and the world by taking a step which insured the solidarity of the empire and its future high position among the nations of the world. Voluntarily they agreed to surrender all the privileges hallowed in their eyes by centuries of custom and at the same time promised to do their utmost to further the interests of a united Japan.

A Factor in the Far East.

In this act can be discerned what has since been widely recognized as one of the most distinguishing traits of this most remarkable people—the readiness to yield life itself if by the death of the individual good will accrue to the commonwealth. But self sacrifice alone cannot account for the progress Japan has made, nor, for that matter, can the faculty for imitation which the Japanese possess to so great a degree. Their adaptability to western civilization, their willingness to accept the novel in the place of the customary, their amenability to discipline, all of which have become proverbial in speaking of Japan—in a word, their liberality is due to their innate quickness in the direction of mental initiative.

It was the Chino-Japanese war of 1894-95 that first aroused the civilized world to a lively interest in the doings of the Land of the Rising Sun. Nearly everybody predicted when the war began that the aggressive little bantam would speedily be crushed by the sheer weight of the unwieldy old rooster, but few took into account the fact that a nation that has just come into its own is much more likely to be able to take care of itself than are a people decaying under the obsolete rule of an effete dynasty.

Not only are the Japanese soldiers brave and well disciplined, but they are also blessed with great agility and a physical strength that one would not expect in such mites of humanity.

MUTSUHITO, EMPEROR OF JAPAN.

two-thirds of the availables must be exempted or excused. Every district has its recruiting board and makes up its quota for the various arms of the service. The soldier in the ranks receives only about $4 per year, is sometimes whipped to death, must give unquestioning obedience and is inured to a life of privations and hardships such as are known in scarcely any other army in the world: This, however, is not felt so much by the Slav as it would be by other races, for he has been used to these things from his youth up. The mass of the soldiery is portion of Russia's warships are strictly modern constructions, practically all of Japan's are as up to date as it is possible to make them. Russia has had no fighting experience with her new navy; Japan has had both men and ships tested under fire. And, most important of all, the theater of the present conflict is half around the world from Russia proper, while Japan is operating against Russia's fleets in the east will be at the same time patrolling her own coast and menacing the Asiatic ports owned or controlled by her foe.

NICHOLAS II, CZAR OF RUSSIA.

which were so generous that China naturally would have been delighted to accept them, Russia coolly stepped in and practically told Japan that she should have nothing for her trouble. If she cared to take Formosa, all well and good, but the smallest piece of the Chinese mainland—never. Russia proposed to be acting in the interest of the integrity of the Chinese empire, but she decided no one.

Japan was mad. She was ready to fight and would have fought right there and then had it not been that at the head of her government there were men thoroughly equipped to hold their own in diplomacy with the best European masters of the "art of concealing facts." These men decided to bide their time, and ever since Japan has

Bon Ami
Polishes brass as door knobs, stair rods and railings.

Biliousness
"I have used your valuable Cascarets and find them perfect. Couldn't do without them. I have used them for some time for indigestion and biliousness and am now completely cured. Recommend them to everyone. Once tried, you will never be without them in the family box."
Edward A. Marx, Albany, N. Y.

Cascarets
Best For The Bowels
CANDY CATHARTIC
THEY WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP
Pleasant, Palatable, Potent, Taste Good, Do Good, Never Sickens, Weakens or Grieves. 25c. Box. Never sold in bulk. The genuine tablet stamped C. C. Guaranteed to cure or your money back.
Sterling Remedy Co., Chicago or N.Y. 60c
ANNUAL SALE, TEN MILLION BOXES

A Breath of Pine Balsam in Every Cube
HARFINA
Medicated, Refreshing, Makes hair soft and silken. Destroys dandruff, gets rid of scalp and body. Best soap for skin, hair, scalp, underwear. Write for list of druggists who give 25c. cube HARFINA SOAP. 60c. cube with 50c. bottle of HAIR-HEALTH.

Cleveland & Pittsburgh Div. Pennsylvania Lines.
Schedule of Passenger Trains—Central Time from East Liverpool.
Cleveland & Pittsburgh Division

EAST BOUND.		WEST BOUND.
No. 302	3:45 a. m.	No. 301	12:21 a. m.
No. 340	6:42 a. m.	No. 335	6:30 a. m.
No. 336	11:31 a. m.	No. 309	9:06 a. m.
No. 360	3:02 p. m.	No. 303	2:50 p. m.
No. 316	5:38 p. m.	No. 339	6:11 p. m.
No. 324	7:31 a. m.	No. 321	9:06 a. m.
No. 362	4:57 p. m.	No. 303	6:48 p. m.

Pittsburgh & Lake Erie R.R. TIME TABLE.
In Effect Nov. 22, 1903.

GOING NORTH.		GOING SOUTH.
No. 1	1:00 a. m.	No. 2	1:00 a. m.
No. 3	3:00 a. m.	No. 4	3:00 a. m.
No. 5	5:00 a. m.	No. 6	5:00 a. m.
No. 7	7:00 a. m.	No. 8	7:00 a. m.
No. 9	9:00 a. m.	No. 10	9:00 a. m.
No. 11	11:00 a. m.	No. 12	11:00 a. m.
No. 13	1:00 p. m.	No. 14	1:00 p. m.
No. 15	3:00 p. m.	No. 16	3:00 p. m.
No. 17	5:00 p. m.	No. 18	5:00 p. m.
No. 19	7:00 p. m.	No. 20	7:00 p. m.
No. 21	9:00 p. m.	No. 22	9:00 p. m.
No. 23	11:00 p. m.	No. 24	11:00 p. m.

THE PITTSBURGH, LISBON & WESTERN RAILROAD CO.
Time table effective Nov. 25, 1903.
Trains daily except Sunday. Central time.

Lv. Lisbon. Ar. New Galilee.		Lv. New Galilee. Ar. Lisbon.
No. 6	2:35 p. m.	No. 3	4:00 p. m.
No. 40	6:00 a. m.	No. 1	7:05 a. m.
No. 9	8:25 a. m.	No. 2	9:30 a. m.
No. 45	5:10 p. m.	No. 5	6:08 p. m.

Connections at New Galilee with Pennsylvania company trains to and from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Pittsburgh, Beaver Falls, East Liverpool, Wellsville, Bellefleur, Alliance, Canton, Chicago, Erie, New Castle, Ashtabula, Youngstown, and intermediate points.
K. E. BARRINGER, Traffic Manager.

